MATERIAL TOTAL

de la la sale le di

Just as Hata Comes In, His Coalition Comes Apart

Socialists Quit in Anger At Parties' Regrouping; New Cabinet Is Delayed

5, T. R. Reid Winnington Pert Service

TOKYO — Japan's fractious ruling coalition fell apart early Tuesday because of a furious interparty squabble that led to the withdrawal of the Social Democratic Party.

The collapse came just hours after Tsutomu Hata, a leading architect of last summer's sweeping political realignment, was elected as otime minister. The latest upheaval left Japan with a prime minister but no cabinet. Mr. Hata can still form a government, but it would presumably be weak and unstable because he does not have a majority coalition to back it up.

The governing coalition had been formed after the election in July 1993 that ended four decades of one-party conservative rule. It fell asunder in the predawn bours Tuesday when the Socialists angrily withdrew because of polit-ical maneuvering by other coalition parties.

This surprising development dashed whatever hopes Mr. Hata had for a smooth transition, and kept Emperor Akihito waiting at the Imperial Palace, where he bad been scheduled to give the new cabinet royal greetings Monday night.

Unless Mr. Hata can find a way to patch together a new majority, the prospect for Japaness government could be days, weeks, or months of stalemate. Among other things, the economic stimulus and the trade measures the United States has been pushing for will pre-sumably be delayed indefinitely.

Japan's poliucians have always relied heavily on the elite permanent hureaucracy to make policy, and that is presumably what will happen now as the political world tries to rebuild after this latest crisis. But the bureaucracy has been a champion of the status quo. It usually takes political leadership to force significant policy

With the Socialists' withdrawal, Mr. Hata was forced to delay the appointment of a cabinei, and thus the formal opening of his administration. Emerging from one meeting at about 3:30 A.M., the man who should have been celebrating the proudest day of his long politicar career wearily said he would try to name a

Mr. Hata said ne still hoped to persuade the Socialists to rejoin the coalition, but he said it was "conceivable" he would move ahead and form a government without them.

Mr. Hata could then try to function as well as possible without majority control in the Diet. Alternatively, it might be possible for him to lure enough new members to his coalition from other parties to build a new majority. The departure of the Socialists left Mr. Hata's coalition with 180 to 190 seats in the 511-seat lower house of parliament, far short of a majority.

It was Mr. Hata himself who triggered the Socialists' reaction with a sudden announce-

See JAPAN, Page 4

Black Dream Comes True After Long Nightmare More Bombs

By Bill Keller

New York Times Service

JOHANNESBURG — For decades it was a distant dream. Then for a few years it seemed inevitable. Only in the closing days has it hit South Africans with the force of an electric

Over the next few days, a black majority that has grown up enslaved by a misbegotten white ideology will become full citizens of their own country. Beginning Tuesday with prisoners and the bedridden, and continuing for two more days, they

On Wednesday, a state that not long ago ranked its populace by the thickness of their lips and the curl of their hair will submit to a constitution so protective of an egalitarian ideal that it prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex or gender, though no one bere seems to know the distinction.

On May 10, unless fate intervenes or the polls are wildly wrong, Nelson Mandela, a man who languished 27 years in prison for the treason of considering himself his jailors' equal. vill be inaugurated as president.

But that is only half, and perhaps the less amazing half, of what will transpire this week in South Africa. For what once

A half-million supervisors gather to monitor elections. Page 5. seemed a confrontation of irreconcilable forces has ended in the most unusual collaboration Africa has ever seen. Who among the liberation lighters could have imagined that. when white dominion ended, the outgoing president would not depart for exile or irrelevance, but would step into the job of

Or that the victors might be obliged to offer seats in the cabinet to such foes as Chief Mangosuthu Buthelezi, whose Zulu nationalist followers have been embroiled in a 10-year power struggle with Mr. Mandela's followers, and General Constandt Viljoen, the white separatist leader?

Or that the white chief of the army and the white finance minister would be serious candidates to retain their jobs?

All of these are possible under a power-sharing formula crafted as a five-year expedient to beal the wounds of racial division and especially to reassure whites that they will not become the new oppressed.

"I never thought we would negotiate with the ones whn took our youth and our lives," said Thandi Modise-Mkhwanazi, 35, who was a teenage guerrilla and spent nine years in prison. She is now deputy president of the African National Congress

Women's League.
"I look at de Klerk and Buthelezi with bitterness," she said,

See VOTE, Page 4

Kill 12 in South Africa Terrorism

10 Die in Car Explosion Near Johannesburg on Eve of All-Race Election

By Paul Taylor

JOHANNESBURG — As a deadly electioneve spasm of terrorist bombings spread to several cities, South Africa's political leaders, election officials and security forces closed ranks to reassure a jittery public that it will be safe to

On Monday morning a car bomb exploded at a black taxi stand in Germiston, just east of here, killing 10 and wounding 40, and Monday night a bomb was tossed into a bar frequented by blacks in Pretoria, killing two and wounding 21. On Sunday, a car bomb exploded in central Johannesburg, killing nine and wounding 100.

No one has claimed responsibility for the attacks, but speculation from law enforcement sources centers on white rightists bent on destabilizing the transition from apartheid to a black majority rule that will culminate with the country's first all-race election.

"A group of desperate people." President Frederik W. de Klerk said Monday, have "declared war on the rest of this society.

"We will not rest until they have been tracked down, convicted and punished, as they deserve. "We have come light years in four years and we will not be deterred," Johann Kriegler, head of the Independent Electoral Commission, said Monday. "The vast majority of South Africans want to vote and will vote.

The election will show how marginalized they are in our society," he said, speaking of the

The commission's chief monitor, Peter Harris, vowed that the voting would go on, "Bombs or no bombs.'

Balloting will held on Tuesday for the elder-ly, the disabled, the infirm and for an estimated 250,000 South African citizens living abroad. The general public of some 22.7 million eligible voters will cast ballots Wednesday and Thursday at 9,000 stations around the country.

The South African Defense Force and the police will deploy more than 100,000 troops to provide security in and around polling stations. "m very positive and opnimistic," said a defense force spokesman. Gert Opperman, adding that he believed the security situation would have been far more dangerous had the Zulu-based Inkatha Freedom Party chosen not to join the election last week. "I don't think acts of terrorism and sabotage by the right wing has the same potential to upset the election," he

Although terrorist bombs are relatively rare in South Africa, political violence is not. Since Mr. de Klerk released the African National Congress president, Nelson Mandela. from prison four years ago, more than 15,000 people have lost their lives in political killings.

"It sounds cold-hearted to put it this way, but in some respects the violence bas already been edgeted for in the national psyche," said David Welsh, a political scientist. "Everyone knew that the last weeks before the election would be the most dangerous time."

Most analysts doubted the attacks would significantly dampen turnout, which is expected to exceed 80 percent of eligible voters. To the contrary, there were indications from radio call-in shows and man-in-the-street interviews.

that it might strengthen the electorate's resolve.
"I must vote," said Sibiso Ngubane, one of a large cluster of pedestrians who gathered across the street from the Germiston taxi stand Monday morning and gaped at the twisted remains of a car, parts of which were dangling from a tree. "If I run now from the people who did something like this, I will run for the rest of my

Lawrence Schlemmer, a poll-taker, said that even though the victims of the terrorism have been predominantly black, the bombings might have more of a psychological impact on whites, because they occurred in cities rather than in the black townships.

"If anything, the bombs might help the ANC," he said. "Their supporters are more inured to violence, while the supporters of the National Party are rather more timid."

NATO's Spin on Bosnia Ultimatum: Indecision Is Over

By Craig R. Whitney
New York Times Service

BRUSSELS - NATO has decided to put the best possible face on the withdrawal of Bosnian Serbian forces from Gorazde after an ultimatum issued by the allies Friday to stop attacking then or face a stepped-up bombing campaign.

Even though United Nations observers in Gorazde reported the Serbs were vandalizing the city's infrastructure as they pulled out, officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization said Monday that U.S. leadership had come within a hair's breadth of being destroyed over the crisis in Bosnia.

The original failure was nearly a year ago, unless they stopped attacking the Bosnian capital come within a hair's breadth of being destroyed on the crisis in Bosnia.

The original failure was nearly a year ago, unless they stopped attacking the Bosnian capital come within a hair's breadth of being destroyed on the crisis in Bosnia. given the allies new resolve to learn from past failures, including a dispute with United Nations officials Saturday over whether to start bombing then. NATO, they said, had shown that it was not going to walk away from Bosnia. Indecision in Washington and elsewhere is over - so went the message from the headquarters of the world's most powerful military alliance. But some officials here also acknowledge that NATO's credibility has more than once when Secretary of State Warren Christopher States down when be asked them to support air strikes against the Serbian attackers and lift the arms embargo on the Balkans so that the Bosnian government forces, mainly Muslims, could defend themselves.

NEWS ANALYSIS

The next failure was parameter. The next failure was narrowly averted in February, when the Serbs kept pounding Sara-

A 4-month cease-fire is sought by a new, four-party 'contact group' on Bosnia. Page 2.

Deutsche Bank Feels the Pain of Being Fooled

By Brandon Mitchener International Herald Tribune

FRANKFURT - Deutsche Bank AG, one of the most powerful financial institutions in Europe, said Monday it expects to have to write off "several hundred million marks" this year in losses on loans to a missing real estate magnate whom it called "a fraudster."

But the bank conceded that the greatest loss was to its reputation—for "letting ourselves be fooled." "The material problems are probably containable, but the loss of face is more extensive," said Hilmar Kopper, the chairman of Deutsche Bank. "There is no doubt for us that be was a fraudster."

He said the bank had been the subject of "an almost unprecedented degree of scorn and ridicule" over the past two weeks.

The disappearance and subsequent bankruptcy of Jürgen Schneider. a real estate developer recently lauded as Germany's "construction king," came just three months after the near-collapse of a large German company in which the bank held a major stake. With that company — Metallgesellschaft AG — Deutsche Bank described itself as the victim of systematic deception regarding its risk.

But Mr. Kopper and two fellow members of the bank's board conceded mistakes in dealing with Mr. Schmeider, including relying on the developer's past credibility even as signs mounted that he had trouble paying his bills and was concerned about the future of his business, Dr. Jürgen Schneider AG.

Bank officials revealed Monday that they had repeatedly questioned See BANK, Page 4

Clinton and Nixon: An Odd Couple's Common Ground

By R.W. Apple Jr. New York Times Service

WASHINGTON - They hardly seemed made for each other.

One was in his 80s, the other in his 40s, one a Republican, the other a Democrat. One was a straight arrow, painfully shy, a classic loner, conspicuously formal in dress and manner (though under pressure, as the Watergate tapes showed, he could swear like a stevedore); the other, a devotee of Eivis and the Beatles, gregarious to a fault, experimented with marijuana in his youth, developed a reputation as a lady's man and much prefers sweats to suits.

Their intellectual interests were different, too; Bill Clinton is a domestic policy man par excellence and Richard Nixon's forte was al-ways international affairs. And yet, after a fairly elaborate courtship, conducted through intermediaries, the two men formed a bond early in the Clinton presidency that lasted until Mr. Nixon's death in New York on Friday.

The respect and rapport that developed between them has been reflected in Mr. Clinton's merous statements and actions since Mr. Nix-The president announced that he would fly to California for Mr. Nixon's funeral on Wednesday. He told his aides that if the family wanted it (as it turned out, they did not), Mr. Nixon would be given a state funeral in Washington, Watergate and his consequent resignation notwithstanding.

He ordered a day of national mourning, with

tal. On Feb. 9, prodded by the United States, alliance in Gorazde - until last weekend, when the allies issued an ultimatum like the one in Sarajevo, though that was too late to save the lives of an estimated 715 people, mainly Mus-

See NATO, Page 2

all federal offices closed, in keeping with tradi-He paid unstinted verbal tribute, saying Mr.

Nixon had managed "to leave his mark on his times as few figures have done in our history." Some of the president's aides were a little surprised. The Vietnam policies the young Bill aton protested against were Mr. Nixon's policies and the draft that he at first tried so hard to avoid was overseen by Mr. Nixon. His wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, worked as a lawyer for the House Judiciary Committee as it weighed impeachment charges against Mr. Nixon.

But David Gergen, who worked in the Nixon White House and works as an adviser in the Clinton White House, said the president wanted "to do this in a first-rate way."

Mr. Clinton was under no compulsion to go all-out. But as he said on television on Friday night, announcing Mr. Nixon's death from the darkened White House Rose Garden, "It's impossible to be in this job without feeling a special bond with the people who have gone before" — the other 41 members of one of the world's exclusive fraternities. Lloyd N. Cutler, who served Jimmy Carter as White House

See NIXON, Page 3

Endless Parade of Arms Defines the Afghan Problem

By John Ward Anderson

Weshington Post Service
HERAT, Afghanistan — Mortars and eight-foot rockets mounted on camels. Afghan majahidin fighters toting Stinger missiles. There's nothing like a parade. As if to prove it, the local warlord here pulled out all the slops last week for a huge procession marking the second anniversary of Liberation Day and the founding of the Islamic Republic of Afghanistan.

There was "Stalin's Organ" - a compact, lethal-looking rocket launcher with four rows of 10 rockets stacked on top no one another. There were 122mm howitzers, Luna surface-tosurface missiles with a range of 30 kilometers, SAM-7 surfaceto-air missiles and thousands of soldiers shouldering AK-47

And the convener of the parade, Ismail Khan, who controls most of western Afghanistan, is not even considered one of the top military heavyweights of this faction-torn country, which is entering the third year of a civil war that has claimed more than 10,000 lives.

The extent of Ismail Khan's arsenal, most of it aging hardware left over from Afghanistan's 14-year war against the former Soviet Union and its Afghan protege regime, seemed to surprise a group of Westerners here on a United Nations peace mission. They saw a rare glimpse of western Afghanistan, and the stocks of arms in the hands of local militias that have given the country a reputation as the world's biggest weapons bazaar. Except for the local soccer team and two busicads of refugees bringing up the rear, the parade was a four-hour sampling of Ismail Khan's arsenal, including a few dozen Soviet-built tanks, communication vehicles, armored personnel carriers. demining tanks and antiaircraft guns Helicopter gunships, transport planes and training jets roared overhead in deafening review.

Thousands of people lined the parade route, many clinging to trees or sitting on roofs and fences. Women, most of them wearing the blue or black burga that covers the entire form except for a small mesh for the mouth, were segregated on one

See PARADE, Page 4

			-	manager to come
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	E	4.2
				1
	H. Fr.			, ,
		# · >
		11 13
			)

		434
	11.19	147
	and the		Larren Sept	gence France-Press
Tomiichi Murayama, center, the	Socialist chai	rman, surroum	ied by guards a	s he left the prime minister's residence in Tokyo early Tuesday after his party quit the coalition.

Kiosk

U.S. to Halt Blockade of Jordan Port

ASCOT, England (Reuters) — The U.S. secretary of state, Warren M. Christopber, announced plans on Monday to replace the naval blockade of the Jordanian port of Aqaba with a land-based inspection system.

Profits on Wall Street NEW YORK - Stock prices jumped Monday, reflecting a spate of strong quar-terly earnings reports by blue-chip companies. The Dow Jones industrial average gained 57.10 points, rising to 3,705.78, with a notable boost fram Du Pont. (Page 10) Mr. Christopher spoke after talks in Brit-ain with King Hussein, who had argued that the blockade, which was imposed to enforce United Nations sanctions against Iraq, was severely damaging the Jordanian economy.

Mr. Christopher said the land-based inspections would be performed by Lloyd's Register of Shipping. He said he still needed to consult with other members of the coalition against Iraq but that he expected the new system to be in place "very promptly."

Page 4. Page 4.

Newsstand Prices
Andorro9.00 FF Antilles11.20 FF Cameroon1.400 CFA EgyptE.P. 5000 France960 CFA Gabon960 CFA Greece300 Dr. Tunisia1.000 Din TurkeyT.L. 15,000 U.A.E8.50 Dirh LebanonUS$ 1.50

Dow Jor	ies	Trib Index
Up 57.10 3,705.70	100 4 100 00	Up 0.16% 111.14
The Dollar	Mon. close	previous dose
DM	1.6/98	1.6882
Pound	1,4915	1.4895
Yen	103.05	103.24
FF	5,7655	5.786

By Alan Cowell New York Times Service

ROME — In his prime, Gianni De Michelis was a oatural for the headlines: His hair was long, his disco dancing renowned, his position in the inner circle of Italian politics beyond doubt. As foreign minister, he boogied the globe, As power broker in Rome, he took a suite in a Rome hotel and held court there. Then came the fail.

Mr. De Michelis, 53, was one of many leaders of the now near-defunct Socialist Party to be caught up in the "mani pulite" or "clean hands" investigation into political corruption. He received his first formal notification that he was a target of the inquiry in July 1992, just before a glittery party given in his honor hy the former U.S. ambassador, Peter Secchia.

Magistrates in four cities have decided to investigate his purported involvement in unlawful party financing and bribery. The hotel suite is no more than a memory, and, he acknowledged in an interview, he does not disco any more because his presence under the strobes might provoke embarrassing incidents.

If anyone wanted to discover how far Italy's mighty have fallen, they oeed look no further than Mr. De

As much as be was the emblem of Italy's swagger through the 1980s, Mr. De Michelis has joined those who now project themselves as victims of the very system that nurtured them. With elections in March that swept a new political clite to power, this new subclass finds itself facing

Diplomacy Widens

For Peace in Bosnia

'Contact Group' to Seek Truce

ed Nations to establish a coordinating mechanism that will attempt the use NATO air power

By John M. Goshko

Washington Past Service
LONDON — The United States agreed Monday to join with Russia, the European Unioo and the Unit-

to unify the international effort to end the bloody civil war in Bosnia-

Following a round-robin of consultations among senior diplomats who gathered here Monday, Secretary of State Warren M. Christopher and Foreign Secretary Doug-las Hurd jointly aonounced Monday night that the countries involved were establishing a "contact group" of working-level officials, who have been involved in efforts to mediate the Balkan con-

A senior U.S. official said that the group would work toward a cease-fire throughout Bosnia to allow peace negotiations and to achieve agreement on what he called "the parameters of a perma-

Reuters reported that the group

[In Washington, President Bill would seek a cease-fire lasting four

Clinton said Monday that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the United Nations were "together" on Bosnia policy, and that an agreement by Bosnian oent negotiated settlement.

Herzegovina.

Serbs to lift the siege of Gorazde should give new impetus to diplo-macy, Reuters reported.

["I think we're all together from here oo in," Mr. Clinton said. Un-in Bosnia "are in proper order now," he said.]

The senior U.S. official said outside diplomats agreed that a settlement should be along the lines of proposals for preserving the territorial integrity of Bosnia within a loose confederation of Serbian,

The Serbs have occupied more than 70 percent of Bosnia's territory, although past settlement proposals by outside mediators have called for giving 51 percent of the territory to the Muslims and Croats

The U.S. official acknowledged that so far the Serbs had shown oo disposition to make the territorial concessions that would achieve

However, both Mr. Christopher and Mr. Hurd spoke in unusually tough terms about what they called the international community's growing impatience at the unwillingness of the Serbs to stop trying to achieve their goals through military aggression and their reluctance to surrender territory.

Muslim and Croatian areas.

and 49 percent to the Serbs.

that ratio.

15, members of the previous Parliament lost their immunity from arrest.

A full two-thirds of the more than 900 legislators were not re-elected, reflecting the new order Italians believed they were electing. Sioce April 15, four former lawmakers have been jailed. Twenty-two more could face a similar

That seems to have inspired a particularly marked humility among some of them.

"I am ready to accept my responsibilities," Mr. De Michelis said in an interview in his apartment in central Rome, looking out onto the second-century Doric columns of Piazza di Pietra. The only thing I would like to see is fairness.

"I was considered a powerful man. Now, oo more." Mr. De Michelis faces an array of charges. Magistrates in Milan, Venice, Rome and Bologna have opened inquiries into possible illegal party financing, bribery in return for public works contracts and misuse of development funds for the Third World.

With the exception of party financing, Mr. De Michelis proclaims his innocence. "I was not corrupt." he said.

On the financing question, though, his views echo those of many of the thousands of industrialists and politicians caught up in the system.

Evoking the "specificity" of Italian politics, where, he said, a once-powerful Communist Party had to be contained, he argued that "the cost of politics in Italy was

When the country's new Parliament, dominated by the rightist alliance of Silvio Berlusconi, took office on April limited politicians' access to legal financing."

"The rules were wrong," he said, "and it was our principal mistake that we made the rules. We made the rules. We broke the rules."

Not only that, he said, "there was a high level of excess. probably too high a level of excess - personal misbehavior — some people became rich."

Not, of course, that he did, He lived, he said, on a post-tax politician's salary of around $120,000 a year —enough for the hotel suite and the boogie sessions — plus the perks of office like free transportation. Now, he says, his outlay, along with his power, has diminished: His rent is oo more than $600 a mooth, and he is thinking of returning to his old job teaching chemistry at Venice University while he writes books on foreign policy. China, he thinks, would be fitting theme.

The supposition that key investigators in one of the scandals — the Tangentopoli (Bribe City) affair — were soft-pedaling on what Italy's former Communists had been up to deepened last year when one investigator was dismissed after she began aggressively digging into the affairs of the left

People like Mr. De Michelis have their suspicions, too. Last week, the most famous of the Milan investigators, Antonio Di Pietro, spent an hour in court insisting that illicit funds totaling some $600,000 were paid to two former Communist leaders, Achille Occhetto and Mas-

"For anyone else, one word and they're under investiga-tion," Mr. De Michelis said. "But did these two come under investigation? No."

A soldier guarding trucks Monday near Moscow. They will be used by United Nations peacekeeping forces in the former Yugoslavia.

Leftists in Milan Rally to Protest Conservatives

The Associated Pre-MILAN - Leftist parties led huge rallies against Italy's new conservative leadership Monday on the anniversary of the revolt against Nazi Germany and its fas-

An estimated 200,000 people gathered in Milan and hundreds of thousands attended events in other cities for the 49th anniversary of Liberation Day, which marks uprisings that helped defeat the Nazis in Italy and led to the downfall of Mussolim's fascist regime.

But many of the largest rallies were aimed at the rightist coalition led by Silvio Berinsconi that won parlismentary elections last month. Marchers chanted slogans mocking Mr. Berlusconi and another key ally, the Northern League leader. Umberto Bossi.

The largest march in Milan was led by Achille Occhetto, secretary of the former Communists, now called the Democratic Party of the Left. The elections shut out leftist parties from power.

WORLD BRIEFS

No Resurgence of Anti-Semitism, Russian Prime Minister Tells Rabin

MOSCOW (NYT) - Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, the highestranking Israeli official ever to come to Moscow, heard a promise Monday from the Russian prime minister that a new wave of anti-Semitism could not be provoked in Russia.

Mr. Rabin, whose visit here has been marked by emotional meetings with Moscow's Jews, has been seeking public assurances from high Russian officials that they will act against manifestations of anti-Semitism. He is also here to discuss prospects for advancing the Mideast peace talks, which the Russians are sponsoring with Washington.

Since the ultranationalist Vladimir V. Zhirmovsky, rode xenophobia and economic fears to win nearly a quarter of the popular vote in December's elections, the never dormant fears of Russia's Jews have been reawakened, and more have expressed interest in emigrating. Mr. Zhirinovsky, despite having a Jewish father, has made intermittent anti-Semitic remarks, though he denies being anti-Semitic.

After meeting for two hours with Mr. Rabin and signing a set of economic and tax agreements. Prime Minister Viktor S. Chernomyrdm said that "no Zhirinovsky will be able to incite" a serious upsurge in anti-Semitism in Russia. "I can tell you unequivocally that this will not

Poland Gives NATO a Plan for Ties

BRUSSELS (AP) - Poland on Monday became the first nation to give NATO its plans for developing military cooperation under the Western alliance's Partnership for Peace program for former foes in Eastern priorities within the program. He said they included improving compatibility between equipment and procedures, tighter communications between the Polish general staff and NATO headquarters, and cooperation in air defense. Poland is one of 14 Central and East European nations to sign up for Partnership for Peace, launched by the alliance in January.

Defense Minister Piotr Kolodziejczyk presented an 11-page document to officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization outlining Poland's

Haitian Soldiers Said to Massacre 23

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) - Soldiers massacred at least 23 fishermen and merchants in western Haiti oear Gonaives, witnesses and human rights advocates said Monday. After raiding a stronghold of the ousted president, the Reverend Jean-Bertrand Aristide, and searching for supporters of the exiled leader, the soldiers boarded rowboats and fired at people unloading fish, firewood and other supplies on the seaside shum of Rabotean near Gonaives, 100 mile from the capital, Port-au-Prince, according to witnesses. The attack took place Saturday but was first reported by Haitian radio Monday. The killings come as Washington has toughened its stance against the military, which has dominated Haiti since ousting Aristide in a bloody

East German Charged in Spy Case

KARLSRUHE Germany (AP) — A former East German general has been charged with treason for allegedly running a spy ring that passed secret information about the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to the Soviet Union, the federal prosecutor's office said Monday.

The former lieutenant general, identified only as Alfred K., 63, is charged with heading a team of East German agents from 1982 to 1990 that obtained information about the the alliance's military goals and technical canabilities. Three agents who worked under the former general have been convicted and given prison terms of five to 10 years.

Closure of Ex-Soviet Reactors Urged

CHAMBERY, France (Reuters) - The French environment minister, Michel Barnier, said Monday that Ukraine's Chernobyl plant and 14 other nuclear reactors in the former Soviet Union must be closed.

These reactors have been widely reported as deteriorating. Mr. Barnier, addressing a seminar on the consequences of the world's worst commercial nuclear disaster at Chernobyl eight years ago, also called for more international aid to help stem the risk of ouclear contamination from former Soviet republics.

Ukraine has said that urgently needed ouclear safety measures would cost $4 billion and that it could not afford to close down its Chernoby! plant, which blew up on April 26, 1986, killing at least 31 and spewing radioactive dust over Europe.

Serbs Continue Gorazde Pullback but Block UN Aid Convoy

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina -- Bosnian Serbs blocked an aid convoy for Gorazde on Monday despite pledges to allow unrestricted access. But they appeared to be withdrawing heavy weapons as de-manded by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

For the most part, the Serbs halt-ed their assault on Gorazde on sick people, bringing the total air-Sunday after NATO threatened air withdraw armor and artillery outside a three-kilometer radius.

"We have good oews from Gorazde," said a United Nations spokesman, Major Guy Vioet.
The situation is quiet. There's some sporadic small arms fire, but it's very little."
The United Nations evacuated

lifted out of the battered Muslim strikes if they did not cease fire and city to 177 in the past two days.

UN aid officials planned to evac-uate 600 people wounded in three weeks of intense shelling by Serbi-an forces. The Serbs ended their onslaught Sunday under the threat

UN peacekeeping and air strikes are useful, but such measures don't add up to a negotiated settlement," Mr. Hurd said, "That must be based on Serb withdrawal from a lot of the land they now hold, if they wish a durable future

Mr. Christopher, responding to questions about why the United States and its NATO allies had waited so long to threaten the

for their state and their children."

of NATO bombing raids. Another UN spokesman, Commander Eric Chaperon, said there were indications the Serbs were pulling farther back to meet the early-Wednesday deadline NATO set for a withdrawal of heavy weapons 20 kilometers from Gorazde.

nel and unrestricted access for humanitarian convoys to Gorazde and five other Muslim enclaves the United Nations has designated

We had promises from the Serbs made to the U.N. and to their loog-time allies, the Russians.

Those promises were receged upon. When it became apparent they wouldn't be lived up to, we turned to our NATO partners to make clear that this kind of brutal-acknowledged that the contact group's work could be a prelude to Mr. Hurd and Mr. Christopher

ity and killing has to end."

safe areas." About 350 peacekeepers were deployed in Gorazde over the weekend, and a humanitarian convoy delivered 90 tons of aid on

But Bosnian Serbs blocked a second aid convoy at the border on Monday, claiming it had no clearance, aid workers said. The convoy, which had left Belgrade with 80 tons of food, was to try again Tues-

They are delaying the convoy, said Peter Kessler, a spokesman for the UN High Commissioner for NATO has also demanded free- in a statement that it was complet-dom of movement for UN person- ing the pullout of its heavy weaping the pullout of its heavy weap-ons beyond the three-kilometer radius. It said Bosnian government forces were violating the cease-fire

Bosnia or a meeting of foreign min-

But they stressed that next steps would not be decided until there was a clearer picture of what the group would be able to accomplish

The United States will be represented on the group by Charles E.

Redman, the U.S. special envoy for Vitali I. Churkin, the special rep-in the next two or three weeks.

the Balkan conflict.

an international conference on resentative of President Boris N. further discussions.

isters from concerned countries.

with sniper fire. As they pulled back Sunday, the Serbs hurned houses and blew up a water treatment plant, UN officials

The lieutenant general commanding UN troops in Bosnia, Sir Michael Rose, said he believed the Serbs would meet the alliance's

"I am fairly confident they will," be told the BBC. "I believe they are actually withdrawing at the moment. We have seen many signs of The UN special envoy in the former Yugoslavia, Yasushi Akashi, Refugees. There is no freedom of has warned the Serbs over their rovement."

delay in meeting the Sunday deadline for the initial pullback, saying timatum and its Wednesday dead-

Yelisin for the former Yugoslavia, will represent Russia. Britain,

France and Germany also will contribute officials, who will represent both the European Union and the lomats involved in the conferences in London on Monday, and Mr.

Christopher will meet the Russian foreign minister, Andrei V. Kozyrev, in Geneva on Tuesday for

Mr. Churkin was among the dip-

United Nations.

British and French helicopters resumed the evacuation of wounded but UN aid officials said one British aircraft arrived back empty because there were no patients vaiting to be airlifted. They said Gorazde hospital had been unable to accommodate all the wounded and many were lodged in nearby bouses. They will have to be rounded up before the evacuation resumes on Tuesday. A UN spokesman said extra peacekeeping forces were deployed early Monday along front lines around Gorazde. The oew UN contingent joined the 200 peacekeeping troops al-ready on the ground, a spokesman

(AP, Reuters)

TRAVEL UPDATE

Old Sri Lankan Hotel to Get Face-Lift

COLOMBO (AFP) - One of the world's oldest hotels, the colonialtyle Galle Face in Colombo, is to have a refurbishment. Beginning in July, the 130-year-old landmark of the Colombo scafront will turn its management over to Raffles of Singapore, which plans to restore the building. But the chairman of Galle Face Hotel, Cyril Gardiner, says the timber floors, antique carved screens and waiters of a similar vintage will remain.

"Everything will be old style. But the machines and equipment will be the very latest," Mr. Gardiner said.

Trans World Airlines said it was renewing its free upgrade program for full-fare business-class passengers traveling to and from Europe between May I through Aug. 31. The first international air route the Palestinians will operate under self-rule will link Gaza with Cairo, the Palestine Liberation Organization's chief negotiator, Nabil Shaath, said. A Palestinian company and the Egyptian airline Air Sinai will fly the route. A total of 142 hikers, skiers and climbers died in the Swiss Alps in 1993, up by 18 from the previous year, the Swiss Alpine Club said. The number people rescued in the mountains last year compared to 1992 declined 13 percent to 1,592 people, the club said.

Calmer winds and trenches dug by fire fighters have helped control a two-week-old fire just short of a nesting area of the rare giant tortoise in the Galápagos Islands off Ecuador.

(AP)

NATO: Allies Say Deadline for Serbian Pullout From Gorazde Shows That Indecision Is Over tary-general, Manfred Worner. Air strikes will be authorized if of military significance that have military, political, and diplomation strategy to end the war and demonstrate the strategy to end the war and demonstrate. Continued from Page 1

lims, who were killed during three feared the alliance's credibility was at stake when the senior UN official in Zagreb refused to give NATO military commanders the go-ahead to start a bombing campaign even though Serbian shells were still falling on the city. The UN official, Yasushi Akacalled Secretary-General Butros Butros Ghali of the United Nations weeks of shelling there.

Even on Saturday, after the ultimatum, senior NATO officials on Saturday to emphasize that NATO's and the UN's credibility were at stake.

Mr. Butros Ghali, who had called on the allies to authorize him to call in air strikes to stop the suffering of Gorazde, then issued a statement emphasizing his readiness to do so. NATO set a deadline The UN official, Yasushi Aka—2:01 A.M. local time Wednesday shi, said he wanted to give the Serbs for the Serbs to withdraw all their time to fulfill an agreement to pull artillery pieces, tanks, mortars, back that he had just negotiated rocket-launchers and other heavy with them in Belgrade. NATO offi-weapons from a 20-kilometer zone cials say that the alliance's secre- around Gorazde.

the Serbs do not make that withdrawal, the head of UN peacekeeping operations said Monday in New York, Agence France-Presse reported. Koli Annan, UN undersecretary-general for peacekeeping, said that there was now "excellent collaboration" between the United Nations and NATO.

If the Serbs meet the deadline, officials here say that NATO will not activate its detailed plans for a series of heavy air strikes, phased to nian Serbian military combat sup- and Zepa. port installations and other targets What is still lacking is a coherent vious insufficiencies."

Other NATO officials said they were confident that NATO and the UN were now on the same wave-If the Serbs do finally leave Gorazde alone, and do not resume attacks on Sarajevo, they could still challenge the allies in four other places designated by the UN as "safe areas" nearly a year ago and taken under NATO protection last weekend with ultimatums like the into a lesson in international failone in Gorazde. The other safe arhit not just heavy weapons but Bos- eas are Bihac, Srebrenica, Tuzla strategy to end the war and demon-strate whether the alliance, con-ceived to fend off a Soviet threat that no longer exists, can halt or deter the threat of widespread ethnic violence elsewhere.

001-800-950-1022

on Her

Officials here saw hope in diplomatic contacts under way in Lon-don and Geneva this week that NATO's military resolve will be complemented by new determination to find a negotiated solution. "The Spanish Civil War turned ure," one diplomat said, "but in Bosnia we are building on the lessons we have learned from our pre-

VACHERON CONSTANTIN

To call from country to country, or back to the U.S., dial the WorldPhone number of the country you're calling from. Anxigua (Available from public cardphones only) 080-90000 Czech RepublicicCi 00-12-000112 HaldisCC4 #2 001-800-333-1111 Denmark(CC) 8001-0022 Argentina+ 1-800-751-6624 AustriatCCH 022-903-012 Dominican Republic 1-800-624-1000 Bahrain 800-002 Egypt¹CC14 355-5770 (Outside of Cairo, dial 02 first.)

Belgium(CC) Bermuda÷ Bolivia• Cayman Islands

0800-100t2 1-800-623-0484 0-800-2222 000-8013 1-800-888-8000 1-800-624-1000 ØJ▼-0316

Et Salvador + 9800-102-80 Finland(CC)4 194-00-19 Gambia+ GermanyiCC1 (Limited availability in eastern Germany.) 00-800-1211 Greece(CC4 1-800-624-8721

Use your MCI Card," local telephone card or call collect...all at the same low rates.

1CO Country-to-country calling residitive. May not be available technical antennational because it crimin restrations apply in Limited availability. If Wan be second delines: A Available from LAPATEI public phones unity. Rate depends as well empt in Mesker I international communications controlled * Not writing from hoppy less tapase. • Lapite layer-was achieu externe of course bytese coup parties from the 001-800-114-1234 001-800-671-7000 Honderas+ HungarytCCH 00▼-800-01411 Ireland(CC) IsrackCC1 Kenya (Avadable hom most major cities.) 0130-0012 Liechtenstein(CC) Luxembourg Mexico.

999-002 1-800-55-1001 177-150-2727 t72-t022 800-674-7000 110080 155-0222 0800-0112 95-800-674-7000 19▼-00-19

obadicci Portugal(CC1 Pacrto Rico(CC) San Marino(CC) South Africa(CC)

(Outside of Managua, dial 02 first.) 800-19912 2810-108 Military Bases Paraguay+ Peru(Cutside of Lima, deal 190 first) 001-190 07-01-04-800-222 05-017-1234 172-1022 00-42-000112 Slovak RepublicICC 0800-99-0011

Netherlands Antilled COL

NicaraguatCC

Swedenico 020-795-922 Switzerland(CO) 155-0222 Trinidad &r Tobago (SPECIAL PHONES ONLY) United Kingdom(CC) To call the U.S. using BT 0800-89-0223 To call the U.S. using MERCURY 0500-890-222 To call anywhere other than the US 0500-800-800th U.S. Virgin Islanderece 1-800-888-8000 Vatican City (CC) 172-1022 Venezuela++ 800-1114-0

WORLD PHONE Let It Take You Around the World.

00-1-99

t-ly a

THE AMERICAS / RAIN ON A PC PARADE

Girls Have Their Day, Drawing Grumbles From the Boys

By Barbara Vobejda

Washington Post Service
WASHINGTON — It hegan as a simple idea: a take-your-daughter-to-work day, when girls could step into a world of work opportunities they rarely get

But in modern American fashion, what was simple and spontaneous bas somebow been made complicat-

In the midst of a blossoming campaign to broaden the young female horizon, strains of discontent bave begun to triekle forth. Not as organized as a protest, nor as angry as a hacklash, the complaints have been offered almost apologetically. What about boys?
What about the daughters of eleaning women and homemakers? Shouldn't garls be in school learning to read and write rather than visiting an office?

Sharlene Hesse-Biber, a Boston College sociologist. said: "I hate to rain on the parade. Yes, it's a nice occasion for some daughters." But the Take Our Daughters To Work Day, launched last year by the Ms. Foundation for Women, is mostly for the daughters of "white, educated women who have made it."

she said.

"What about those not-so-lucky daughters who have to deal with the fact their mothers have to take two jobs to support the family?" she asked. "What about take your daughter to work and experience sexual harassment, or take your daughter to work and

But these and other grievances have been all but smothered by a much louder chorus of enthusiasm. Planned initially as a New York event last year, the concept leaped from ciry to city, propelled by women's organizations, businesses, government agencies and a pent-up enthusiasm among parents eager to share work space with their girls.

What became a phenomenal success - more than a million girls participated - has this year mushroomed into something akin to a national holiday. The "massive consciousness-raising exercise" scheduled for Thursday may include several million girls, said the Ms. Foundation president, Marie C. Wilson. The idea has even vaulted overseas - to Africa, Japan, Ireland, Britain and Puerto Rico.

In the United States, hundreds of corporations, including AT&T and IBM, are sponsoring or participating. Girls will be spending time with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in garment factories, in the White House, with an astronaut, and with police officers. They will host a local radio talk show in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and serve as federal customs agents in Interstate Hotels, a Pittsburgh-based hotel management company, arged its 80 hotels to support the effort. As a result, girls will be checking in guests at the Sheraton in Springfield, Massachusetts, and making pizzas at the San Diego Marriott.

Ms. Wilson said ber foundation's plan was, simply, to focus the nation's attention on girls and show them the possibilities for rewarding careers.

"The minute a girl walks into an office," she said, "people are going to be thinking not about what a cute dress she has on. She will get addressed about what her dreams are, what she wants to do."

Behind this "surprisingly elegant" idea, Ms. Wilson said, is a much broader hope: to avoid what seems to be a troubled period for many girls, from age 9 to 12. Research shows girls often lose their self-confidence in the middle-school years, falter academically and are more likely to become depressed than boys.

"Everybody wants a different life for their daugh-ters," she said, and that is why this day has been adopted with religious fervor.

second annual event gave people too much time to think and rethink the subtleties. Revisions, post-revisional disturbing subtexts emerged. An obvious signaling to girls that they're not worthy of attention But maybe all those months between the first and one was the boy problem.

outcry began: What about boys?

But every day is boy's day, the organizers answered, clearly annoyed. They were backed up by female academics who study precisely what it is that makes the workplace a man's place.

"Every day, boys learn about the roles open to them," said Ellen Fagenson, who teaches management at George Mason University and wrote a book titled "Women in Management."

Beyerly is live precident of Congress Women

Beverly LaHaye, president of Concerned Women for America, contends that the whole notion of a takeyour-daughter-to-work day "is another feminist pro-ject to work against homemakers and stay-ar-home

"It's another effort to make motherhood an illegiti mate profession."

Somewhat ironically, her perspective overlaps — even if briefly — with that of Miss Hesse-Biber, the Boston College sociologist. Miss Hesse-Biber suggest-ed a day where dads stay at home with their sons, "to look at the invisible work women do to support the întellectual work men do."

just for being themselves.

Supporters of Armando Calderón Sol, the governing party's candidate, celebrating his election victory in the capital, San Salvador.

Rightist Wins Handily in El Salvador

SAN SALVADOR - A rightist presidential candidate, Armando Calderón Sol, has won a resounding victory in El Salvador's elections, according to preliminary results.

The first official results of the Supreme Electoral Council, based on 45 percent of ballots counted, gave Mr. Calderon 66 percent of the vote in the runoff elections, which took place Sunday. Leaders of his party, the Republican Nationalist Alliance, declared him president and took to the streets to Rubea Zamora, the candidate of a threeparty leftist coalition, received about 34 per-cent. His group includes former Marxist guerrillas.

Mr. Zamora conceded the elections, saying he was happy that the coalition had become the nation's second-largest political force, despite having little prior electoral experience. The Farabundo Marti organization partici-.

pated in elections for the first time, after years of trying to impede the voting by blow-ing up electric lines, sabotaging transporta-tion and threatening to kill those who voted. Initial results showed that only 45 percent of the 2.5 million eligible voters turned out. El Salvador was a key battleground of the Cold War in the 1980s, and the United States poured $6 billion in economic and military aid into the nation to defeat the Marxist

By Douglas Farah ... guerrillas of the Farabundo Marti National But with United Nations mediation, the outgoing president, Alfredo Cristiani, and the guerrillas signed a peace agreement in February 1992. In exchange for the guerrillas laying down their weapons and becoming a legal political party, the government agreed to sweeping changes in the military, including the retirement of more than 100 officers believed responsible for widespread human

> Mr. Calderón said he had received a "clear, unquestionable mandate" to govern and added that his "historic challenge" was to unite > the country and consolidate democracy." Both Mr. Calderon and Mr. Zamora promised to continue Mr. Cristiani's free market policies. Both candidates agreed that combating widespread poverty and illiteracy would be the main challenge of the new government.

High Court to Hear Death Row Appeal

By Linda Greenhouse New York Times Service

WASHINGTON - The Supreme Court on Monday accepted a death penalty appeal that could produce an important ruling on how federal courts should evaluate errors in state criminal trials that lead to convictions and death sen-

The case is an appeal by an in-mate on Louisiana's death row who is raising several challenges to his 1984 murder conviction. Among his arguments are that the prosecution suppressed evidence that could have persuaded the jury that he was framed, and that his own defense lawyer fell below minimal standards of competence.

In a ruling in October, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, in New Orleans, denied his petition for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that, in light of the "overwhelming evidence" of his guilt, the inmate had not shown that the errors had enough impact on the jury to have changed the outcome of the trial.

The question for the justices now appears to be whether the Fifth Circuit applied the proper standard or whether, by contrast, the state should have been required to show that any errors in the trial either had no effect on the outcome or were "harmless beyond a reason-showing whether any errors had an right man."

preme Court's long-standing approach was to require the state to show that any errors were harm-less; if the state could not meet this burden, the defendant prevailed.

But in a 5-10-4 ruling last year, the court changed the rules for a category of habeas corpus cases, for the first time giving the defense the burden of proving that the state's mistakes at trial "had a substantial and injurious effect or influence in determining the jury's verdiet.

That ruling, in Brecht v. Abra-hamson, did not involve a death penalty. The court may have granted review in the new case to decide whether a death sentence changes the context of a habeas corpus case sufficiently to require the federal courts to conduct a more searching examination to make sure that any errors at trial did not affect the conviction or sentence.

In the new case, Kyles v. Whitley, the Fifth Circuit majority ap-plied the new rule of the Brecht decision in rejecting the inmate's appeal. The vote on the Fifth Circuit panel was 2 to 1, with Judge Carolyn Dincen King writing a strong dissenting opinion.

"For the first time In my 14 years on this court," Judge King wrote, "during which I have participated in the decision of literally dozens of In appeals challenging the con-duct of a trial, the critical issue is often which side has the burden of state has sentenced to death the

Away From Politics

A mountain lion apparently at Special Investigations said he was tacked and killed a jogger on a trail an SS guard at the Gusen concen-near Cool, California. The body of tration camp in Austria. Barbara Schoener, 40, had claw marks, and sheriff's deputies found animal hairs that will be analyzed. There were signs the body had been dragged down a hillside.

• A women's group called Boycott Anorexic Marketing is starting to spire starvadon diets and eating disorders by using extremely thin models. Its first target is Diet policy.

What began as a highly popular

Sprite, made by Coca-Cola Co. The homanitarian relief program under company said it bad already stopped running an ad that the group found objectionable.

read Mr. Nixon's last words and authorities in Las Vegas said. The victim was hospitalized in serious The first copies of "Beyond condition. His alleged attacker was

 A man who admitted he was a guard at a Nazi concentration camp in World War II has left the United States for good, the Justice Department said. Mathias Denuel, 74, who came to the United States in 1955 and worked as a tailor in Philadelphis before retiring to Florida, took a flight from Miami en route to permanent residence in Germany. The department's Office of

* POLITICAL NOTES*

New Building at Dam Spares No Expense

WASHINGTON — The government is huilding a $119 million visitors center at Hoover Dam near Las Vegas, probably the most expensive such tourist stop ever financed by taxpayer dollars. Daniel P. Beard, the new commissioner for the Bureau of Reclamation, speaks in a tone of disbelief when he relates bow he first learned about the center's cost. "I walked in, and somebody says, 'You're building a hundred-million-dollar building,' and I say, 'You're crazy, You can't spend that much money on one building.' Well, I was wrong."

The Hoover Dam visitors center is a virtual stereotype of the ills ssociated with federal spending; cost overruns, management indifference and lack of oversight.

Congress appropriated $32 million in 1984, costs ballooned, construction continued, millions more were committed, and apparendy no one at the Interior Department, at the Office of Management and Budget or in Congress asked for a spending moratorium

"Who's responsible? Well, everybody and nobody." said Mr. Beard, who took over last May as head of the reclamation bureau, an arm of the Interior Department.

Last week, after touring the visitors center, Mr. Beard said: "To me, it's a tragedy that we spent this much money. It destroys the credibility of federal agencies."

The construction and interest costs on the visitors center are projected to hit $119 million before its opening later this year. That exceeds the $90 million price tag of the recently opened U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. The most expensive new visitor center ever built by the National Park Service - at the New River Gorge in West Virginia - cost $5.3 million.

Mr. Beard and Senator Harry M. Reid, Democrat of Nevada, last year asked for an inspector-general's investigation and a staff review of wby costs were allowed to sour at Hoover Dam. After the studies are finished, Mr. Beard said, he will recommend "changes on how we present issues to Congress and make sure that we do a better job of being bonest and open with people."

The dam - crected during the Depression to convert the energy of the Colorado River into electricity for Nevada, Arizona and California - attracts up to 1 million tourists each year. Lake Mead. the reservoir upstream from the dam, is the largest artificial lake in the United States.

Quote/Unquote

President Bill Clinton, addressing families of soldiers killed when U.S. warplanes mistakenly fired on two helicopters over Iraq: Their lives were suddenly taken from their beloved families and from our nation. It is our duty, first, to continue the mission for which they gave their lives. Second, to find the answers which [the families] rightfully seek. And, third, to pray together they will find the strength as the days go forward to ease their grief and lean on their faith."

The American Chamber of Commerce in France & The American University of Paris present

Seminar on conducted by professors Deborah M. Kolb & Jeffrey Z. Rubin

THE PROGRAM ON NEGOTIATION

One and a half-day seminar

Designed for senior management

■ Presents negotiating strategies & tactics Conducted in English Contact: The American

Thursday, May 19 &c Friday, May 20, 1994 at the Hotel Talleyrand, U.S. Consulate, Paris

University of Paris Tel.: (33-1)47.20.44.99 Fax: (33-1)47.20.45.64

Nixon Has Last Word, Criticizing Clinton Anorexic Marketing is starting to boycott products it says are promoted with advertisements that in-

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches NEW YORK - Richard Nixon, in his final book, takes sharp issue with President Bill Clinton's foreign policy, saying the United States should have taken the lead over Bosnia and handled crises with China and Somalia different-

In excerpts from the book "Be-yond Peace," published in Time magazine, Mr. Nixon also faults the president's health care plan as representing "the ultimate revenge of the 1960s generation."

On Bosnia, Mr. Nixon said, "Be-

He added that the United States evant.

handed player on the international stage and contributed to an image improve living standards in Depromoted by extreme Muslim fundamentalism that the West is callous to the fate of Muslim nationals

He said U.S. lectures to China on cause we are the last remaining burnan rights were imprudent in superpower, no crisis is irrelevant to our interests."

The Said O.S. feetures to Cultar on the light of China's economic power and within a decade will be urrelevant.

should have taken the lead, short of committing ground troops to the area, so that Serbian aggression could have been blunted.

"Our failure to do so has tarnished our reputation as an even-handed player on the international of States unless the domestic to the country of the ed States unless we do more to federal government of one-seventh of the nation's economy."

but protective of Christian and how not to conduct U.S. foreign policy.

project with President Clinton." book into print this week to take friend's companion with gasoline advantage of what the publisher and set him after after forcing his called a "considerable demand to way into the man's hotel room, the President Bush became a highly controversial UN nation building Random House is rushing the A man doused his former girl-testimony.

Peace" will come off the presses arrested on charges of attempted He called Somalia "a lesson in ans, said Monday. (Reuters, AP)

Wednesday, the day of Mr. Nixon's murder, arson and burglary. funeral, his publisher, Harold Ev-NIXON: A Young President's Strong Rapport With an Elder Statesman who were wary of association with E1,000 cash per day possible. Coffee-mag systems from E5,000, textile and T-shirts systems from E5,800. Special inadigrounds trick photos) are stored in the computer and can be combined with your customers portrate. Systems are easy to transport in the average Car. No three saling involved. Set up in toot traffic area and customers come to you -simple to persist - no special qualifications required - immediate delivery.

25 you - serges to operate - 10 special quar-fications required - Imm ediate delivery. (Wholesale prices for receivers). KEMA Dept. EST, Poetfach 17 (8 40, D-6007? Frankfurt/Rinh Tel. + 48-48-74 78 08 Telex 41 27 12 Telefax +49-59-75 22 74

58, AVENUE MONTAIGNE - PARIS 6" - TÉL: 45.61.08.39 64, RUE DU FAUBOURG-SAINT-HONORÉ - PARIS 8º - TÉL: 42.66.05.33

HŌTEL DU RHŌNE Our impressive renovation is complete. As a matter of fax, we have excellent business facilities. Geneva's first business address in the finest location. 殟

The leading Hotels of the World .

TEL. (41 22) 731 98 31

A LIVELY ARRAY

FAX (41 22) 732 45 58

power as a final step in his self-rehabilitation campaign, had a bet-LIFE OF T.H.E TRIB THE

Tuesday STYLE

Wednesday

ENTERTAINMENT

Friday ESURE Saturday-Sunday ART/

THE MONEY REPORT

BUSINESS AND FINANCE

OPINION AND COMMENTARY

FOOD AND FASHION FILM AND THEATER

BOOKS AND TRAVEL BRIDGE AND CHESS

OF COMICS THE NEW YORK TIMES PULITZER PRIZE WINNING

Don't miss out. Make sure you get your copy of the IHT every day.

Herald Cribune.

WEEK Plus daily . Monday Thursday THE ARTS AND SCIENCE POLITICS AND ECONOMICS HEALTH/SCIENCE MONDAY SPORTS

He said the plan "is less a prescription for better health care than a blueprint for the takeover by the

Continued from Page 1 counsel and holds the same job about the politics of the matter, one under Mr. Clinton, said that even Mr. Clinton, said that even Mr. Clinton, said that even Mr. Clinton who in 1976 largely by condemning the moral and political standards of the Nixon and drew close to him.

Said there had been hitle discussion in Russia on the basis of who were wary of association with the top White House official said that the president "had everything to the president "had everything to magnanimously and assuming a proper presidential dignity."

The CASH MACHINE

Instant or in the basis of the country of association with a Republican who had sulfied the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and after Mr. Nixon's death, he said on the country of association with a Republican who had sulfied the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and after Mr. Nixon's death, he said on the country of association with a Republican who had sulfied the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and after Mr. Nixon's death, he said on the country of association with a Republican who had sulfied the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and after Mr. Nixon's death, he said on the climation in Russia on the country of association with a Republican who had sulfied the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and after Mr. Nixon's death, he said on the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and after Mr. Nixon's death, he said on the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and after Mr. Nixon's death, he said on the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and the time that he had never read any thing as good on the subject, and the time that he had never read any thi Nixon and drew close to him.

Mr. Nixon not only attended Mr. Nixon not only attended Mr. Johnson's funeral at a Washington church, but also went to the Capitol to view the body lying in state.

Although several Clinton aids: White House a letter analyzing the ter chance with Mr. Clinton than said there had been little discussion in Russia on the basis of with his Republican predecessors,

In the present case, there was a telling precedent. When former most of them presumably unfriendly to the present incumbent of the present incumbent of the land of the present incumbent of the land president. He had been re-elected, after a divisive campaign against Senator George McGovern, only two months before.

Opposition.

More than anything else, however, it was Russia — long a preoccupation of Mr. Nixon, now one of television, "I was incredibly impressed with the energy and rigor he brought to analyzing this issue."

As is so often the case in politics, each of the men had something the other one wanted: Mr. Clinton, the foreign-policy neophyte, gained credibility through his association with Mr. Nixon, the cider statesman, and he mentioned it often. Mr. Nixon, determined to do all he could to edge closer to the center of

Instant printing T-shirts, coffeemugs, posters and much more. - C

By Clyde Haberman

New York Times Service

ian negotiators wrestled in Cairo with their still-unfinished peace agreement, influential political figures on both sides Monday challenged the legitimacy of the negotiations and said they would not be bound by the results.

Cairo talks were led by Haidar Abdel-Shafi, who headed the Palestinian delegation during formal peace negotiations in Washington.

On the Israeli side, the opposition leader, Benjamin Netanyahu of the Likud party, reaffirmed that he considered peace understandings to have already been "vitiated" by the Palestine Liberation Organization. And so, he said, he does not feel required to honor commitments made by the present Labor-led government should he become prime minister, which he confidently estimated would

It was not the first time that Mr. Netanvahu had said he was not bound by existing peace agreements, and it seemed a safe bet that his crincism would once again be ignored by Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin.

Perhaps more significant were the objections raised by Mr. Abdel-Shafi, a PLO founder, and 22 other prominent Palestinians from the West Bank and Gaza Strip. They happen within two years.

On the Palestinian side, attacks on the

JERUSALEM - As Israeli and Palestin-cy" and therefore to be not binding on Pales- Israelis - and to end hostile statements

Bipartisan Challenges to Mideast Talks

It would "oot prevent the continued struggle of our people against the illegal actions of the Israeli occupier," they said.

The importance of their statement is not in its immediate impact. There seems almost no chance that, because of it, the PLO will stop dealing with Israel, especially with the two sides claiming to be near their goal of implementing plans for Palestinian self-rule in and an Israeli troop withdrawal from - Gaza and the West Bank town of Jericho.

But the perition signers are not Islamic radicals and other knee-jerk opponents of talks with Israel, who could be expected to reject any agreement outright. They include men like Mamdouh Aker and Ghassan Khanh, who were delegates or senior advisers to the Washington talks.

If they refuse to recognize the validity of an accord, the PLO chairman, Yasser Arafat, is likely to find it more difficult than ever to persuade Palestinians that he has struck a good deal in their behalf.

As it is, his mainstream Fatah faction of the PLO has tried to ease the shift from Israeli to Palestinian control by agreeing for the next month to suspend hostilities in Gaza with its main rival there, the militant Islamic group known as Hamas. The two camps promised last Friday to stop killing Palestinians accused of collaborating with Israel — a pledge of conviolence that does not extend to about each other.

Within a month, the PLO hopes to he running Gaza, and it would like as smooth a transition as possible. Its deal with Hamas is thus intended to keep things calm for the next few weeks, and does not represent a change in idenlogy or long-range strategy for either

The Palestinian disenchantment with the Cairo talks did not come as a complete surprise. Like Mr. Abdel-Shafi, most of those who signed the petition had already been critical of Mr. Arafat, questioning his commitment to democracy under Palesonian selfrule, challenging his administrative skills and openly criticizing him for, in their view, being a bad negotiator by conceding too much to

To a degree, their protests are mirror images of attacks by Mr. Netanyahu and other Israeli rightist leaders, who accuse Mr. Rabin of giving in too often to the PLO and compromising Israeli security in the process.

According to Mr. Abdel-Shafi, the agreement being hammered out in Cairo would continue Israel's settlement activity, its land appropriation, its "annexacon and Judaization" of Jerusalem, and its "economic hegemony" over Palestinians in the territory.

Mr. Khatib, a leader of the People's Party. which used to be the Palestinian Communist Party, said: "This agreement makes the Palestinian authority something like an agent of the real authority, which is the tsraeli occupa-

VOTE: Black Dream

Continued from Page 1 speaking on President Frederik W. de Klerk

When the African National Congress was founded in 1912, reasonableness and Gandhi-style protest were the vogue. By 1944, when three young rebels — Nelson Mandela, Oliver Tambo and Walter Sisulu — founded the ANC Youth League, a generation was running out of patience.

At the time, and for a long time afterward, the only outcome most of the young rebels imagined was revolution - and they had to admit that it seemed a long way off.
The campaign for black rights was measured out in massacres of blacks, each of which made the prospect of reconciliation seem ever more remote.

In 1960, there was Sharpeville. Anti-apartheid protesters gathered to challenge the humiliating pass laws that prescribed where they could go. The police, without hesitation, fired and kept firing until 69 bad died.

The government banned every organization that seemed to pose a threat to order, and soon afterward arrested Mr. Mandela. The ANC responded by endorsing "armed struggle.

der age 18.
"After that, we wanted oothing

"If de Klerk hadn't come along, it's quite likely we would still be doing mass action," Mr. Morobe given to Socialists. They went more than 50 years without getting a sin-part of the governing coalition last summer, and it is clear they relished the six cabinet posts they were given in Mr. Hosokawa's cab-

But when word started to spread

"This is outrageous!" stormed errived with a foreign delegation visiting Mr. Mandela in jail. The regular talks, which began secretly president in 1989, the government had begun to relax many of the more degrading aspects of apart-

His predecessor, P.W. Botha, had abandoned the long-term mas-ter plan of spinning off blacks into separate homelands, and had ac-cepted the principle of "power sharing" with blacks. But the re-

The 1989 election was a genera-

To Mr. de Klerk it seemed obvious that whatever the intentions, racial division was oot working.

"There was no other alternative for South Africa," Mr. de Klerk said recently. "We were on the road to total confrontation, which would have annihilated everything which has been huilt up in this

From his cell in Pollsmoor Prison, outside Cape Town, Mr. Mandela took the measure of the white rulers and their predicament and decided the time was ripe for com-forms stalled.

country.

tional watershed.

complete the deal.

the oext government.

formally recognizing that hlacks could not govern without the cooperation of the white civil service and security forces. These powers had to be pacified, and that meant could not, in the end, have a veto in Uoder the final deal, any party winning 5 percent of the popular vote will be entitled to a cabinet seat, and the largest opposition party will get one of the two vice

Mandela has promised he will do

But in the end, the majority party will usually be able to have its way. And if the ANC wins a two-thirds majority, which polls show may be within reach, it will also be able to rewrite the constitution without making major compro-

by give and take.

BANK: A Loss of Face

Continued from Page 1 Mr. Schneider in the months leading up to his disappearance about his conflicts with contractors, his personal wealth and the sum of his debt to German banks.

But the bank, Mr. Schneider's largest single creditor with outstanding loans of 1.2 billion Deutsche marks ($711 million). "had no reason to believe he was in trouble" until it received written notice of his disappearance on April 7, Mr.

"We had no clue," he said, adding that it would take at least another month before the bank figured out exactly what went wrong. Mr. Schneider left Dentsche Bank and more than 40 other financial institutions with about 5 billion DM in debt when he fled the country with his wife, Claudia. amid signs that their private empire was beginning to crumble. He was reportedly planning his exit well before Easter when he asked the bank for an appointment to discuss "the future of his group" and social security for his family.
"It's the most normal thing in the Supporters greeting the ANC leader, Nelson Mandela, as he arrived world when a customer calls his at a Johannesburg hospital Monday to visit bombing victims. banker to request a tour d'horizon." said Ulrich Weiss, the board member with whom Mr. Schneider re-Over the years of hargaining, it took one great concession on each side, one leap of understanding, to quested to meet. Mr. Weiss had only met Mr. Schneider once, six On Mr. Mandela's side, it was

In retrospect, Mr. Weiss said Mr. Schneider "must have known what he was going to do when be called."

Io the weeks hefore Mr. Schneider called Mr. Weiss, Deutsche Bank and other German creditors had repeatedly demanded clar-ifications of the developer's assets and liabilities.

giving them a share of the power.
On Mr. de Klerk's side, the breakthrough was accepting that he In a letter dated the day of his disappearance to Mr. Weiss, whom he was supposed to bave met Monday evening, Mr. Schneider said the banks' demands intruded on his privacy.

"We had a lot of questions, some presidential posts. The president is of which may never be answered," obliged to seek consensus, and Mr. said Mr. Kopper, speculating that Mr. Schneider "must have begun to get the feeling that something was in the works" as a result of the uncustomary attention.

Georg Krupp, the Deutsche Bank board member ultimately responsible for all real estate loans, said he found it "hard to imagine Mr. Schneider did all of the deceiving himself."

Over the years of negotiation, Mr. Kopper said the bank would most South Africans seem to have grown accustomed to government an independent appraiser whom it an independent appraiser whom it had hired had assisted Mr. People have matured a lot over Schneider in deceiving the bank. that period," said Andrew Ma-pheto, a former guerrilla who spent statements of rental income that nine years in prison and now writes the bank now says were faked. for a weekly business magazine. "We were led to believe that he was an honorable person," Mr. ple — they may not prefer it ideal-ly, but they prefer it to mayhem and violence." Kooper said of Mr. Schneider. "Now we know better. Such is life." Mr. Kopper said the bank was "aware of its responsibility" in the Schneider case. "The reputation of the banking industry and of Germany as a financial location is also

"We will do everything possible GLOUCESTER, England — charged with killing Miss Gough to re-establish the reputation of the bank," Mr. Kopper said, addir that there would be "no taboo" eight other women, including the when it came to assigning responsibility for the fiasco. He also said that three projects that were already under way would be completed as planned and that jects would be paid in full for their side of the street, and men were confined to the other.

PARADE: Display of Weapons Shows Why Afghans Can Keep Fighting

On a street away from the parade, a busiond of refugees from Kabul, the bombed-out capital, their possessions fled to the roof and packed in boxes that filled most of the bus, hailed a visitor with a Liberation Day message. America-Stinger. Iraq-eruise. Brezhnev-rat-tat-tat-tat," one said, lifting his hands into machine-gun position to enact how Afghans had repelled their Soviet Liberation Day is celebrated bere oo April 18, the day in 1992 that Herat declared the country's freedom from the communist government of the former president, Najibullah, who had been installed by the Soviets in 1986. The mujahidin forced the Soviet troops to our hope."

Continued from Page 1

ment that he was realigning the party structure within the governing coalition.

The Socialists were the most liberal of the parties in the coalition.

and they had frequent squabbles with various centrist parties in the multifaceted group. Still, the Socialists were the largest single party in the coalition, a status they cher-

Mitterrand in Central Asia

PARIS - President François

Mitterrand of France left Monday

menistan in what a spokesman said was an effort to forge new econom-ie ries with the two Central Asian for a tour of Uzbekistan and Turkvears later.

Since then, power-hungry mujahidin groups have been gripped hy age-old ethnic, religious, political and tribal rivalries that have plunged Afghanistan into a deadly civil war, with most of the fighting centered around Kabul. Herat, a dusty desert city of 500,000 people about 120 kilometers from Iran, has seen virtually no fighting since Geoeral Najihullah was over-

"You were the people who broke the Soviet Union and communism," Ismail Khan, 48, told the gathering from a reviewing stand. "Now again you are fighting a smaller enemy. Be vigilant, because they are killing our hrothers and sisters in Kabul."

move: They merged four centrist parties into one new party, called Reformation. It has more members of parliament than the Socialist Party; thus it has taken over the status of higgest coalition party.

The realignment was somewhat

Hata's easygoing manner and his hard-earned reputation as a conciliator in Tokyo's seemingly endless

One possibility is that he had not expected a battle over the oew par-ty alignment within the coalition;

he simply misjudged how angrily

Another view is that he was de-elected head of government?

the Socialists would respond.

mysterious, particularly given Mr. move, the result was political stalepolitical wars. Why would be pick still holds in this tobacco-loving this fight on the very day he was country — but no resolution was liberately trying to provoke a fight. ence early Tuesday. "In these cir-

WHAT THEY'RE READING

withdraw in 1989 and finally top-pled General Najihullah three derous cries of "God is great!"

On a hillock just outside the city. men and women observed Liberation Day by praying at the Tomb of the Unknown Martyrs, a mass grave for an estimated 3,000 people who were executed by the local communist government in late 1978, before the Soviet invasion. The grave was uncovered by townspeople on Liberation Day two years ago and is marked by a series of large glass boxes covering ditches that were dug to reveal a chitter of skulls, cloth and bones.

Back at the parade, rows of wounded mujahidin, many missing arms and legs, hohhled down the street. Ann-aircraft guns mounted in a fleet of Toyota pickup trucks and anti-tank vehicles rumhled by. "Don't let these enemies destroy Not all of the equipment was Sovi-et-made. Six soldiers marched past

JAPAN: New Prime Minister Is Elected but Loses Majority as Socialists Pull Out of Coalition

tax reform and Japan's policy to-ward North Korea. It may be that Socialists now, rather than wait until it is time to vote on legislation.

mate. In the early hours of Tuesday, poblicians shuttled between smoke-filled rooms — a cliche that apparent. The one thing that came through loud and clear was the Socialists' sense of betrayal by the

the Socialist chairman, Tomiichi

Murayama, in a bitter press confer-

"A trust has been betrayed," said

new prime minister.

Whatever the reason for the

up over important issues such as ernment."

Stinger missiles, about a thousand of which were given to the mujahidin in the final years of the war against the Soviets. The Central intelligence Agency has allocated $65 million to buy back the missiles, fearing that they will fall into the hands of terrorists, but it has oot carrying U.S.-built, shoulder-fired been able to repurchase many. While the crowd cheered enthusiastically, it was also sobered by the cootinued strife in Kahul, where an estimated 1,500 people have been killed since intense lighting broke out anew in January.

"I think it's good to have these weapons for defense, but not to use against innocent people," said Fazal Ahmed, a radio officer with Ismail Rhan's militia. "We should give the weapons to a national army and choose a government through an election of the people."

After the previous coalition leader. Morihiro Hosokawa, an-

Mr. Hata and his allies decided to nounced his resignation as prime gle cabinet seat until they became agreed to work with the other coalition parties to elect Mr. Hata as the new chief of state and to forge a new policy agreement for the coalifudge their disagreements on tax

The policy talks lasted nearly among members of parliament that two weeks, and were difficult. In the moderate coalinon parties had policy and on Japan's stance on the North Korean nuclear problem.

Wataru Kubo, the Socialists' chief strategist. "What happened to trust unanimously for Mr. Hata on ed with other coalition members Monday when the members of the until today, and then they suddenly Diet elected him prime Minister. make this move on the same day we The oext step was supposed to be were supposed to form a cabinet."

Still, the Socialists voted almost and obligacioo? We have cooperat-

the end, coalinon leaders had to use merged into the new Kero deliberately ambiguous language to party, the Socialists exploded.

But Mooday, just hours after be It seems clear that the coalition cumstances, we don't have enough the appointment of Mr. Hata's cab-was elected prime minister. Mr. parties have major disputes coming trust to be part of a coalition govinet. According to press reports, 6 that and his allies made a surprise up over important issues such as ernment."

hash out their differences with the minister on April 8, the Socialists

Then in 1976 came Soweto. A student protest against mandatory instruction in Afrikaans, the language of the rulers, spread widely. In crushing it, the government killed 575 people over the ensuing eight months, a fourth of them un-but to get out of the country and get military training," said Murphy Morobe, a student leader who went to prison for his part in the uprisin 1984, it was Vaal Triangle.

Angered by rent increases and a oew constitution that gave Indian and mixed-race voters — but not hlacks - token places in Parliament, residents of townships south of Johannesburg started an insurrection that spread across the country. The police responded brutally. The spiral of conflict seemed re-

By the time Mr. de Klerk became

In May 1986, Mr. Botha's minister of justice, Hendrik J. Coetsee.

> imprisoned black leader proposed in July.

On Dec. 20, 1991, nearly two years after Mr. de Klerk released Mr. Mandela and removed the logal ban on the black opposition, the government sat down with an array of its worst enemies and began formal talks on how to move to de-

Wife Is Accused In U.K. Killing

The Associated Press

The police said Monday that they have charged Rosemary West, the wife of an alleged serial killer, with participating in the murder of one Detective Superintendent John Bennett said Mrs. West was charged Sunday with the murder of Linda Gough. Her husband. Fred-nearby.

erick West, a builder, has been nd pine other women Miss Gough's body and those of "My assumption is that most peo-

Wests' 16-year-old daughter, Heather, were found buried under the family's house in Gloucester, 75 miles (120 kilometers) north of London. The bones of Mr. West's contractors involved on the profirst wife were found in a cornlield

BOOKS

FOR OUR BELOVED COUNTRY: American War Diaries from the Revolution to the Persian Gulf

Edited by Speer Morgan and Greg Michalson. 498 pages. $27.50. Atlantic Monthly Press.

Reviewed by Katherine Knorr

T N the 218 years since the Decla-I ration of Independence, America has been involved in about 10 wars (it depends which you count), with a death toll over a million. American boys marched, sailed and flew off to fight for "our beloved country," in the words of George Sargent, an 18-year-old who fought the "secesh" during that most murderous of all American wars, the one between the

With the 50th anniversary of D-Day approaching, there is a small industry in memoirs of the invasion of Normandy. Here are other voices, other wars.

"I had an ample opportunity to see the devastation caused (in Danbury] by the British," Joseph Plumh Martin wrote of the campaign of 1771, when he was a 16vear-old recruit to the revolution-

Jay Parini, author of "John Steinbeck, a Biography," is reading "The Enigma of Arrival" by V. S. Naipaul.
"He is the greatest living master of English prose. The novel, set in a small rural community in southern England, evokes the texture of wildlife and rhythm of people's

(Miranda Haines, IHT)

men, patriots quite free of jingoism

funny, in the face of horror.

- unpretentious, generous, often

"He fell dead into the trench."

Sargent wrote, "I put my hand on his forehead and found his skull

ary army. "The town had been laid Amy Wingreen, a Chicago nurse in ashes, a oumber of the inhabitexpert in yellow fever who tended ants murdered and cast into their to soldiers in Cuba in 1898; Charles burning houses, because they pre-Ponton, a Kalamazoo teacher who sumed to defend their persons and went to France as an ambulance property, or to be avenged on a driver, Everett Fulton, a navy pilot cruel, vindictive invading enemy, I from Texas who flew in the Pacific; saw the inhabitants, after the fire Joseph Abodeely, an Arizonan who was out, endeavoring to find the served during the Tet Offensive; burnt booes of their relatives and Duane Lee Smith, a Missouriamongst the rubbish of their de- an who went to the Gulf. molished houses." "Great men get great praise; lit-tle men, nothing," Martin wrote. These are the voices of the little Sargent and Martin are among seven voices in "For Our Beloved Country," a fascinating collection carefully edited by Speer Morgan and Greg Michalson, who are editor and managing editor of The Missouri Review.

The other voices are those of blood flowing from his cose and horizon. We're directly approachmouth, but not a particle of skin was hroken. I never saw an instance like this among all the men I saw killed during the whole war."

either side of me and the wind in whatever direction was bound to bring to me the scent of these decaying bodies," wrote Ponton on Sept. 2, 1918, near Fontenay in France. The people here are the lucky ones: They lived. Their diaries record the waiting, the boredom, the rain, the mud, the anxious anticipanon that is so much a part of a soldier's life. In the Revolutionary War, that waiting could take trees of the fields and forests affordmonths, with little to eat, oothing to do and worse to look torward to. In Vietnam, Abodeely wrote on April 26, 1968: "I'm sitting by some log bunkers my men made overlooking the valley far below. It's almost eerie as the fog rolls in through the torest and the skeleton trees with the limbs and leaves blown off from bangalore torpedoes." A lot of the time, he lay in a to give us something to make the tent listening to the terrible silence of the Vietcong. If death is always the downside guess, be you as much of a Yankee risk, the lives of soldiers have other. as you will I will tell you; it gave wise gotten immeasurably better, each and every man half a gill of rice In the Gulf War, a National Guard and a tablespoon of vinegar!" soldier came back with the follow-was shattered all in pieces and the ing story: "We see a tent on the ing it, wondering why the lieutenaot iso't being more eare-ful... We finally roll up near the place and he tells us that we

"It was a lonesome dark night to have an hour to make telephone spend there ou a bardefield with calls. We walk into this big tent, and it's all set up with cubicles and telephones that accept credit cards. I'm thinking this is weird. Finally, what the hey, I get out my plastic and call my mom and dad back in Arkansas."

In the end, what is surprising in these memoirs is the bumor. Listen to Joseph Plumh Martin, born in 1760 and dead all these t44 years. We had nothing to eat for two or three days previous, except what the ed us. But we must now have what Coogress said, a sumptuous Thanksgiving to close the year [1777] of high living we had now oearly seen brought to a close. Well to add something extraordinary to our present stock of provisions, our country, ever mindful of its suffer-ing army, opened her sympathizing heart so wide, upon this occasion, as world stare. And what do you think it was, reader? Guess. You cannot

International Herald Tribune

By Robert Byrne

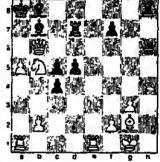

GARRY KASPAROV faced Vassily Ivanchuk in Round 4 in the Linares International Tour-

In the Semi-Slav defense, signaled by 4...e6, the aggressive derelopment with 5 Bg5 is known as the Anti-Meran Gambit because it bypasses the Meran systems that can arise from 5 e3 and because it usually leads to sharp sacrifices. The pawn capture, 5...de commits both players to a wild roller-coaster ride. After 6 e4 b5, Black secures his queenside gain and dares White to attack on the other wing with 7 e5 h6 8 Bh4 g5 9 Ng5 hg t0 Bg5 Nbd7 tt ef.

The capture with 13...Nf6!?, in place of 13...Ne5 or 13...Bb6, was tried for the first time last year.

Taking the king out of the center with 16...O-O-O is oormal in the Anti-Meran, Black is betting that his coming mating attack in the h file will outweigh the opposi tack on his king. After 17 Nb5 ed 18 Na7 Kb8 t9 Nb5, White stays a pawn ahead since it would be foolhardy for Ivanchuk to open a file in front of his owo king with 19...Qb2?! 20 Rb1.

Ivanchuk struck the first blow

Qh4, and so on. Here, 24 Qe5 Ka8 25 Rfe1 Rdg8 compels White to draw by perpetual check with 26 Ne7 Ka7 27 Nb5 Ka8 and so on, In this latter hypothetical line, White cannot try to win by 26 Kft be-cause of 26 Rg2! 27 Kg2 Qh3 28 Kgl Qhl mate.

29_Oc6 because 30 Re7!, threatening 31 Rc7!, Rd7 (31_Rc8 32 Rb7 Oh7 33 Bd5! Qd5 34 Qa6 forces mate) 3t Qc6! Bc6 32 Rd7 Bd7 33 Bd5 forces mate.

So he tried 29...Rd7, but then Kasparov smashed through with 30 Res!, threatening 31 Qa7 mate. lvanchuk tried 30...Qh2 31 Kf1, yet he could not defend by 31_Res. because of the annihilating 32 a6! Thus, he desperately gave up his queen with 31...Qg2 32 kg2 d4. Kasparov in turn gave up his own with 33 Qh7! Rh7 to force an easy victory with 34 Rhs Rb5 35 a6! Ka7 36 Rf8! Rb2 37 Rf7 Ka8 38 a7 c3 39 Rf8! There was nothing to do about 40 ab/Q mate and Ivanchuk &

3		SLAVI	EFENSE
í	White Kasp'rev	Black Tvanchuk	White Kasp'rov	Black Ivanchuk
3	1 d4 2 c4 3 Nc3 4 Nf2 5 Bg5 6 c4	NE	20 a4	Qhe . Blo Bb4
,	6 c4 7 e5 8 Bh4 9 Ng5 10 Bg5 11 e7 12 g3 13 d5	C 45 6 4 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15 15	21 M 22 Oct 1 23 Oct 2 24 Oct 7 25 Oct 7 25 Oct 7 26 Oct 8 29 as 30 Kr 1 32 Kr 2 33 Res 34 Kr 1 32 Oct 7 34 Rbs	Be7 Ka8 Kb8 Rd6 Bb6 Rd7 Oh1 Cg2 Cd Rb7 Rb6
	15 Big 16 O-O 17 Nb5 18 Na7	Bb7 c5 Nf6 Bb6 OT6 O-O-O ed Kb8	35 mg 36 Rts 37 Rt7	Rb7 Rb6 Ka7 Rb2 Ka8
_	r shā	Bg7	38 m7 39 R/B	CJ Resigna

CALLING ONE FOREIGN COUNTRY FROM ANOTHER IS H THESE SIMPLE ACCESS

aking Sprint operator. You don't even have to be a Sprint. customer. A s. It can make foreign countries seem a little less foreign:

Azzericza Samoz	633-1000	Chile	00+0317	△Hong Kong	011	O Macan	1800-121	+ Poland	0010-120-0115
O Antigua	줘)	√ + China	108-17	+ / Hungary	00+800-01-877		$100-006	+ Portugal	05017-1-877
Argentina	(MI-KXI-777-1)13	Colombia English	988-13-5910	+ Jack	000-137	1	45-400-477-4000	- Puerto Rico	1-800-877-8000
Australia	008-551-110	Colombia-Spanish	900-13-01 pi	ludonesia	00-891-15	+ Monaco	19+0087	+ΩRomania	01-800-0877
Australia	10014-881-877	+Civila Rica	163	+ trekand	1-800-55-2001		06+022-9179	+ΩRmmin	8-095-155-6133
+ Austria	022-903-014	+D Cypros	(M1-A11-1)	+kraei	177-103-2727	+Netherlands Antilles	1001-8001-745-1111	+ Russia (Moscow)	155-6133
Bahamas	1-900-389-2111	+ Czech Republic	9042-087-187	+ Italy	172-1877	New Zealand	000-444	+Saipan	235-0333
△Barbados	1-800-877-9000		8001-6877	A Japan	(10.74-13)		02-168	+Ω Timing and Rota	1-235-0333
+ Belgions	078-01-0014	▲Dominican Republic	1-809-751-7877	+ Japan	(K)66◆55-877	O Named Wanted	16t	+ San Mazino	172-1877
Belia: (Hotel)	3.56	Feunky	17t	Kenya	(RXX)-12	+ Norway	050-12-877	Saudi Arabia	MXH5
Befor its I per phone	. 4	+ F3 Salvador	[4]	♦ ♦ Korea	009-26	Parionica	115	+ Singapore	N(WX)-177-177
Bermuda	1-NX1-621-0x77	+ Finland	9000-1-028-1	2 Korex	550-21/55		(10%-12-810)	1 + South Africa	0-800-99-0001
Belivia	$$$$(Kkg)	+France	1949087	‡Korea	SSO-FONE	Peru	146	Spain	4()(14)-44-()())]
Brazil	(XX)-X))h	+ • Germany	9130-DUE	+Korea	0039-13	Philippines	105-01	△St. Locis	87
△British Virgin Isl.	1-800-877-8000		008-001-11t	Kewait	800-777	[ETF] stations oan		+ Sweden	030-799-0tt
Cambodia (Planon Peni	H 80-01-01	+ Gentenala	t95	+ Liechtenstein	55-9777		102-61t	+Switzerland	155-9777
· Carsholia (han ha	. 22110		001500-1212001	√1.ithenria	8 ♦ 197	[PhilCens]		O Taiwan	0080-11-0877

Philippines (Patr) 105-16 ribers call the Spriit Access Number of the country you're in, or 1-800-877-4646 while in the U.S. Bold denote I takes apply. What for sucond tone. I Public phones may require com or card. I Available at most phone Certain restrictions apply where country to country calling is a reliable. Listing subject to change Fox current numbers, customer sorrice or additional na Certain restrictions approximately calling aspects of calling to classify of the control design and the control of the control

0800-0115

مكنامنالثمل

Thailand

CHESS

> KASPAROV/WHITE Position after 29 . . . Rd7

Black draw by perpetual check with 23. Qh4 24 f3 Qh2 25 Kf2

Kasparov defiantly pressed his own attack with 23 Qa5 Be7 24 Qc7 Kas, and after repeating the posi-tion to gain time on his clock, be kepl at it with 27 Rfel. On 27. Bd6, he set up a bind on the with 22...Bh4!, the point being that hlack king with 28 Qb6 Bb8 29 a5! grabbing the bishop with 23 gh lets Ivanchuk could not defend by

O Trinidad & Tobago 23 00900-1-4577 + United Arab Emirates 800-131 United Kingdom - 0500-890-877 Limited Kingdom are 0300-890-377 △United Kingdom 0500-800-800 -151 1-300-877-3000 ~U.S. Virgin Islands 1-800-877-8000 איזויינון (יייי (VXIA)? + Vatican City 177-1877 Venezuela-English 800-1111-0 Venezuela-Spanish 800-1111-1

Countdown Starts In South Africa

A Half-Million Supervisors Gather to Monitor Elections

JOHANNESBURG — As the candidates in South Africa's first free elections left the campaign trail, they were replaced by a legion of perhaps a half-million people who in a gargantuan exercise be-ginning Tuesday will organize, po-lice and validate what may be the world's most closely monitored transition of power. By the end of the week journalists plugged into a suburban press center outfitted with all the big-screen electronics of the Starship Enterprise will watch the faxed returns arrive from counting stations where hundreds of bank tellers have been enlisted to tally more than 40 million ballots by hand.

"We are not running an Ameri-can election," said Johann Kriegler, the South African judge presiding over the electoral commission. "We are not running a Danish election. We are not even running a southern European election. We are running an African election, for Africans, by Afri-

The ballots, with color portraits of each party leader, were printed in England, and there is an international east of observers, advisers and spotlight hogs. But otherwise it is South Africa's pride that almost everything about this feat is a local

A South African company

ing booths of cunning design in three weeks. South African police officers and soldiers, unassisted by blue-belimeted peacekeepers from the United Nations, are to keep order during the three days of vot-

Flectoral officials estimate that more than 22 million South Africans are eligible to vote, about 17 million of them blacks who have never had the right. The exact number is uncertain because there is no voter roll, no registration.

Voting has been made as accessi-ble as possible: Anyone 18 years or older who shows up at any polling place with an acceptable identity

The electoral commission has widely distributed one-time-only identity cards to South Africans with a birth certificate, marriage certificate or other credible proof of residence.

The issuing of identification cards was hampered in some areas by violence, in others by the difficulty of reading fingerprints from rural blacks who had labored so hard they had literally worn their The balloting has also been thrown open to South Africans and 10 former South Africans living broad, including an estimated 130,000 in the United States.

A South African youngster watching on Monday while her mother was fingerprinted as she registered in a township near Johannesburg.

Since there is no list of voters. poll officials will prevent repeat voting by marking documents and fingertips with invisible ink that shows up under ultraviolet light.

In an announcement that combined the tactics of the old South Africa with the intentions of the new, the police told reporters that they would detain anyone suspected of planning to disrupt the elec-

On Tuesday, prisoners, the ill week, he stared ahead numbly, speaking in clipped sentences.

"My family is all dead," Augustine said, "I saw men with machetes hit my mother on the head, I hid in the forest, but they found me there.

They killed my friends and cut my hands. There was no food, but even if there had been, I could not have

Rwanda fell into anarchy after its president. Juvénal Habyari-mana, a Hutu, was killed in a suspicious plane crash near the capital, Kigali, on April 6 along with President Cyprien Ntaryamira of Burundi. The crash reignited the centuries-old hatred between the majority Huta ethnic group, which used my hands to eat."

and disabled, and pregnant women will be the first to vote, followed on Wednesday and Thursday by the long-awaited universal suffrage.

Nelson Mandela, the presidentin-waiting, is expected to cast the first vote of his 75 years Wednesday in a black township in Kwa-Zulu, the Zulu homeland, which is the stronghold of his bitterest black rival, Chief Mangosuthu Buthelezi.

Each voter casis two ballots, one for a National Assembly and one polls, and the election commission for a provincial legislature. Voters has warned that any reporter can dates, and parties fill the seats they win from a list of names submitted in advance Monitors from all parties are entitled to watch the voting and then to ride with the armed guards who will escort sealed ballot boxes to counting centers.

As part of a campaign to per-suade voters that their choice is select parties, not specific candi- be arrested for questioning a voter leaving a polling station.

The electoral commission is 10

nounce results from counting statioos as they arrive, which means a preliminary outcome may be known Friday. The commission bas up to days to announce a final result and pronounce the outcome free and fair, but Mr. Kriegler has predicted the outcome would be announced in about two days.

China's Space Plans _ Set Back by Blast Destroying Satellite

BELJING — A major explosion at China's space launching center this month destroyed a $75 million satellite and dealt a new blow to the country's space program, industry analysis said Monday.

A spokesman for China Aerospace Industry Corp., successor to the former Ministry of Space, said the April 2 blast killed at least one person, injured more than 20 and destroyed a laboratory along with the advanced weather satellite at China's Xichang launch center in the western province of Sichuan.

Although the satellite was Chinese, the incident was a setback to China's attempt to become a low-cost launcher of satellites in the world market. Western industry

The spokesman said Chioa's launch schedule for the rest of the vear would be affected, but be did not give details.

China, which is extremely sensitive about failures in its space program, hinted at the incident last week when it officially announced it had "readjusted" its plan for the launching of the first "Fengyun 2" stationary meteorological satellite because of an "accidental event." The satellite was meant to be launched by a Long March 3 carrier rocket from the Xichang launch-were continuing and that the re-BILL KELLER sults would be made public.

The spokesman said investigations into the cause of the blast to launch five domestic and foreign satellites this year.

The newspaper Workers' Daily said last month that China planned

Beijing's launch industry first won international attention with the April 1990 launching of the ASIASAT satellite owned by Hong Kong-based Asia Satellite Telecommunications Co.

China's rockets are cheap com-pared with those offered by the number of setbacks bave cast doubt on the cut-price launching

In February, China used its lat-est-model Long March 3A rocket successfully for the first time, orbit. The launching before that failed, however, when a recoverable research satellite fell out of radio contact and was lost in space.

There have been other failures. including one embarrassing launching that was aborted live on television in 1992, but industry an-alysts said Chinese rockets were basically reliable.

fudustry sources said China charged foreign customers about $45 million for a Long March launching. U.S. empanies charge as much as $100 million, while Europe's Arianespace charges about $25 million, they said.

Beijing has ambitious plans for its space program, including the year 2000. (Reuters, AFP)

Vietnamese

Rwanda's Wounded Refugees Fleeing Survivors Were Hacked by Machetes

By Donatella Lorch New York Times Service

KAYANZA. Burundi - Their clothes are blood-soaked, and their wounds are earily similar. Pursued by fear, the 450 or so men, women and children in the makeshift hospital here made the same journey across the border from Rwanda. nursing deep gouges made by the machetes that struck their skulls, necks and bands.

They submit without a murmur of complaint to the painful scrubbing of their jagged wounds, then curl up on stretchers or on the rainsoaked lawns to sleep.

These are among the survivors who somehow escaped the massacres that have killed tens of thoutry's president was killed more than

BUJUMBURA, Burundi — Burundi authorities foiled a coup attempt by a small group of Tutsi paratroopers and arrested six or seven of the plotters, diplomats and military officials said bere Mon-

In Brussels, the Belgian radio

RTBF said the Burundi army had regained control of the situation in the former Belgian colony over-night and that the leaders of the abortive coup had been arrested.

officers and two or three other men were arrested and that four soldiers had managed to escape. The offi-cers were said to be from the Higher fustitute of military cadres and the capital of Bujumbura seemed now to be "quite normal."

A diplomat said the situation in

The coup attempt came amid lingering tension following the death in a plane crash of President Cy-prien Ntaryamira on April 6. This were being interrogated.

The officials here said that four most of them members of the minority Trusi ethnic group, told of being hunted down like animals as they hid in fields and forests, of watching friends and relatives hacked to death and of walking wounded for more than a week without food.

Most of the killing has been done by Hutus, whose ethnic group dominates the military, the militias and the armed gangs roaming the capital and the countryside.

Augustine Rugwizangoga said he was 15, but his small frame is that of a 10-year-old. Both of his hands are swathed in bandages, his wrists and his fingers having been hacked by macheies. Like many of Rwanda to Burundi, he lost his family in the fighting. Late last also killed in the crash. Both presidents were Hutus.

pears to be a methodical killing of Tutsis across the countryside. Burundi Says It Foiled Coup by Tutsi Officers triggered a bloodbath of ethnic fighting in Rwanda, whose presi-dent, Juvenal Habyarimana, was

■ Red Cross Pulling Back

The International Committee of Burundi's first Hutu president, Melchior Ndadaye, was killed dur-ing an failed coup Oct. 21 that touched off an ethnic conflict in which tens of thousands of people Shooting could be beard Monday on the northern outskirts of Bujumbura, but the fighting be-tween the Tutsi-dominated army and armed Hutu civilians, which bas been going on for several days, is unrelated to the coup attempt. The Burundi army high command said Sunday's coup attempt was mounted by a very small group which was immediately neutralized and failed to rally other soldiers to their plan."

Burundi, like its civil-war-stricken neighbor Rwanda, has a majority Hutu population and a Tutsi dominates the government of Rwanda, and the minority Tutsis. aimed at Tutsi and moderate Hutu officials in a Rwandan interim govcrument has widened into what sp-

> The safety of the Rwandan Tutsis oow in Burundi is far from guaranteed. Relief workers are concerned that hospitals and camps could easily be overrun by armed gangs. It has become increasingly difficult for relief workers to get to the Rwandan border, because the main road is blocked by fighting near Bujumbura.

the Red Cross, powerless in the face of spiraling massacres, said Monday that it had pulled its relief workers out of most of Rwanda, The Associated Press reported from Red Cross beadquarters in

A spokesman, René-Luc Thevoz, said that Red Cross staff members bad returned to the capital of Kigali from the southern town of Butare in despair over the uncontrolled

The decision means that there are virtually oo international aid workers left outside Kigali.
The charity Doctors Without

Borders pulled out of Butare on Saturday after 170 patients at its hospital were killed by the Presi-dential Guard, it now has only two aid workers left in Kigali.

SURRENDER SET IN STONE — Two Vietnamese working Monday at a military cemetery in front of a wall relief representing the surrender of the French general Christian de Castries and his staff at Dien Bien Phu on May 7, 1954. The cemetery at Dien Bien Plus is a focus of Vietnam's preparations to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the battle, which ended French rule of Indochina.

U.S. Teen Prays for Singapore Clemency

surokes of the cane for vandalism is and push-ups every day outside his praying for the success of his clem- cell."

for it," said the lawyer, Dominic ginning, it's hard to have too much to get his signature on a clemency ates" because Singapore's authori-Mr. Fay has lived with his moth-

Compiled by Our Staff From Disputches he is being treated well," said Mr. of his sentence along with the lash-SINGAPORE — An American Fay's mother, Randy Chan. "He will be deported after his teenager jailed and sentenced to six said he is doing 200 to 300 sit-ups ency appeal to Singapore's president, his lawyer said Monday.

"He prays every night, but he is a realist and I think be is prepared have happened since the very be-Mrs. Chan added that she "will hope."

She said her son was being se-Mr. Nagulendran said that Mi-chael P. Fay, 18, appeared well. The lawyer saw Mr. Fay last week for all Singaporeans and expairverely punished to "set an example petition to President Ong Teng Cheong.

Mrs. Chan, 46, of St. Louis, said she and her busband, Marco Chan. er and his stepfather bere since a business executive, planned to

ing. He will be deported after his incarceration ends June 21.

A court sentenced Mr. Fay last month to the flogging, four months in jail and a fine of $2,000 for spray-painting cars and other of-

Some lawyers not linked to the case said they doubted elemency would be granted because this had never happened before in a vandal-(Reuters, AP)

Anti-Asian Acts in U.S.

An Asian advocacy group said Monday that an Asian is attacked or an incident of anti-Asian van-dalism is reported in the United States at a rate of nearly one per leave Singapore after her son ends States at a rate of nearly one per "He looked very good and said the four-month jail term that is part day, with many similar incidents going unreported, Agence France-Presse reported from Washington. In their first annual report on anti-Asian hate crimes, the National Asian Pacific American Legal Consortium reported 335 instances in 1993 in which anti-Asian sentiment was expressed during a crime, or was suspected. At least seven of those crimes were homicides, including the September murder of an Asian store owner in Washington. The report said 92 percent of the total incidents occurred in New York City. "Community distrust of and dissatisfaction with police response and reporting practices continues to hinder unified efforts to comhat anti-Asian violence," the report

Are Urged: Come Back

HANOI - Vietnamese "boat people" in Asian camps should come home to start new lives, and Vietnam is ready to receive them, the United Nations High Commis-sioner for Refugees, Sadako Ogata, said here on Monday.

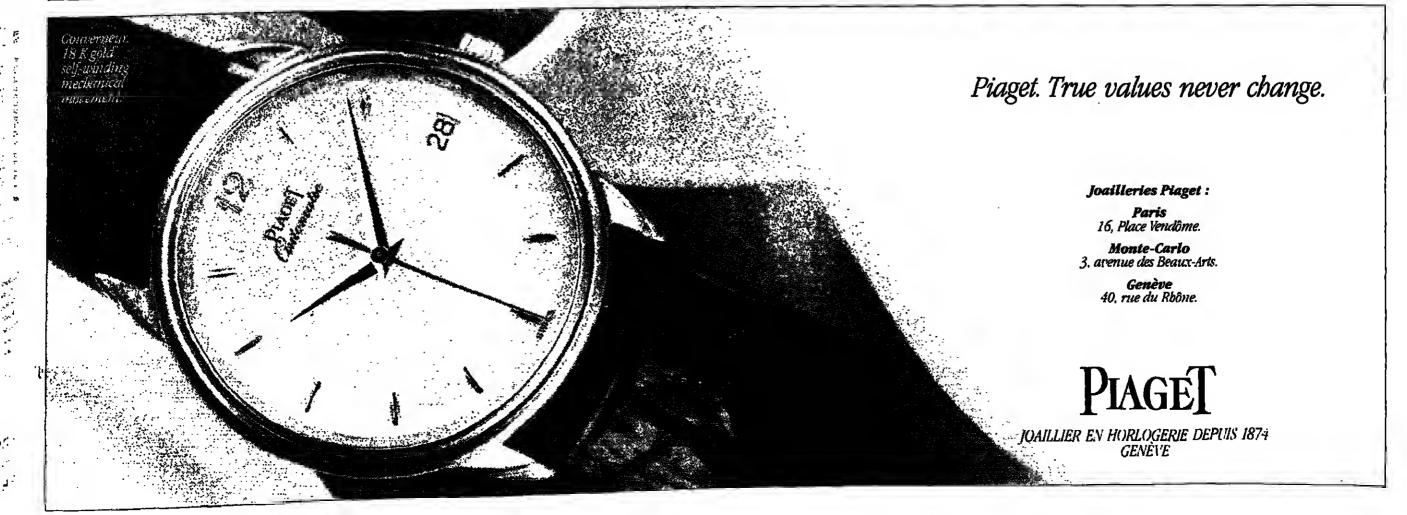

"If they have very little possibili-ty of being resettled in a third country, it is better that they start their lives back here," she said after touring a Viemamese government reception center where a planeload of 129 boat people from Hoog Kong had arrived earlier in the day.

Mrs. Ogata said she discussed with Prime Minister Vo Van Kiet of 1995 of the international program to fund repatriation of boat people. She said he told ber that he would do everything possi-ble to belp the 57,000 remaining refugees to return home and get them started on oew lives.

About 60,000 have enme back to Vietnam with grants and other belp since the international repatriation program started in 1989. Half of those remaining are in Hong Kong.

Most of the refugees took to sea to escape economic hardship in the 1980s, although some have strong political reasons for refusing to go nome. Most of those in Hong Kong are northerners, and most in Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines are from the south of

The Storm Over Algeria

It is right for Europe to look anxiously to the Russian east, and hopefully to the Nordic countries about to reinforce the European Union. But what is happening on the southern shore of the Mediterranean matters just as much. A brutal distortion of · Islam may be winning its war in Algeria. If il captures Algeria, much of North Africa could be in danger of going the same way.

There had been bopes that General Liamine Zeroual, who took over Algeria's government in January, could strike a deal with the more moderate part of the Islamic Salvation Front. It has not happened. The Islamists, having had an election victory stolen from them in 1992, cannot now ask for less than a new election. The army's hard-liners, fearing an even bigger Islamic vote this time, can hardly say yes.

So the savagery goes on. Two schoolgirls are shot for not wearing veils; a frightened newspaper decides to close down; France urges its nationals to get out; a Russian Embassy driver is murdered.

There may now be only two possible outcomes. One is victory for the Islamists, their moderates weaker in 1994 and their armed extremists stronger than they were two years ago. The other is an ex-Algeria, like ex-Yugoslavia, divided between an Islamist-run main part, a coastal enclave or two still controlled by the army, and maybe a breakaway state for the Berbers, who are Muslims but have kept their distance from the revolutionaries.

Either outcome would almost certainly have consequences elsewhere in North Africa. Next-door Tunisia. whose insecure government rigged an election last month, bas its own angry Islamic opposition. Libya's Colonel Moammar Gadhafi seems to be losing his grip. The rebellion in Egypt.

though not yet on Algeria's scale, is following much the same pattern: increasingly ferocious guerrilla war, a tilt to extremism, mounting xenophobia.

The whole region suffers from the same sociopolitical ailments: ill-run economies, a sky-high birth rate, too many unemployed young people. The Islamic protests made stronger by these things vary from country to country. But it is hard to believe that an exploding Algeria would not send shockwaves all along the Mediterranean coast.

If one, two or three of these countries go Islamist, Europe too will feel the impact. There will be more refugees seeking safety in Europe, more Europopulist demands for the refugees to be turned back. The vendettas of North Africa will be fought out inside Europe. And, for a time, the new regimes on the other side of the Mediterranean will seek to strengthen themselves by mobilizing both the ideological challenge of Islam and the earthier resentment built up by 200 years in which Arabs have lived under Europe's shadow. Here are the makings of a new sort of cold war.

In the long run, Europe will be all right. It has economic strength: Sooner or later, the southern side of the Mediterranean will once again see the need for peaceful economic links with the northern side. It has the advantage in most sorts of military power (though it may need to look to its anti-missile defenses). There is nothing to prevent a mature Islam and a calm Europe living in peace with each other.

But calm and maturity are not easy to come by in periods of upheaval. If the worst happens in Algeria, it will take time and skill to restore the conditions of a peaceful relationship. There are clouds to Europe's south. INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE.

Little Help for Rwanda

been taking place in Rwanda. People are pulled from cars and buses, ordered to show their identity papers and then killed on the spot if they belong to the wrong ethnic group, Thousands of bodies have already piled up, and the killing continues despite the presence of 1,700 United Nations peacekeepers. The wider horror is that the world has few ways of responding effectively when violence within a nation leads to massacres and the breakdown of civil order.

The UN Security Council threw in the bloodied towel when it decided unanimously last week to cut back the blue-helmeted force to 270 soldiers in Kigali, the Rwandan capital. However morally unsettling, the pullout fairly reflects the unwillingness of most UN members to recruit a force big enough to stop a genocidal conflict. Most troubling of all is the uncertain fate of thousands of Rwandans who sought the protection of UN peacekeepers.

The choices were few and cold. The Security Council originally posted 2,500 blue helmets in Rwanda to oversee a peace agreement. Then fighting erupted on April 6, when a plane carrying the presidents of Rwanda and Burundi mysteriously crashed. Both leaders were Hutus, the majority tribe in both countries, and the credible suspicion is that they were killed by Hutu hard-liners in Rwanda who oppose reconciliation with the Tutsi people.

Everywhere in Rwanda, the Tutsi are being targeted by Hntu extremists; as many as 5.000 sought sanctuary in the national stadium, another 5,000 are in a Kigali hospital and 300 are said to be in a hotel. All these Rwandans who sought UN help could now be slaughtered, capital. Dismayed U.S. officials take hope from reports that the stadium and hospital are under the control of rebel forces led by Tutsis. But this is meager solace, and human rights groups decry the abandonment of the innocent.

Yet what other choices really exist? The UN secretary-general, Butros Butros Gbali, commands no troops and can only recommend military measures. Twenty-odd countries - but not the United States - furnished the 2,500 troops in the original Rwanda force. Each nation can instantly recall its own contingent, and Belgium, Bangladesb and Ghana, all major contributors, have already done so. It is legally if not morally easy to justify pulling out since the unevenly trained UN force was meant to police a peace, not take sides in a civil war. Somalia provides ample warning against plunging open-endedly into a "humanitariao" mission.

Given these circumstances, U.S. diplomats argued in the end that keeping a UN presence, however reduced, was better than nothing. In the hard coin of reality, that may be so. But it is scant comfort to Rwandans who in good faith sought UN protection. The borrors in Kigali show the need for considering whether a mobile, quick-response force under UN acgis is needed to deal with such calamities. Absent such a force, the world has little choice but to stand aside and hope for the best.

-THE NEW YORK TIMES

Russia's New Gaullist Phase Will Sorely Test America

W ASHINGTON — Russia's second rev-olution has entered its Gaullist phase, a passage that will sorely test American political maturity. America's interests lie in helping Russia's politicians understand and work through this phase, not in letting it become a permanent feature of the global landscape.

Not much fun when confronted in Charles de Gaulle's France, Gaullism in Russian form will be even more troublesome for the United States. Paris was prickly. Moscow can be mortal. Russia's vast nuclear arsenal makes it much more than a maverick.

America has become the A-1 target for Russian politicians trying to mend a wounded national psyche and advance their careers. Like General de Gaulle and his followers, who were trying to expunge the bumiliation of defeat in World War II and France's colonial wars, these Russian politicians rebel against their own exaggerated sense of American domination and interference in internal affairs.

They have benefited from the shift in the center of gravity in Moscow politics following the disastrous Duma elections in December. The parliament vote had the perverse effect of discrediting most of those who participated while augmenting the power of Prime Minister Viktor Chernomyrdin and other Soviet-era managers who stayed out of the campaigns.

The surprisingly strong showing of VladiBy Jim Hoagland

mir Zhirinovsky - despite the campaign's exposure of his extreme nationalism and general nuttiness - and the fragmented vote attracted by Russia's democratic movements created an opening for a Third Force in Russian politics that could claim to occupy a workable center. The failure of Western aid to ease the economic pain of revolutionary change has given centrists allied with Mr.

Chernomyrdin a compelling theme.

The theme was spelled out in detail earlier this mouth by Vladimir Lukin, the former Russian ambassador to Washington who is now chairman of the Duma's foreign affairs committee. In The Washington Post on April 3, Mr. Lukin penned what many Frenchmen would recognize as a Gaullist manifesto. The initial cuphoria of both America and Russia imagining a problem-free "strategic partnership" has given way to new suspicions, Mr. Lukin wrote. In Russia "a wave of infantile pro-Americanism brought about its opposite -infantile anti-Americanism." Russian diplomats who allegedly accepted that Russia should become "a loyal junior partner of the United States" are now "upset and angry at having been taken for granted by Americans."

Here Mr. Lukin clearly trains his sights on

Boris Yeltsm's pro-Western foreign minister, Andrei Kozyrev. Under the pressure of the election results and events in the Balkans, Mr. Yeltsin and Mr. Kozyrev have taken to criticizing the West, slowing down cooperation with NATO and emphasizing Russia's separate national interests.

"Many people in the United States insist" on seeing this response "as a sinister throwback to Russian imperialism and the Cold War," Mr. Lukin wrote, describing a selfreinforcing cycle of doubts and suspicions developing between Moscow and Washington. This is a false dichotomy in the spirit of an old Bolshevik motto: Who is not with us

Mr. Lukin's argument is one Washington has dealt with before. The Gaullist argument goes like this: America's interests are best protected by having clear understandings with independent-minded nations strong enough to pursue their own interests and make their own judgments. States too weak to rotect their own interests are too unstable and/or unreliable to be good partners.

The logic of this proposition is attractive. But, as it was with Charles de Gaulle, Kwame Nkrumah, Gamal Abdel Nasser and other masters of the anti-American universe, it can be carried too far: America is expected not only to tolerate being portrayed as the root of almost all evil, it is expected to appreciate and abet it as a foreign policy goal. America will not and should not do that, and Russia's Gaullists must understand that, American politicians need to keep perspective on Russia's painful coming to terms with humiliation and not mistake Boris Yeltsin's defensive maneuverings for "growing hubris" and "emerging neoimperial goals," terms recently used by the Republicans' point-man on Russia policy, Senator Mitch McConnell.

Despite the end of euphoria in Russia and conflict over Bosnia, Russia and the United States can construct a useful working relationship. A senior U.S. intelligence official told me recently that the disclosure of a Russian mole in the CIA had not affected the intelligence cooperation between Washington and Moscow oo terrorism, narcotics, nuclear nonproliferation and other subjects begun under the Bush administration.

"Il is in our interest," the official said. "We have effective liaison with a lot of countries that try to spy on us. If you consider the French as 90 percent friendly and 10 percent enemy, and the Russians today 10 percent friends, you still try to work with each of them as much no you can be according to the control of them as much no you can be according to the control of them as much no you can be the control of them as much no you can be the control of them as much as you can." That is a good prescription for the broader U.S.-Russian relationship as well.

(hite Pratti

3000

 $\{i_2, \lambda_{j_1, j_2}\}$

All was the

19.0

-

: ·

MILED Jolley

 $m_{\rm c}$

The Washington Post.

A Genocidal Aggression, And No Churchill in Sight

By Anthony Lewis

BOSTON — The first great Nazi terror bomoing of Rotterdam on May 14, 1940. The Luftwaffe destroyed the city center and killed 900 people. The world, sbocked, called it the Rape of Rotterdam.

The Serbian assault on Gorazde is a crime of similar character. Over the last three weeks hundreds of Serbian mortars and beavy guns and 60 tanks fired at point-blank range into that small Bosnian city. More than 700 people have died.

In 1940 the anti-Hitler forces did not yet have the means to stop the Nazis. In 1994 there is no such excuse. NATO has overwhelming military power in Europe, It has not been used to stop the Serbian aggression because NATO governments were in-different to the slaughter, blind to its consequences or incompetent in the use of power.

Comparison of today's Serbian leaders with the Nazis always brings the objection that the Serbs are not a menace on the same scale. True, even the Greater Serbia they want would not be anything like the threat that Nazi Germany was. But in other respects the analogy is apt.
President Slobodan Milosevic of

Serbia and the Bosnian Serbian leaders, Radovan Karadzic and General Ratko Mladic, are gripped by hatred — psychopathic hatred, one has to think.

They have no computation of slaughtering the civilians of Gorazde because those people are of a Nazis called Jews, Untermenschen. No one since Josef Goebbels, the inventor of the Big Lie, has covered up killing with lies as brazen as those uitered almost daily by the Serbian leaders. When NATO aircraft carried out pinprick raids two weeks ago on Serbian forces shelling Gorazde, a spokesman for Mr. Karadzic said that "no shelling of Gorazde had tak-en place." Mr. Karadzic said that Gorazde was a mostly Serbian city; its prewar population was in fact 70 percent Muslim. On Wednesday, Mr. Karadzic said: 'The Serbian side unilaterally proclaims peace in Gorazde. With this, the Gorazde crisis comes to an end." As be spoke, the Serbian forces intensified their shelling. Even the Russians gave up on Serbian leaders as irredeemable liars. One of the most disgraceful aspects of the world's response to Serbian aggression has been the gullible per-formance of the top United Nations official on the scene. Yasushi Akashi. Again and again he has fallen for transparent Serbian lies. On April 17, after meeting with Mr. Karadzic, Mr. Akashi said: "Dr. Karadzic and I have agreed a ceasefire in and around Gorazde should become effective immediately. We agreed that forces should be withdrawn from the front lines as far as possible as soon as possible. The erbian assault, of course, continued.

This past weekend, when Serbian forces at first failed to meet the terms the NATO ultimatum to stop Serbian leaders they are what the blocked NATO commanders' plans If we in the West are serious, one Surely by now the West s orazde, Mr. Aka for immediate bombing. Once again he relied on false Serbian promises of early compliance.

When President Bill Clinton finally decided last week to do something about Gorazde, he proposed that the ultimatum be enforced by NATO air strikes without seeking UN approval. But that part of his plan was blocked by other NATO governments.

What Serbian forces have done at Gorazde - the shelling of an essentially undefended city, the deliber-ate targeting of hospitals and refugee centers - is a straightforward war crime. But does the West really care? Is it serious about stopping the thing we should do is speed up preparations for prosecution of the war criminals, General Mladic, his principal officers, Mr. Karadzic and Mr. Milosevic should all be put oo notice that their actions at Gorazde are prima facie evidence of crimes. In addition, their assets overseas should be seized.

Mr. Milosevic is not exempt because he is in Belgrade. The guns and tanks at Gorazde were not made by the Bosnian Serbs. They come from the Yugoslav National Army. Similarly, Serbia should not be exempt from the NATO ultimatum. Sources of supply for the aggressors should be Surely by now the West should be bas mostly had a symbiotic relationship with the Chinese community, appears to have tried to find a Chinese sure to find the culprits, and a Chinese factory owner confessed to the killing. But he later claimed to have been tortured to do so, and it is now widely reported that the army was Chinese groups, has denied opportunities to other pribumi, or ethnic In-donesian, business people.

scapegoat for its own dirty work.

able to see the danger of letting genocidal aggression in Europe go un-checked. Or is our view distorted by the fact that the victims are Muslims? In his last book, due out soon, Richard Nixon said the civilized world would not have permitted the Bosnian horror to go on so long if the victims had been "predominantly Christian or Jewish."

Gorazde, after all the other cruelty. makes it certain that the Serbian nation will bear the stigma of the dema-gognes who led the aggression, as Germany was marked by the Nazis. But there are no Churchillian heroes in the West: only weaklings who re-

Finally Out of the Bunker

The hour or so Hillary Rodham Clinton devoted Friday to fielding Whitewater-related questions from the White House press corps was time well spent. She appeared and sounded as confident and unflappable as Bill Clinton did during his prime-time televised news conference last month. The setting -Mrs. Clinton was scated casually in a chair and spoke without notes - conveyed an openness and eagerness to engage in a full give and take about her business moves as well as the other Arkansas affairs that now occupy the attention of a special counsel, Republicans in Congress and, of course, the press. This was an event that could well have happened long ago.

Many people have been having trouble sorting out what to make of Mrs. Clinton's successful venture into the commodities markets. White House disclosures about her trading activities clearly had a hide-and-seek quality that did not help. Mrs. Clinton accepted blame for the shifting stories coming out of the White House. "I'm not in any way excusing any confusion that we have created." she said. "I don't think that we gave enough time or focused enough." But beyond that concession and her acknowledgment that she had been a chief foe of the appointment of a special counsel - for reasons of precedent -Mrs. Clinton held her ground that she crossed no ethical lines as the governor's wife in trading cattle futures on the advice of a close friend who also served as outside counsel for Arkansas's biggest employer. She maintained that she never received "any favorable treatment" in her commodity dealings because of who she was or her busband's position. In explaining why she was not required by her broker to meet "margin calls" or to put up additional money to cover losses in her account, as is customary. Mrs. Clinton speculated that the company was cither backed up with paperwork or that she was too good a customer for them to worry about. That answer, along with her inability to explain how she was permitted to enter the market with $1,000 when a single contract cost $1,200, was better than not hearing anything from her at all. But it probably will not halt speculation about the help she received in ballooning her financial investments.

The central question of whether funds from the failed Madison Guaranty Savings and Loan were improperly shifted to Bill Clinton's gubernatorial campaign or to the Clintons' Whitewater real estate venture remains a live issue after the news conference. Mrs. Clinton flatly declared that she knew nothing about any such diversion. To the penetrating question raised by the Resolution Trust Corp.'s senior investigator: "If you [the Clintons] aren't putting money into the venture, and you also know the venture isn't cash-flowing, wouldn't you question the source of the funds being used for your benefit?" Mrs. Clinton offered a less than satisfying response: "Well, shoulda, coulda, woulda, we didn't." Answers like that won't put away Whitewater. But as Friday demonstrated, fielding questions is better than going in the bunker.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

HONG KONG — The first signs that the Ferdinand Marcos re-By Philip Bowring

gime in the Philippines was begin-ning to unravel came with two disparate events four years before its demise: the flight of a Marcos crony, the Filipino-Chinese financier Dev-ey Dee, which rocked the financial system; and the 1982 Manila international film festival, whose extravagance - courtesy of Imelda Marcos stunned even Manila socialites.

History does not repeat itself, and President Suharto in Indonesia has a record of achievement that eluded Mr. Marcos in the Philippines. But recent events in Indonesia indicate that a process of change is under way as old forces of stability are undermined.

The most visible evidence of new lorces at work was the 10 days of riots, strikes and ethnic violence that have just shaken Medan, the nation's thirdlargest city, in northeastern Sumatra. These were the worst civil distur-bances ladonesia has seen in years. They underline the sense of unpredictability that now exists in Indonesia as different groups step up competition for power in the post-Subarto world. clearly on the horizon the is 73).

As significant as the Medan riots has been the scandal around Bapindo, the state development bank. Bapindo appears to bave lost $600 million from loans to an obscure petrochemical company controlled by an Indonesian Chinese, Eddy Tansil. The affair is not merely costly to the government, which must ball out Bapindo. It has cast shadows over two stalwarts of the Subarto era, Sudomo, former minister for security and political affairs, and J. B. Sumarlin, a former finance minister. Both happen to be Christian.

Extensive press coverage of Ba-pindo has highlighted alleged links between the political elite, the Chinese business community and the role of influential Christians, who comprise 10 percent of the popula-tion but are alleged by many Muslims to bave undue influence. Big. bank scandals are not new bere, but Bapindo has acquired a political dimension that made it an ingredient in the Medan disturbances.

Meanwhile, leading Chinese bave been doing their community of 6 miltion few favors. At the beight of the disturbances, in which a Chinese Isctory owner was killed and most of Medan's shops (largely Chineseowned) were forced to close, Liem Sice Liong, Indonesia's richest man and President Suharto's closest business associate, was throwing an extravagant party. The party, for Mr. Liem's 50th wedding anniversary, was held not in Indonesia — the adopted country of China-born Mr. Liem — but in predominantly Chinese Singapore, where it was billed as the "social event of the year."

If Mr. Liem thought that it would be discreet to bold the party overseas, he may have miscalculated the depth of Indonesian nationalism. Most Indonesian Chinese are not conspicuously rich traders. But they may bave a heavy price to pay for the ethnic "triumphalism." the gaudy wealth and the zeal for investing in China of some of their comrades.

Medan is not typical of Indonesia Its Chinese community is larger and less integrated than others. But ethnic Chinese are easy targets. In Medan they were scapegoats for workers protesting low wages — in particular the failure of many factories to pay the behind the murder. The Chinese are only one focus of resentment, but they tend to provide link with the others. The Suharto family - though not the president himself — is another target, for its accumulation of wealth through mo-nopolies and influence-peddling. Its acquisitiveness, in league with some Religion is another source of dissent, especially among Muslim intellectuais who see links between capitalism, Chineseness and Christianity. It would not be accurate to suggest that discontent, or ethnic or religious hostility, is seething. Indonesia's economy continues to grow just Algeria: An Earlier Time of Ferment about fast enough to absorb labor lorce increases. Traditions of tolerance are strong, extremist religious views relatively rare. Separatism is an

> and Aceh) not a threat. For all its faults, the army remains bastion of anti-communatism. It Indonesia Hits a Rough Spot in the Road to a Post-Suharto World legal minimum wage. But in another recent landmark, the military, which national unity and a secular society, national unity and a secular society. opposed to regionalism and religious intolerance. Yet even in the army there is little consensus about how best to ensure stability in an increas-Last year, a young woman labor activist in East Java named Marsinah ingly open society. Should it crack down on unions and the press? How was murdered. The government came noder local and international presshould it deal with beightened Islamic consciousness? President Suharto is widely accused of doing nothing to allow the develop-ment of political institutions, such as the parliament, and of playing army and civilian against each other rather than paving the way for a succession.

Meanwhile, economic and social development have made Indonesia a much more politically conscious society. The media have gained greater freedom partly because the government has allowed it, and partly be-cause the urban middle class expects it. Open challenges to authority are few, but debate is widespread.

Recent events concentrate the minds on several issues; how to maintain the high rate of investment needed for economic growth in the face of labor unrest and anti-Chinese feeling; how to develop political institunions that reflect the nation's pluralism without being overwhelmed by it: how to distribute wealth without slowing its accumulation; how to persunde Chinese tycoons not to behave like alien opportunists; how to satisfy expectations for change without endangering the achievements of President Subarto's spine May Order. dent Suharto's aging New Order.

Or, put another way, how not to lollow the Philippine example. International Herald Tribune.

irritant on the fringes (Irian, Timor

N ICOSIA — The news a few weeks back that the French government might help airlift the 35,000 remaining Frenchmen and other Europeans from Algeria, where they face a growing Muslim fundamentalist threat, awakened memories,

My first encounters with Algeria's Europeans date to 1957. The pre-dominantly Muslim National Liberation Front or FLN, had for three years been leading an insurrection. Europeans had ruled the territory since the French conquest of 1830.

These "Frenchmen," the piedsnoirs, or North African-born Europeans, were a curious and colorful lot. One of their most illustrious sons, the French novelist Albert Camus, called them "a bastard race, composed of unexpected mixtures. Spaniards and Alsatians. Italians. Maltese. Jews, Greeks, finally met here. These brutal cross-breedings produced, as in America, happy results." How right Camus was! How stunningly beautiful were some of the pied-noir women of Algiers and Oran; how quick and often brilliant their men. Always they called themselves Frenchmen.

The spectrum of pied-noir ideology and sentiment reached from leftist liberals like Camus to fascists like Jean-Jacques Susini, who, on April 21, 1961, would try, with a small junta of generals, colonels and ForBy John K. Cooley eign Legionnaires (many of them not French), to overthrow de Gaulle. On that night, this reporter sat on the narrow balcony of a harborside Algiers botel, anxiously scanning the skies for a planned military airlift that never appeared: transport planes supposed to ferry paratroops northward to seize Paris for a government of the military, the pied-noir settlers, and the French right wing. There was no Algerian airborne armada. Loyalist metropolitan French draftees serving at Maison Blanche airbase outside Algiers had dumped sugar into gasoline tanks, blocked the takeoff runways, and otherwise assured that there would be no military challenge to de Gaulle's power in Paris. Within three days, the pursch of the generals," as it came to be called collapsed independence followed in July 1962. It came under a Muslim but secular-minded leadership which said that it had room for Europeans, Western ideas and even for the Christian and Jewish Algerian minorities in the new Algeria. Algerian Jews, perhaps even more than the tiny group of Christians, identified with Europeans and their culture. Most left the country, after President Ahmed Ben Bella's first independent government in 1963 ig-noted Israeli overtures for diplomatic and trade relations with the Jewish state. This was largely because Algerians believed that Israeli intelligence operatives had worked with the extremist settlers of the OAS (Secret Army Organization) against the FLN, independence and General de Gaulle.

Most of the small Christian minority were Berbers, Algeria's new Mus-lim rulers after 1962 encouraged them to learn Arabic, because the Berber language often went hand-inband in their culture with French.

Most of the educated Algerian leaders who witnessed the post-independence European exodus in 1962 were comfortable speaking the language of the departing French. Classical Arabic, totally unlike the North African dialectical Arabic of the Algerians, has not been easy to learn. How you speak Arabic, French or Berber, and what you say, instantly tags you in today's Algeria, it can also invite quick death at the hands of the Islamic activists who are now, in the flight of the Euro-peans and the betrayal of the old FLN promises of secularism and tolerance. winning a great victory. It is a victory that is bound to profoundly shake Algeria's neighbors, especially France. The writer, an ABC News correspondent and author based in Cyprus, contributed this comment to the International Herald Tribune.

IN OUR PAGES: 100, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1894: London Bomb Plot LONDON - Intelligence of a startling character has reached the Home Office regarding an Anarchist con-spiracy in London. It has transpired that the real purpose for which the iron casing of the large bomb discovered in Clerkenwell was intended was to blow up the Stock Exchange. Farnaro, the individual who was to have placed the bomb, has avowed that he cared little if his own existence were sacrificed provided that the attempt were successful. It is, of course, open to question whether any Anarchist could have penetrated into the precincis of the Stock Exchange.

1919: Treaty Dispute

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Senators here view the Italian situation as the strongest argument yet presented against the League of Nations. While there is no disposition to defend secret diplomacy, many Senators feel that the pacts solemnly entered into

hothis! Ga

by the Allied nations to crush German militarism should not be treated as scraps of paper merely because they were secretly negotiated before the United States entered the war. The opponents of the League say that the dispute has reached such intensity that no matter what adjustment is finally made it will be a source of irritation for decades, during which the United States will perhaps be required to furnish men and money to preserve the boundaries between Italy and Yugo-Slavia.

1944: Germany Is Losing

NEW YORK - [From our New York edition: Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States Fleet, said last night April 25] at a dinner given in his honor that it is possible that Germany may be defeated this year and that in this search that all parts that that in this event plans already have been prepared for hurling the combined naval, air and armed forces of the Allies against Japan.

May, Lee, Asia, Roll D. Kranspull, St. Clean air Rd. Hone Kore. Tel. 852 9222-1180, Fac. 852-9222-1100.
Gen. May, Gennany W. Lunderhach, Fredrichen, 15, 6a32 (Frankfurth Tel. 049) 72-67-55. Fac. 0491-72-73-10.
Prov.U.S.: Markad Control, 850 Third Airs. New York, N.1. 19922, Tel. (212) 752-880. Fac. (212) 755-865. 1. K. Advertising Office: 63 Long Acta London WC 2. Tel. (071) 836-4802. Fax: (071) 240-2254. S.L. an capital de 1.200(00) F. RCS Santerre B 732021126. Commission Parataire No. 61337. 1944. International Herald Tribus All India review, ANY ILM-NRC

International Herald Tribune

ESTABLISHED INNT

KATHARINE GRAHAM, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER

RICHARD McCLEAN, Publisher & Chief Executive

WALTER WELLS, New Editor - SAMUEL ABT, KATHERINE KNORR and

CHARLES MITCHELMORE, Deputy Editors . CARL GEWIRTZ, Assessing Editor

ROBERT J. DONAHUE. Fallow of the Editorial Pages.
 SONATHAN GAGE, Business and Future e Editor

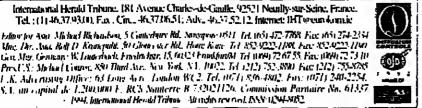

RENÉ BONDY. Dayray Publisher ■ JAMES McLEOD, Advertising Director

■ JUANITA L CASPARI, International Development Director • ROBERT FARRÉ, Circulation Director, Europe

Directour de la Publication: Richard D. Simmens

International Herald Tribune. 181 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neurlly-sur-Seine, France.

JOHN VINOCUR, Exerume Editor & Vice President

How to Sum Up Nixon? An Inspiring Resilience

WASHINGTON — Late one night in the White House, working on a speech, Richard Nixon tried to encapsulate his more recent predecessors in a single word or phrase: "Truman fighter. Eisenhower — a good man. Kennedy — charisma. Johnson work. Me - what?"

I did not have a good answer that night in 1970: I do now. Nixon an inspiring resilience. In the 1960s, be rose up after his political obituary and employed his combination of grit, guile and greatness to seize the moment that had been denied him before. He expressed the secret of overcoming adversity in a private note to Ted Kennedy after Chappaquiddiek: "A man's not finished when he's defeated; he's finished when

Mr. Nixon liked "the comeback theme" because it identified his return from defeat with the careers of Winston Churchill and Charles de Gaulle, During another break in speech collaboration, he recalled a meeting with General de Gaulle at which Nixon aides took notes.

They got everything down of substance. But then de Gaulle said, in a kind of an aside, 'All the countries of Europe lost the war. but only two were defeated. They never wrote that down. And that's the one thing I'll never forget from that meeting."

He instructed those of us in the Five O'Clock Group to "get the word out" about his 1960s comeback, which made the media all the more resistant to our image-making. But as Henry Kissinger once said of a selling argument, "It had the added advantage of being true."

We had no idea how true it was, or how soon the essence of Mr. Nixon's character would be put in the test again. From the pinnacle of

. .

2.3

By William Safire

the nadir of forced resignation. After Watergate, he stood naked to his enemies, who had become legion.

Stripped of power, denuded of honor, deserted by supporters rightly dismayed at the cover-up, he had no reservoir of public trust and no visible means of defense. His only assets were his mind, his pride and his hard-bought experience.

I visited him at San Clemente during one of the most depressing moments. It was April 29, 1975, the day the capital of South Vietnam fell in the Communists. He took personal responsibility for the debacle. Terrible day for freedom, and a 49-state landslide - he plunged to all my fault," he said. "The fall of Saigon is the direct result of the way I messed up Watergate."

Then the second and even more difficult comeback began. He thought, he traveled, he wrote. He took no fees for speeches and ended the public expense of protection by the Secret Service.

Despite the glares of the guard-ians against his feared "rehabilitahe slowly, over two decades, worked his way back first to a ten-tative acceptability, then to grudging respect, finally in an honored role as leader to opinion leaders and adviser to presidents. How did he resurrect bimself?

By learning a great lesson and by be expiated by years of useful ser-living an example. The lesson was vice; no humiliation so painful living an example. The lesson was against-them ethos of the political

Those who hate you don't win." he told his White House staff on his way out, "unless you hate them - and then you destroy yourself." Nixon-haters go to their graves hating him; he goes in his grave knowng better than in hate them. The example he set in his subsequent full generation of peace was that of a man who again refused to accept personal deleat. Richard Nixon, in becoming America's greatest ex-president, proved there is no political wrong-

Nixon, rumadnn met its master. doing so scandalous that it cannot cades of selfless sagacity; no per-sonal doldrums so deep that they cannot be dispersed by a gutsy engagement with life. That is why, to sum up Mr.

that it cannot be overcome by de-

Nixon in a phrase, this former aide would choose: an inspiring resil-tence. By resolving a second time to earn his way in political re-demption—and then by dogged-ly, brilliantly triumphing in that second comeback—he justified the faith of all those millions who ever believed in him.

Defeat he not proud; in Richard The New York Times.

N EW YORK — Like more than a few Americans of my generation, I learned to despise Richard Nixon around the same time I learned to recite the Pledge of Allegiance. Yet now, nearly 40 years later, an America without Richard Nixon seems inconceivable and unimaginable, an emptier place. When the stroke hit, it was possible not only to root for him to live but to feel genuine loss at the prospect of his imminent death.

his hero. Theodore Roosevelt, or even his unenthusiastic neketmate, Dwight Eisenhower, Far from it: Mr. Nixon was the historical black hole into which the higher dreams of the Kennedy brothers and Martin Luther King Jr. disappeared.

inspired and inflamed the American imagination for half a century, Mr. Nixon was a giant, right up there with Billy the Kid, Citizen success — the vote of confidence of Kane and Moby Dick. No wonder he drove such major writers as Norman Marler, Philip Roth and Rob-can politics, from the dawn of spin ert Coover to imaginative feats. Reading Gore Vidal on Mr. Nixon is akin to reading George Bernard Shaw on Shakespeare. "In Nixon we are able to abserve presidency to a way bigger and more original than anyone else had ever lost it before." The faults that defined the Nixon character include bypocrisy, paranoia, cynicism, spitefulness and selfpity. Open Bartlett's to the Nixon entry and find lines like, "You won't have Nixon to kick around any-more" and "Well, I'm nnt a crook" man vindictiveness: turns in violence, it invites tragedy. Watereate was still to come.

So enormous were the passions Mr. Nixon provoked that he became an almost geographical pole in the American psychic landscape, analo-gous to the rootless Southern California that spawned him. He was the darkest doppelganger against which we measured ourselves.

And not just in weighty matters of ethics or conscience. A generation of boys learned the importance of a close shave thanks to his famous debacle in the first 1960 debate.

Mr. Nixon's legendarity hapless scapades in romance (courting his future wife by driving her to dates with other beaux) and comic self-promotion (his "Sock it in me!" cameo on "Laugh In") defined the antithesis of cool.

It is clear that his hatred of his memies was precisely what led to the self-destruction of Watergate. But did a final new Nixon emerge in retirement, mellower and wiser than the disgraced pobtician? Let history decide. What is certain is that many of his foes finally surrendered their own haired — if not to forgive, then at least to respect his remarkable persistence and towering size. For an American who came of age with him in the second half of the 20th century, making peace with Richard Nixoo proved in the end an essential part of growing up. The New York Times.

Letters intended for publication hould be addressed "Letters to the Editor and contain the writer's sig-nature, name and full address. Letters should be brief and are subject to editing. We cannot be responsible for the return of unsolicited manuscripts political party whose policies for governing your life you believe will do this best. Often, making that mark is not a major experi-ence. I can project into this commonplace acceptance because, although I am a South African, I am white, and consequently I have had the right to vote since I was 1g years old.

But because I am a South African, I also understand what I believe no one in the Western world an: what this week's election signifies for the great majority of South Africans, the blacks who, by law, have never before been allowed to cast a vote. And because I have been a protagonist, in my way, in the struggle against the racism that found its base in denying blacks the vote, I also share what this election means to black people. That is why I shall speak of "us" instead of "them" when attributing that meaning. To us, the election signifies not just a new beginning. It is a resur-rection: this land rising from the tomb of the entire colonial past shared out in different centuries. decades and proportions among the Dutch, the French, the British and their admixture of other Europeans; this indigenous people rising from the tomb of segregated housing, squatter camps, slum schools, job restrictions, forced removals from one part of the country to another; from the burial of all buman aspiration and dignity under the humilia-tion of discrimination by race and skin; this people rising, for the first time in history, with the right to elect a government: to govern themselves. A sacred moment is represented in the act of putting a mark on a ballot paper.

Yes, there are high emotions involved in this election beyond the obvious political ones of the contest for power as a democratic process. How to transform the emotion people feel into enable-ment, the ability to use that process, is another matter. The generations of subjection bave produced their own psychoses. It is difficult to coovince people whose lives have been totally controlled by white employers and the authorities that served the interests of those employers that anything one commits to paper - a signature, a thumbprint - is not open to the scrutiny of the white baas and his agents.

Time for the Sacred Moment

J democratic Western countries, an election is a recurrent event of the social order, a day This is particularly true of farm workers. The blacks who work on white farms, although when, as a matter of routine in civic life, you go to make your mark in favor of the individual or distinguished from slavery by being wage-earners, have belonged literally body and soul to the white farmer. They and their families live by his favor on his land and if dismissed lose their homes as well as their jobs. It is not easy in give them the demo-cratic faith to believe that their vote will be secret. By the stroke of a pen in their own hand, they fear to lose whatever wretched

MEANWHILE

Rural and urban people have been conditioned by one of the strategies of the liberation struggle that now, ironically, inhibits them from using the vote. One of the most successful campaigns against apartheid, adopted by both the African National Congress and the Pan-Africanist Congress, was that of refusing to carry the Pass. The hated dossier that blacks had to exhibit, like a shackle, on demand, and for which they went to prison on failure to do so. was the document that restricted their freedom of domicile and their right to seek work in one area rather than another.

From this anti-Pass campaign came a wariness of all official documents that has remained long beyond the abolinon of the Pass. People retain a strong unconscious reluctance to apply for an identity document that each voter must produce at the polls.

Against this background, voter education has proved to be the essential first step in the curriculum of a new democracy. Very different from electioneering, voter education must teach people not for whom they should vote, but why they should exercise their rights through the vote, and bow to do so. A number of organizations have been formed to provide this. Probably the most active, natioowide, is Matla

Trust ("Matla" means strength in Sotho) on whose board I serve. Matla serves a whole country of constituencies varied by many differences of language, levels of literacy, understanding of civic processes. With 60 percent illiteracy among the people, the possi-bilities of voter education by the written word are limited. Using the daily press is the least effective of means. With a proliferatioo of languages, the task of literature in 1991. She contrib reaching the population through this to The Washington Post.

JOHANNESBURG — In By Nadine Gordiner oral programs is a challenge.

There is the great disparity between material possessions of ur-ban and rural people. In the vast black townships around the cities, television sets are widely owned, while in the rural areas a small transistor radio is the only medium through which people can be reached in their homes.

Matla Trust has devised many strategies to reach responses in these problems. From the 11 hranch offices around the country, field educators go out in villages, farms, factories, religious, youth and women's associations to explain to people in their own languages what the casting of the vote means to their future.

ent of nn-ark to in om

ral 201

фy

Matla's methods in this work have been so successful that the trust has run intensive courses in train field workers, as many as 500 at a time, from other voter education programs as well as its own. Brief informative dialogues, following the mode with which people are familiar in commercial advertising, are aired on radio stations. A 14-part TV miniseries featuring a popular black comedian was commissioned according in the ideas of the trust and has been shown on TV weekly in the run-up to the election.

Perhaps the most original means of voter education has been the creation of six traveling theater troupes of black actors who have devised and acted a play. I have seen the play evolve fascinatingly in response to the participa-tion of audiences. With song and humor it presents a mock-up of a polling station, with the actors go ing through all the actual procedures: body search for weapons, presentation of identity document, placing of hands under ultraviolet light and, after voting, into a special liquid, so that no one can vote twice, People in the audience are invited in come up and make their mark on a board representing a ballot paper. Matla Trust, like other voter educators, has been funded by overseas aid organizations and governments wishing to promote a democratic future in South Africa. If there is the great voter turnout oow expected on election day, donors can feel satisfied that their money was well used, for without these imaginative and effective programs a vast number of South Africans would have missed the first opportunity to exercise the right to govern their own lives.

The writer, a novelist and essayist, received the Nobel Prize for literature in 1991. She contributed

Growing Up With Him, and Learning to Forgive

By Frank Rich

Not because he can be likened to

But as a cultural archetype wbo tricks. His name is cross-referenced with such entries as firestorm, inopcrative, bug, chronic campaigner, cover-up, CREEP and enemies list. our faults larger than life." Mr. Vidal wrote in 1983. "He turned being a Big Loser inm a perfect triumph by managing in lose the Every Nixon bater has his own defining flash point of rage. My parents passed down like treasured heirlooms their recollections of his red-baiting congressional campaign against Helen Gahagan Douglas, his bathetie Checkers speech, his sanctimonious attack on Harry Truman's salty language (this from the master of the expletive deleted!).

doctoring to the apocalyose of dirty

For my generation, 1970 may have been the peak. When four antiwar protesters were shot and killed by Ohio Guardsmen at Kent State and "When the president does it, that means that it is not illegal."

A tour through "Safire's New Political Dictionary" reveals the expromptly out of Vicunam responded

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

On the Death of Nixon I am troubled by the reactions of many of my compatriots to the death of Riehard Nixon, Reasonable people do and perhaps should differ about his character and his accomplishments and failures. Yet we are all made smaller by the death of another human being. Let us mourn the man and lay him to terrorize law-abiding citizens? rest peacefully this Wednesday, Let the historians and puodits trouble over his legacy later.

JOSEPH SMALLHOOVER. Mr. Nixon abused the trust we put in him. A decent respect for the dead does not require that we celebrate a man who used America's highest office to try to undermine the democratic process. Nor is it fitting to let bygones be bygones where remorse — and regeneration — are not in evidence. To forgive and forget is not in this case magnanimous; rather, it is like wearing rose-colored glasses. It almost seems as if we Americans cannot bear to face facts: Not all presidents are good, not all endings are happy.

KATHERINE CLARK. Heidelberg, Germany.

Asia's Nuclear Games

Regarding the opinion column "Why the Sudden Reticence About the Korean Threat?" (March 30):

A. M. Rosenthal's observations, as well as those of Charles Krauthammer, seem to be about the only consistent warnings on this topic being addressed by columnists to the American people. Some of my Filipino business Iriends who were recently in North Korea tell me that an atmosphere of fear and a determination to fight is evident among people they met. Perhaps the North Korean authorities are readving their populace in face the unthinkable, while Western leaders dally.

It is ominous in see how Western leaders - particularly American refuse in deal with nuclear weapons proliferation in East and South Asia. These weapons, the facilities in make them and the presence of nuclear fuels outside strong international controls and inspection should not be interacted anywhere in this region. Given instability, recourse to nuclear weapons will occur in the area in the next decade or two. JAMES J. DALTON.

Not Very Jeffersonian

Regarding the report "Thomas Jefferson's Lively Day as White House, Surrounded by Friends" (April 13) by Joel Achenbach.

President Bill Clinton's recent Jeffersonphile dinner must bave been a fascinating event, what with all those Jefferson scholars and "an assortment of scientists, diplomats, architects, writers and other people who do Jeffersonian things."

However, I note the presence of one person who definitely does not do a "Jeffersonian thing" — the international financier George Soros, Jefferson's distrust of speculators led in part to his much-bally-booed fallout with Alexander Hamilton, who harbored no such suspicions. Jefferson considered the profession immoral, since be thought that speculators were making their money at the expense of his beloved farmers and other hardworking Americans, and were using their ill-gotten gains in corrupt the nascent national government.

□Plan A

∏Plan B

Name:

Address:

□Plan A + B (save $45) $ 775

Perhaps the trony of Mr. Soros's presence was not pointed out, since to do so might have offended the cohost of the dinner, who herself made $100,000 speculating in agriculture, and who has been known to exercise some influence around Washington. JOHN O'BRYAN.

Singapore Reserves the Right to Keep Order

SPAIN'S SUMMER GORDO

WIN YOUR SHARE

of approximately

100 MILLION $U.S. IN CASH PRIZES

TO BE WON

NOT IN A YEAR - NOT IN A MONTH

BUT ALL IN ONE DAY

On June 11th Spain's Special Summer Gordo will again be giving away more millions! The odds that you will win a cash prize are an amazing 1 in 6. And, even more incredibly, your chances of winning one of the really big prizes are 1 in 66,000!

IF YOU PLAY LOTTERIES THIS ONE IS A MUST

On receipt of your reservation you will receive confirmation followed by a list of all the ticket numbers held by your group.

Shortly after the draw you will receive a list of all the numbers drawn and your statement of winnings. Winning Edge Marketing guarantees strictest confidentiality on all orders and prizes paid. All winnings are tax free.

IMPORTANT TO NOTE: All orders must be postmarked before May 20th or we

Signature:

WEM P.O. Box 58194, 1040 HD Amsterdam, The Netherlands

cannot guarantee your reservation. For telephone orders and enquiries: Tel: (31 20) 684 5015 Fax: (31 20) 688 1374

Membership includes all postage & handling costs. Valid where legal,

For $225 you will be placed in three groups of 200 members giving you 600 chances to win big. For $595 you will be placed in a group of 25 members with

☐Cheque/Money Order payable in WEM

☐ Visa ☐ Mastercar
☐ Access ☐ Eurocard

000000000000000000

200 chances to win big.

PLAN A & B For $775 [save $45] you can order both plans + increase expiry date

In "Singapore's Assertion of a Right to Torture Is Intolerable" (Opinion, April 8). William Safire claims that caning is equal to torture, which is a "crime against humanity." Surely it is better to inflict pain to punish criminals for what they bave done, and to deter others from committing more crimes, than to let them roam freely and

The Singapore government did not introduce caning; the British colonial government of Singapore did. The sentence is not meted out by any "dictalorship" in Singapore, but by a court after an open trial, conducted in accordance with due The New York Times editorial "No to Torture in Singapore" (April 11) repeats the allegation that caning has oever been used to punish vandalism of private property, and that Michael Fay was singled out for unfair punishment. Singapore public and private property when paint, tar or other indelible substances are used. Mr. Fay was not singled out. He was charged together with another American, a Hong Kong citizen and two Malaysians. In dismissing Mr. Fay's appeal, the chief justice said that "these acts of vandalism were committed relentlessly and willfully over a period of 10 days" and that they "amounted to a calculated course of criminal condoct." Philip Shenon, in the news report "In Caning Case, Donbts About Confession" (April 18), raised the question of whether Mr. Fay really committed the crime for which be was convicted. The report said that Mr. Fay bad told friends and family that the police physically abused him and coerced him into signing a false confession. In October 1993, the U.S. Embassy complained that Mr. Fay had been abused. A Ministry of Home Affairs investigation found no evidence of police abuse. The U.S. Embassy received a full account; it did not pursue the matter further. Mr. Fay was tried in accordance with due process of law. He was represented by a counsel of his choice. Counsel would have advised him of his right to plead oot guilty and contest any confession proffered in evidence. Instead, in open court, with his lawyer present, Mr. Fay pleaded guilty to the charges and admitted to the facts unreservedly Neither Mr. Fay's Singapore lawyer oor the British Queen's counsel, Michael David Sherrard, who argued his appeal, contended in court that Mr. Fay's confession was false or that he had been coerced into making or signing it. Nor has Mr. Fay made this allegation in his pention for elemency. The court convicted Mr. Fay based on his guilty plea, not his confession to the police.

The New York Times, whose editorials you publish, naturally seeks to assert American values around the world. But American values are no occessarily universal. Singaporeans, not Americans or anyone else, must decide the kind of society Singapore should be. The Singapore government is democratically elected. If the electorate disapproved of it passing and enforcing laws like caning for vandalism, the government would have been voted out of office long ago, not re-elected in nine successive general elections since 1959. The government believes that the majority of law-abiding citizens must be protected against criminal acts of the minority, and that tough laws, strictly and impartially enforced, keep Singapore clean, safe and crime-free. We claim no universal validity for this approach to law and order. We ask only that citizens and foreigners alike respect and obey our laws when they are in Singapore.

S. R. NATHAN. Ambassador of Singapore. Washington.

DON'T GAMBLE!

BUY STATE PROPERTY! The Hungarian State Holding Company, owner of 160

firms with total equity of USD 15 billion, is offering shares worth of USD 6 billion for sale!

Take Part in Hungary's historic privatisation process!

Hungarian State Holding Company H-1115 Budapest, Bánk bán utca 17/b Phone: (36-1) 267-6600

Cerruti's A-List: Here's Hollywood

By Suzy Menkes International Herald Tribune

EW YORK — It sounds like a spoof of the Academy Awards. Here is Hollywood's take on Nino Cerruti's List: "For services to Michael Douglas's chest in

"For Richard Gere's high-profile gear in Pretty Woman,

"For revealing the erotic backbone of Kath-leen Turner in The Jewel of the Nile."
"For making Clint Eastwood's blue-gray suits for 'In the Line of Fire.' " "For covering Robert Redford's confusion in "Indecent Proposal."

Cerruti's credits for costumes are so over-helming that they make a new book of stars he has dressed on the Silver Screen. "I did not realize that there were so many -

the result of 28 years' work and my love for movies as a humble spectator," says Cerruti. It took "someone from outside" to record the 130 contributions he has made to movies, stage and television since he first dressed French actor Jean-Paul Belmondo in 1965 and made Faye Dunaway's straw hat for "Bonnie and Clyde," right up to his wardrobe for Tom Hanks in the Oscar-winning "Philadelphia."

It is typical of the elegant, unnassuming designer that, when "Cinema: Nino Cerruti and the Stars" was launched by Rizzoli during New York Fashion Week, the dinner was not packed with stars rubbing egos and soft-shouldered Cerruti suits. Instead, at the designer's side sat Annette Insdorf, chairman of the film division of Columbia University.

Cerruti is marking the moment that his film work goes public by establishing an annual grant at Columbia to finance the completion of the year's three most promising student works.

"Nino Cerruti has done something quite wonderful — to be a 'godfather,' " says Insdorf. "It is not only generous in terms of money —he cares about nurturing the next generation of American filmmakers

"One of my dreams before I finish my career is to teach for a while in school," says Cerruti. "I love young people — they have a spring inside themselves."

Cerruti was just 20 in 1950 when, on his father's death, he became head of the family firm, founded in 1881 at Biella, Italy, a fabric center. The young man knocked the stuffiness out of the traditional suit, giving a stylish spin to tailoring. In fact he more or less invented the supple, light, body-conscious suit - a skill he sed on to Giorgio Armani, who worked with him for seven years. Cerruti gravitated to Paris where he opened Cerruti 1881 in 1967, starting a women's line in 1976. The boutique in the Place de la Madeleine is the nerve center of his husiness, now worth $2.5 billion a year, includ-

"In my case, I started as a fabric technician

"When I was 19 I was crazy about learning how to cut a suit. I have a liking for the physical work of hands with materials.

His work with actors started in the theater with French stars who now include the bulky Gérard Depardieu, who demands extra cloth in his scams "just in case."

Traditionally, working for stage or screen requires a flamboyance to make things larger than a real-life wardrobe. But Cerruti makes his clothes so much part of the personality that they become almost invisible. He explains how Clint Eastwood in "In the Line of Fire" had to look "banal" so that he would blend into the crowd - the effect achieved by using different textures for the inevitable gray suit. (The special requirements were for a single-breasted jacket for easy access to the company of the compan to the gun.)

In "Pretty Woman," the task was to make Richard Gere look smooth and svelte in a West Coast way. "An obvious Californian man trying to be international," is how Cerruti describes it. For the small screen, the endless changes of attire for "Miami Vice" created an image for the 1980s dubbed "tropical chic." The book is glossy and glamorous, but not nearly as intelligent as Cerruti himself. It could have used a good writer to analyze just why Cerruti is the darling of Hollywood costume designers and how his work differs from that of Cerruti, giving credit to Silver Screen legends such as Adrian, explains the difference.

"If you compare how people were dressed before the war — it was a very rare film when they were not glamorous," he says. "Now films have to be not about myth or heroes. There are a lot of social implications. There is an attempt to destroy the dignity of human beings. What clothes have to emphasize is character."

The same might be said of current fashion, although Cerruil does not believe that a modern wardrobe should be a hlank canvas.

Fashion means establishing well-accepted clean lines and adding glamour to the clean-ness," be says. "With minimalism, it is too easy to have a zen attitude that is too cold and

"Modern fashion starts with the presumption that the person has a strong personality, that you give people freedom and you make up your own mind. And today there is this horrendous cheating because the beauty of the model dominates the equation."

It is the measure of his work in films that neither the well-honed body of heartthroh Gere nor the devilish character of Jack Nicholson in "The Witches of Eastwick" dominate their film wardrobes, Most people, asked to remember even Michael Douglas's definitive style in "Wall Street," would be unable to get much farther than the suspenders.

Cerruti's ultimate accolade is that his film work, like his fashion, is famous for getting it right, rather than drawing attention to itself.

Designer Nino Cerruti with Sharon Stone; from top right, clockwise: Cerruti designs for Jack Nicholson in "The Witches of Eastwick"; Kathleen Turner in "V.I. Warshawski"; sketch for Richard Gere; Julia Roberts with Gere in "Pretty Woman"; tropical chic for Don Johnson in "Miami Vice."

NEWS EVENTS WHICH COULD AFFECT YOUR LIFE:

Laboric Production of the Algoria

FOLLOW THE WORLD EVERY DAY IN THE IHT

Subscribe now and save up to

LIXEMBOURG: 0800 2703 SWITZERIAND: 155 57 57 THE NETHERIANDS: 06 022 5158 UNITED KINGDOM: 0800 89 5965 AUSTRIA: 0660 8155 BELGIUM: 0 800 1 7538 FRANCE: 05 437 437

Or send in the coupon below.

Country/Currency		12 months + 2 months FREE		6 months + 1 month FREE	3 months + 13 FREE lesues
Austria	A. Sch.	6,000		3,300	1,800
Salgkan	S.Fr.	14,000	C (2000)	7,700	4,200
Denmark	D.Kr.	3,400	- Can (18)	1,500	1,050
Roland	F.K.	2,400		1,300	700
France	F.F.	1,950		1,070	590
Germany	D.M.	700	100 mar 100 miles	385	210
Great Britain	2	210	- M	115	(5)
Greece	Dr.	75,000		41,000	22,000
Ireland	EM.	230	THE NAME OF THE OWNER,	125	68
Italy	Live	500,000	STATE OF STREET	275,000	150,000
Lucembourg	L.Fr.	14,000	4 C 4 C 4 C 4 C 4 C 4 C 4 C 4 C 4 C 4 C	7,700	4,200
Netherlands	R.	770	40.	420	230
Norway	NLKr.	3,500		1,900	1.050
Portugal	Esc	47,000		26,000	14,000
Spain	Pies.	48,000		26,500	14,500
- hand deliv. Medrid	Plas	55,000		27,500	14,500
Sweden (simali)	S.Kr.	3,100	Salk to fi	1,700	900
- hand delivery	S.Kr.	3,500	1000	1,900	1.000
Setzerland	S.Fr.	510	A	395	195
Rest of Europe at CEI	- 5	485	V/200	265	145
CEI, N. Africa, former French African, Middle East	5	630	7.2	345	190
Gulf States, Asia, Central and South America	1 5	700		436	235
Rest of Africa	5	900	45 PM	485	270

tree period is granted for all new orders. Yes, I want to start receiving the IFT. This is the subscription term I prefer (check appropriate boxes):

12 months (364 issues in all with 52 bonus issues). 6 months (182 issues in all with 26 bonus issues). 3 months (91 issues in oil with 13 bonus issues). My check is enclosed (payable to the International Herald Tribune). Please charge my: American Express Diners Club VISA MasterCard Eurocard Access Credit card charges will be made in French Francs at current exchange rates.

EVP. DATE _______SIGNATURE_ FOR BUSINESS ORDERS, PLEASE INDICATE YOUR VAI NUMBER:

(HT VAT number: FR747320211261) FIRST NAME PERMANENT ADDRESS: [] HOME [] BUSINESS,

CITY/CODE. Return your completed coupon to: Subscription Mono IHT, 181 Avenue Charles de Gaulle, 92521 Neurly Cedes Fox: 33.1.46 37 06 51 - Tel: 33.1.46 37 93 61 rax: 33.1.40 37 US 51 - Let: 33.1.46 37 93 61

This offer expires August 31, 1994, and is available to new subscribers only. 5

Herald Eribune

Astrology for the Anarchic

By Brian Parks

EW YORK - Here's "Real Astrology" for Cancer, April 13-19: "It's a good week to make exotie wagers and to offer unexpected kisses and to traffic in valuable gossip. It's not such a good week to slam doors in anger or to issue left-handed compliments or to seduce farm wives while on assignment for National Geographic.

"It's a fabulous week to roll in a field of dandelions and to insist on the premium blend and to acquire a magic wand or secret weapon. It's a bad week to become somewhat pregnant or to talk back to the river or to indulge the whims of nowhere

Not exactly your daily horo-

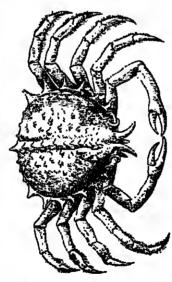

Glib, hectoring, oblique, "Real Astrology" appears in alternative weeklies around the country, in-cluding The New York Press. Written by Roh Brezsny, 35, a Califor-nian, the column abandons the lovelorn readings of planets belabored in most newspapers and magazines.
The column appeals mostly to urbanites like lawyers, writers, musicians and computer consultants who turn to it for irreverence as much as for insight.

Daniel Filler, 31, a lawyer in Philadelphia, described it as a "refreshingly anarchic advice forum." Emily Gordon, a 24-year-old editorial intern in New York, compared Brezsny's writing to that of with mischievousness," she said. "They're a soul prognosis."

Brezsny said of his approach: "So much of what happens in your life is stimulated by what you think is going to happen. I want readers to use their imagination to cook up new responses to the events in their lives. I'm on a mission to save peo-ple from the genocide of the imagi-

"I predict the present. I don't believe in predicting the future."
Although rarely mentioning

the novelist Tom Rohbins. The logical charts that Brezsny devises. horoscopes "are like little valenthe column has been around since tines, buoyant and spilling over 1980, when he was hired by Good Times, an alternative weekly in Santa Cruz, as its astrologer, at $15 a week. Now, he's syndicated in 58

Not everybody loves Brezsny's

"He has no standing in the profession," said Henry Weingarten, the director of a more mainstream resource organization, the New York Astrology Center. He dis-missed "Real Astrology" as a "silly column.

Brezsny also sings in a band called World Entertainment War and is writing a book on what he calls "macho feminism," the principle that men should nurture both their strong male and female characteristics. He lives in San Rafael. north of San Francisco, with his wife, Ro Loughran, and their 3year-old daughter, Zoe. His wife is lso an astrologer. Leo, April 6-12: "With all those pit bulls and weasels and vultures the neighborhood, I know it's been hard for you to maintain your leonine poise. And now I hear that the three-legged dog from hell over in cage No. 3 has invited a horde of fleas and a pack of lizards over for a slumber party. I think it may be time to check out the action at a new watering hole, at least on a provisional basis. I hear there's one place not too far from here where quite a nice mix of eagles, foxes and panthers hang out."

"My secret agenda," Brezsny d, "is to be a poet who gets "Real Astrology" is based on astro- paid for writing poetry."

One of Andy Warhol's versions of his "Campbell's Tomato Soup Can."

THE Soup Can Is No More

TASHINGTON - It was more than a can of soup. It was a comfort it was even a work of art.

But the Campbell's soup can that most of America — including Andy Warhol — grew up with, sang "M'm! M'm! Good!" with, is no more. In place of the harmoniously balanced yet graphically as-sertive red-and-white, text-only label, there is now a photographic Campbell's U.S. Soup Division, discerned a hreakthrough that called it a "very premeditated and helped legitimize anything as Pop intelligent refinement" of a "pow- art. erful equity" (which is corporate-speak for "label"). But that's not speak for "label"). But that's not "I just paint things that I always all it was also a concession to marthought were beautiful, things you rial tradition.

stunned the art world when he transformed what was considered a hanal commercial image into a sub-the product in- ject worthy of portraiture. Some high-minded critics deemed the side: Soup! high-minded critics deemed the F. Martin Thrasher, president of cans a satire of capitalism; others

But Warhol himself explained:

ket forces and a return to the picto- use every day and never think about." Growing up in Pittsburgh during the Depression, he had eat-In the early 1960s, Warhol en his share of Campbell's soup. The red-and-white lahel has been around since 1898; two years later Campbell added a graphic touting a gold medal for excellence, but few other "refinements" followed. The cans Warhol began painting in 1960 — the first was "Pepper Pot" — had the same compositional balance and dramatic use of white space, the same oddly tilted "O" in "SOUP," as today's cans. Like the Coke bottles he also painted, and the dollar bills, the Campbell's cans denoted permanence: icons of Americana.

"It's a testament to the classic quality of Warhol's paintings that it's taken decades for Campbell's to change the image on their labels on their soup cans," said Mark Francis, curator of the Andy Warhol Museum, which opens next month m Pittshurgh

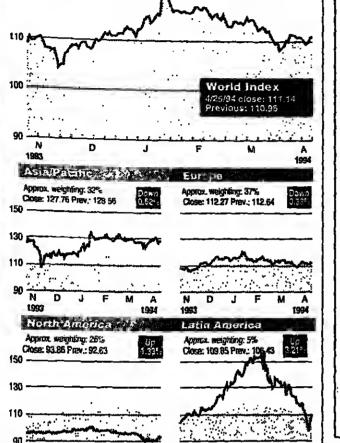

Thrasher himself described the Campbell's label as an "icon." Then why change it?

Because in a 12-month marketing test, 98 percent of people said they would definitely or probably buy soup in this new label," said Donnalyn Pompper, spokesman for Campbell's. Photos are easier to read than words. Said Pompper: The consumer is king."

Warhol, who mass-produced his art in a place called the Factory. would undoubtedly agree.

International Herald Tribune World Stock Index @, composed of 280 internationally investable stocks from 25 countries, compiled by Bloomberg Business News. Jan. 1, 1992 = 100.

index is composed of the 20 top issues in terms of

	Mon. Close	Pres.	change		Mon. close	Prev.	charge
inergy	111.65	110.61	+0.94	Capital Goods	111.75	111.53	+0.20
Utilities	119.52	119.07	+9.36	Rev: Materials	121,70	120,22	+1,23
Finance	114,96	115.43	-0.41	Consumer Goods	97.26	97,09	+0.18
Services	117.00	116,58	+0.38	Kiscellaneous	125.17	124.75	+0.34

With Fresh Investors Comes Risk of Great Volatility

International Herald Tribune, Tuesday, April 26, 1994

By Kenneth N. Gilpin New York Times Service
NEW YORK — The international debt crisis is finally over. Well, maybe.

A week ago, the world's biggest banks agreed to restructure the last big chunk of Latin America.

But the deal underscored a quiet change

It is a change that brings its own risks and the potential for new crises down the road, or just around the corner.

Where Emerging Nations Get Capital

the new players have funneled billions into what have come to be called emerging mar-kets. For many of these markets, the flood of new money is proof that the painful economic adjustments undertaken during the debt crisis at the behest of the banks and international lending organizations have paid off.

Making matters even more unsettled. many of those managing the new billions are relative novices in the developing world and emerging markets, their stability and safety.

The recent sharp selloff in emerging-market debt has been like a cold shower for some of the new investors. The selloff was triggered by the rise in interest rates in the United States, which made foreign investments less attractive. It sent bond values numbling 19 percent in the developing world in the first quarter, according to J.P. Morgan & Co.'s Emerging Market Bood Index.

To attract - and hold onto - the new money, these borrowers increasingly will have to compete with others who want the money just as badly. This year, for example, the Turkish government was unable to pass muster with Western-bond rating agencies, and it is still looking for a way to borrow $1

From now on, "the markets will begin to See DEBT, Page 11

Madrid Chooses Santander in Banesto Bidding

MADRID - Banco Santander became Spain's largest bank on Monday when it won a controlling stake in Banco Español de Crédito-banesto SA for 280.9 billion pese-tas ($2.04 billion), outbidding ri-vals Banco de Bilbao-Vizcaya and mance the acquisition and what it Argentaria Corporación Bancaria de España SA.

The acquisition also puts Banco Santander among Europe's top 10 banks, with assets of 18.6 trillion pesetas and 37,000 employees.

Banesto was put up for sale after the Bank of Spain fired us manage-ment and rescued it from the brink of bankruptcy last year after discovering its balance sheet was burdened by huge loans.
In the bidding, Banco Santander's offer was the equivalent of 762 pesetas a share. Banco de Bilbao-Vizcaya offered 667 pesetas a share and state-controlled Argentaria, 566 pesetas.

The central bank's governor, Luis Angel Rojo, announced the decision in a televised broadcast, after the results of an auction were analyzed by the Bank of Spain's Banco Santander acquired a 60.2 percent stake in Banesto. The auction conditions stipulated that 13.25 percent must be sold to existing shareholders at a nominal price of 400 pesetas a share. This left a total of 450 million shares on offer. equivalent to 73.45 percent.

As a result of the acquisicon, Banco Santander gained control of share of about 25 percent of Spain's banking market in terms of deposits.

In a statement issued shortly after Mr. Angel Rojo announced the winner, Banco Santander said it would direct Banesto toward traditional banking activities and sell its media interests.

with balance of payment problems. It also said it would raise capital The countries of Eastern Europe with a one-for-three share issue at and the former Soviet Union, be-2.250 pesetas, raising about 89 bilcause they were oot members of the tion pesetas in new capital and reserves to maintain its capital-ade-now stands at 13.36 percent, well above the recommended 8 percent.

Banking analysts said the change that the acquisition was likely to intended to do with the shares.

In addition, analysts noted that the condition of Banesto's finances was still not fully understood.

io in эm

cs-

1957 東京東部

s a he er. id.

Trading Losses Bite Into Profit At Salomon

NEW YORK - Salomon Inc. said Monday that it had "disappointing" first-quarter results as the rise in interest rates that disrupted bond and stock markets caused its securities subsidiary to lose $173 mil-

tion in client-related business. The securities and natural resources company said it earned $66 million, or 48 cents a share, in the quarter, well short of a $1.73-a-share consensus forecast of analysts. A year earlier, the company reported a loss of $102 million as its Salomon Brothers Inc. unit lost $319 million trading for its own ac-

COURT Salomon's stock fell $1.375 a share to $44.25.

Increased profits at the firm's Phibro commodities trading and oil refining units boosted the results.

Salomon said it bad losses in trading correncies and foreign securities with clients. A year ago, the company made 5230 million from client-driven activities. This quarter's losses were offset by profit of $212 million from berting the commercial debt in Brazil, effectively marking the end of the 12-year-old lending crisis in that has been rippling through the credit and equity markets of Laun America and much of the rest of the developing world: The banks have been superseded as the primary source of foreign capital by such new private investors as pension funds, mutual funds and ent firms.

Debt: A New Third World Order

Seeking diversification and higher returns.

But not so last, many international economists and lending experts say. The new lend-ers bring something besides money with them; they bring potential for great volatility. Unlike the banks, whose billions were tied up in long-term loans, most of the new lovestors are holding debt or equity securities that trade in the open market, and they will move on when it no longer pays to stay put, the experts Say.

have unrealistically high expectations about

Wat externel mancing obtained by major enterpling matrices from each type of creditor, in billions of dollars. Figurities

U.S. Refuses to Expand IMF's Reserves

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches

WASHINGTON - Treasury Secretary Lloyd Bentsen of the United States on Monday formally opposed a $50 billion increase in ternational cash reserves for the world's ailing economies.

Mr. Bentsen's rejection came one day after he and other officials from the Group of Seven industrial nations pointedly ignored a plan for the International Monetary Fund to create the new reserve assets, which O international Heraid Traume would be used in particular to aid Eastern Europe and the countries of the former Soviet Union. Mr. Bentsen, in an address to the 1MF, said the United States believed there were adequate reserves in the world economy for aid pur-

Moscow signals a sharply wider budget delicit, Page 11. poses, America, as well as European countries, is known to be concerned that the creation of new reserves on the scale of IMF proposal would be inflationary.

cial Drawing Rights, which com-prise a basket of currencies from the major industrial countries. Michel Camdessus, the IMF managing director, said last week that it was "urgent" the SDR issue

The United States has the ability to block allocation changes because it represents 18 percent of the

IMF voting shares, and 85 percent are needed to approve a request for expanded reserves. The IMF, which is holding its spring meeting in Washington, is considering the proposal for $50 billion in new Spe-

IMF when the last SDRs were issued, have oo SDR account.

be approved, SDRs are used by the IMF as a kind of overdraft protection for member countries. The reserves were created in 1970, as the dollar came under speculative at-tack, so that the IMF would have a stable means of assisting countries

Thinking Ahead /Commentary U.S. Mustn't Dawdle on the Trade Pact By Reginald Dale

ASHINGTON - Now that the world's biggest-ever trade agreement has been signed and sealed in Marrakesh, it is time to get it through the U.S. Coogress, and the sooner the better.

Already some dangerous ideas about the trade pact are afoot on Capitol Hill. The longer the agreement remains unratified, the more vulnerable it will be to protectionist Administration officials insist they will do everything necessary to ratify the pact, the fruit of seven years of arduous oegotiadons in the Uruguay Round. They say that President Bill Clinton is fully committed to the cause. But it is not clear the administration has learned the lessons of last year's near-fiasco over the North American Free Trade Agreement, saved only by a bont of last-rainute political arm-wrestling by Mr. Clinton. The administration's biggest mistake over NAFTA was complacency — underestimating the opposition and leaving its drive to win approval far too late. As a result, last-minute waverers squeezed a lot of promises out of Mr. Clinton that he would have been better off oot making.

This time there is much less organized opposition, but that could change as November's mid-term elections draw closer. Congress is by no means yet committed to the Uruguay Round and its schedule is already overloaded. The committees responsible for the trade pact also happen to have jurisdiction over the two biggest pending items of domestic legislation — health care and welfare reform.

Some major misconceptions need to be nipped io the bud. One is that it does not matter if the implementing legislation is put off until next year.

Yes, it does. Delay will increase the chances of the pact being blown off course—perhaps by a major oew trade dispute with Japan, China or even Canada.

Another mistaken impression is that the agreement can still be changed. Many Republicans think they can tighten up lax rules on subsidies, while some in both parties are demanding greater scope for unilateral U.S.

The House Republican whip, Newt Ging-rich, even wants to cut out the part of the agreement establishing the World Trade Organization, which he regards as a sinister organ of world government that will ride roughshod over American interests.

The longer the agreement remains unratified, the more vulnerable it will be to protectionist pressures.

But U.S. agreement to the World Trade Organization was an integral part of the Uruguay Round compromise. There is no way of reopening the negotiations now. Under the fast-track procedure in force for the treaty. Congress must in any case vote 'yes' or 'no' on the whole pact at once.

It is true the WTO means a loss of congressional sovereignty. But that will be no bad thing if it clips the wings of Capitol Hill's powerful protectionists. It will actually be good for the United States to be overruled by the world organization when Washington tries to take politically motivated action against other countries exports.

Where the debate enters the world of Alice in Wonderland is when it gets to bow to pay

Under U.S. budgetary rules agreed in 1990. Congress must find ways to offset the revenue lost from the Uruguay Round tariff cuts, which could amount to nearly $14 billion over five years or perhaps $40 billion over 10 years.

With the elections approaching, oobody wants to propose new taxes or spending cuts to bridge the gap. But nor does anyone want to suggest a waiver from the rules and set a precedent that opponents might exploit later on — the Democrats for health care or the Republicans for cuts in the capital gains tax.

The whole thing is absurd. In the next five years the government is likely to collect about $3 in revenue for every $1 lost in tariffs, because of vastly increased trade.

It is ridiculous to impose a budgetary penalty for freer trade, which pays for itself many times over. Congress should be brave enough to admit it has made a mistake and exempt trade agreements from the rules.

The maio thing for Congress to remember is that agreements to open up world trade are never perfect, but the United States has al-ways benefited from them.

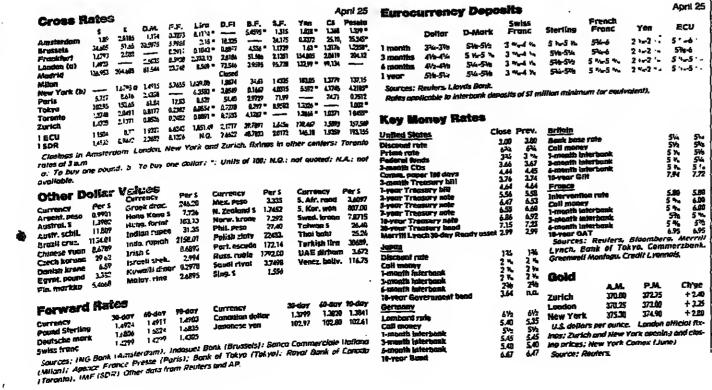

Mr. Clinton should remember that his decisive support for NAFTA woo top marks even from his critics as the high point of his first year in office. It is time for a repeat performance — preferably without the cliff-hanging finale.

quacy ratio above 10 percent. The firm's capital, (Bloomberg, Knight-Ridder) ratio of capital to risk-bearing assets A CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY O QUITE SIMPLY THE ROYAL OAK.

The master watchmaker.

For information and catalogue, please write to violencies Pignet & Uie S A., 1548 Le Brussus, Switzerland, Tel. (1/21/845/0/51/Fas. (1/21/845/1/21))

CURRENCY & INTEREST RATES

 \mathbf{P}_{i}

NEW YORK - Stock prices surged Monday after a number of blue-chip stalwarts, notably Du Pont, reported strong earnings and were given upgrades by brokerages.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed at 3,705.78, up 57.10 points, a gain sufficient to trigger the exchange's stock-trading collar, which limits trading and is designed to restrain volatility resulting from program trading.

U.S. Stocks

Gainers outnumbered losers by about 10 to 7 on the New York Stock Exchange, while volume was relatively light at 262.24 million shares, down from 295.74 million shares on Friday when the Dow industrials were nearly unchanged. Du Pont rose 3½ to 58% after reporting better-than-expected carnings and accounted for about one-fifth of the rise in the Dow industrials. Among the market's other notable gainers, Caterpillar, up 31/4 at 1111/4, and Boeing, up 1 from 44%, also boosted the average. Du Pont's results helped the chemical sector in particular. Monsanto rose 1% to 79%, and Dow Chemical climbed 2% to 61%.

Du Pont and some other companies are coming out with decent earnings, and bonds have settled down," said Thomas Gallagher chief trader at Oppenheimer & Co. Bond prices rose, and the yield on the benchmark 30-year Treasury bond fell to 7.15 percent from 7.23 percent on Friday.

"People are optimistic that bonds have calmed down," said Mr. Gallagher. "They have felt all along that inflation isn't a problem." A week ago, the Federal Reserve Board pushed up the interest rate on overnight bank loans to 3.75 percent from 3.50 percent, its third rate increase this year in a campaign to keep inflation from igniting.

Among active stocks, Tenneco rallied 1% to 52% a strong gain after press reports claimed the company would soon announce plans to sell its Case subsidiary.

Dealers said that the market may have also been boosted after Peter Lynch, former manager of Fidelity Magellan, the largest U.S. mutual fund, recommended a number of blue chips and claimed they were relatively cheap at the moment.

Microsoft rose 2 to 93% after the company announced its decision to split its stock for the first time in two years, taken as an encouraging sign by analysts of the company's confidence in its underlying computer software business.

(Reuters Bloomberg, Knight-Ridder)

Dollar Falls as Dealers See Yen Staying Strong

Compiled by Our Staff From Desputches NEW YORK - The dollar slipped Monday after the Group of Seven industrialized countries over the weekend did nothing to discourage a further rise by the yen, dealers and analysts said.

A dealer at Banque Nationale de Paris said that despite the fact that few dealers had expected anything to come out of the meeting of G-7 finance officials regarding foreign-exchange rates, the market had used the lack of any such development as an excuse to sell the U.S. currency.

Foreign Exchange

The dollar fell to 1.6798 Deutsche marks from 1.6882 Friday and to 103.05 yen from 103.24. The dollar dropped to 5.7655 French franc from 5.7860 but edged up to 1.4335 Swiss francs from 1.4325. The pound strengthened to $1.4915 from $1.4895.

An analyst at Smith Barney Shearson, Lisa Finstrom, said the IDEA, a consulting firm. political turmoil in Japan, where the Social Democratic Party said it was leaving the government coalidoxical effect of keeping the yen strong against the dollar.

That, she said, was because the Japanese government will be in no position to negotiate with the United States on trade issues until its political composition is settled, and without talks on trade. Washington would be likely to favor a high yen as a means of holding down Japan's trade surplus.

The evident lack of concern hy other G-7 members regarding the yen's strength tells the market that this is the right level for the moment against the dollar, with, if anything, further dollar weakness likely," Ms. Finstrom said. "The yen is not going to fall back until Japan gives in in some way to U.S. trade demands.'

The Social Democrats' withdrawal means the newly appointed prime minister, Tsutomu Hata, "is likely to put the trade issue on the backburner for the time being in order to concentrate on maintaining his power base," said Amy Smith, foreign-exchange analyst at

The dollar was pinned down against the mark by upbeat forecasts for Germany's economy, eastion, was likely to have the para- ing pressure on the Bundesbank to cut the country's interest rates. (AFX, Knight-Ridder, Bloomberg)

Paris Prices UAP Shares at 7.3% Discount

PARIS — The French government said Monday it would sell 47 million shares in Union des Assurances de Paris, France's largest insurer, at 152 French francs ($26) each to retail investors, a discount of 7.3 percent from the current market price.

Financial analysts in Paris said that the price was generally attractive even though the share has plunged percent since the start of the year. It closed Monday

The government said it expected the sale, which will include purchases by employees and institutional investors as well as retail investors, to bring in 18.5 Frère, a Belgian financier, billion francs ($3.19 billion).

The privatization, the fourth carried out by the government since October, was scheduled to begin on Tuesday and last until May 3. The government plans to sell its entire 50.24 percent stake.

The UAP board also approved plans on Monday for previously announced capital increase of 3.46 billion francs. The state is selling its entire 50.24 percent stake

The ministry said UAP's group of core shareholders-would be Cie. Générale des Eaux of France, Westdeutsche Landesbank Girozentrale of Germany and Soparinvest SA, a company controlled by Albert

AT&T Makes Proposal For System in Africa

Bloomberg Business News CAIRO - AT&T Corp. said Monday it had proposed building a fiber-optic communications network to connect African nations with one another and with other parts of the world. William B. Carter, president of AT&T Submatine Systems, Inc., said at the Africa Telecom '94 conference in Cairo that the proposed network would be operated by African authorities so that the revenue it generated would remain in Africa.

U.S./AT THE CLOSE

Slower Deliveries Hit Boeing Profit

SEATTLE (Combined Dispatches) - Boeing Co. said Monday that it first-quarter profit fell 10 percent, to $292 million, dragged lower by ship aircraft deliveries and financial factors.

The aircraft and aerospace company's earnings in the quarter through March 31 compared with $325 million a year earlier. Revenue slid 4 percent, to $6.35 billion. Boeing said investment income fell in the quarter while debt expenses rose. At the same time, the company delivered 82 commercial jet transports, compared with 93 in first-quarter 1993. Still, the earnings, at 86 cents a share, exceeded analysts' estimates of around 73 cents, and Boeing said it still expected 1994 deliveries at 20's aircraft, with 1994 sales around $21 billion. (Bloomberg, Knight-Ridder)

DuPont Stronger Across the Board WILMINGTON, Delaware (AP) - DuPont Co., the big chemical company, reported a 30 percent increase in first-quarter earnings Monday, reflecting gains in its key businesses and the results of cost-cutting. DuPont reported earnings of $642 million, compared with $493 million year earlier. Revenue was $9.2 billion, up 1 percent.

DuPont has eliminated 17,000 jobs worldwide since July 1991. The company's petroleum earnings for the first quarter of 1994 were $215 million, up 8 percent. Weak oil prices were offset by rising natural gas prices and volumes, and by growing crude volumes outside the United States. Chemicals carnings were $83 million, up 20 percent. Fibers carnings of $144 million were up 41 percent. Polymers earnings were $147 million, up 91 percent from last year.

Low Oil Prices Cut Into Texaco Net

NEW YORK (AP) - Texaco Inc. on Monday reported a 27 percent decline in first-quarter profit, as rising natural gas prices and growing profit for refined products were not enough to offset low oil prices.

Texaco earned a net $202 million on revenue of $7.43 billion in the first three months of the year. A year earlier, the company earned $278 million

Exploration and production earnings fell 43 percent, to $120 million. Refining and marketing profit rose 9 percent, to $203 million.

CNN to Broadcast Over PC Networks

SAN FRANCISCO (Reuters) - Intel Corp and Cable News Network said Monday that they would test live multimedia news services on business personal computers.

Beginning in May at several test sites, business PCs on local-area networks will display programming from CNN, part of Turner Broad-

Video applications have in the past taken up too much bandwidth, or space on broadcast waves, to be used on networks of computers such as those in offices. Intel said that it had developed a compression technology that allows delivery of video using less than 5 percent of the bandwidth needed previously.

Growing Tire Sales Help Goodyear

AKRON, Ohio (Bloomberg) - Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. said Monday that first-quarter profit rose 34 percent because of heavy demand from U.S. automakers for tires.

Goodyear measured net profit of $116 million in the 1994 quarter against operating profit of $87.1 million in the 1993 quarter, in order to exclude the effect of a one-time charge of $86.3 million a year earlier.

Revenue rose 3 percent, to $2.91 billion, reflecting a 4 percent increase in tire sales that was fueled by demand in the United States and Latin America.

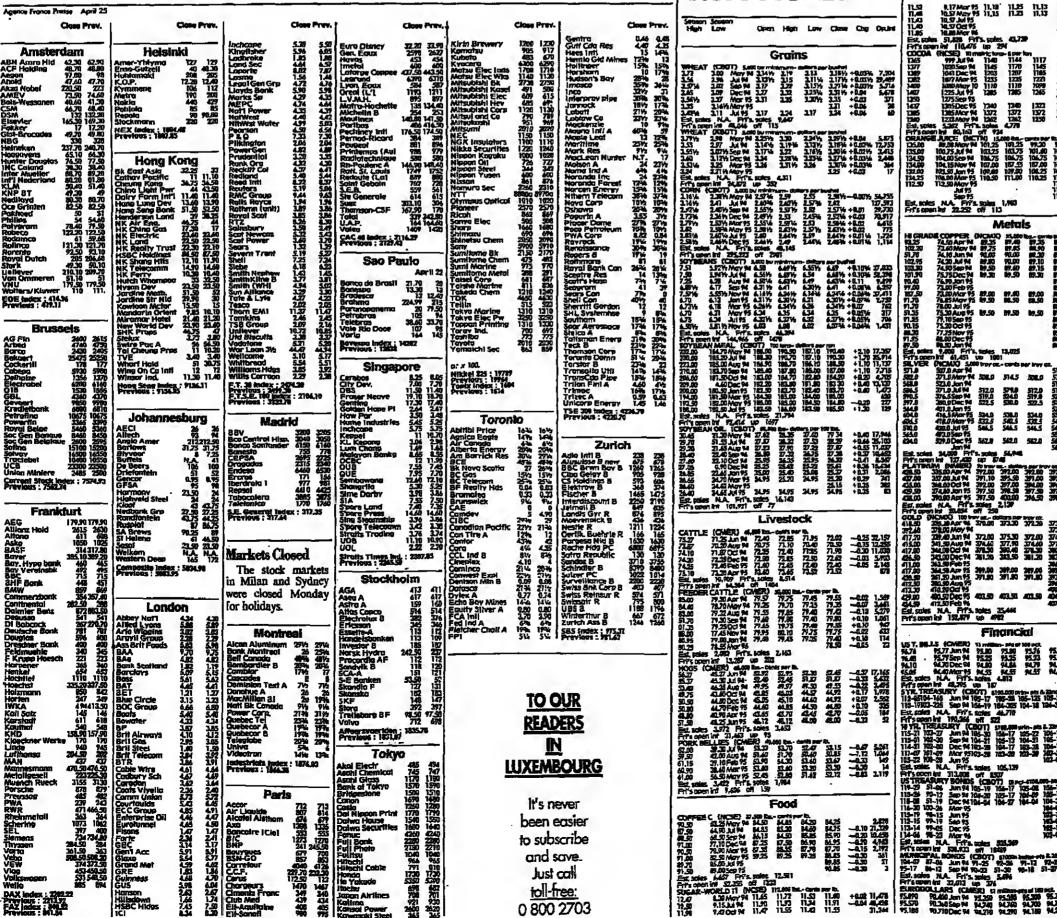

The number of tires sold in the United States rose 12.1 percent, Goodyear said. International sales increased only 2 percent, to $1.2 billion, dragged down by the economic slowdown in Europe and the effect of the strength of the U.S. dollar against other currencies.

Weekend Box Office

The Associated Press LOS ANGELES - "Bad Girls" dominated the U. S. box office with a gross of $5 million over the weekend. Following are the Top 10 moneymakers, based on Friday ticket sales and estimated sales for Saturday and

Sunday. 1. "Bod Ciris" 2. "Four Wed $5 million $4.7 million 2 "Four Weddings and a f
2 "The latwell"
"The Paper"
"Cors and Robber sons"
"The Mighty Ducks"
"Major League II"
7. "Thrensune"
"Brokhacon"
9. "Schladler's List"
10 "White Fone 2" 52.5 million (Wall Disney) (Worner Bros.) (Trislar) 57.0 million SI.S million

WORLD STOCK MARKETS

and save. Just call toll-free:

1.5130 1.4950 1.4950 1.4950 1.4950 1.4950 0.7105 0.7760 0.7502 0.7502 0.7502 0.7503 0.7503 0.5013 0.5013 0.5017 0. 5777777777 -0.10 201 -0.20 14-823 -0.10 27-367 -0.05 4.103 -0.05 4.103 -0.10 2-519 -0.05 615 -0.10 +0.05 Industrials 83,90 81,60 74,20 72,15 73,65 72,60 12.17 10.43 74.20 72.10 73.05 73.55 72.60 30,107 61,160 7,15 11,100 5,413 2,477 729 +3.40 +3.90 +4.30 +4.30 +4.30

. soles 42 of 3732 f (MME) 17,01 14,71 14,51 14, FIRCURCI
US T, BR.1.5 (CAMER) 11 Indian - Indian
S.7.8 95.77 Jan 19 92.0 93.0
S.4.6 96.77 Jan 19 92.0
S.7. TREASURY (CBOT) STOLLOW OF 113-5516-16.7
S.7. TREASURY (CBOT) STOLLOW OF 113-5516-16.7
S.7. TREASURY (CBOT) STOLLOW OF 113-5216-17
S.7. TREASURY (CBOT) STOLLOW OF 113-18
S.7. TREASURY BONDS (CBOT) BOOK 113-18
S.7. TREASURY BONDS (CBOT) BOOK 113-19
S.7. TREASURY BONDS (CBOT 61.30 60.50 51.00 51.00 51.00 51.00 40.35 40.35 52.00 50.00 50.00 95.77 95.34 94.86 94.86 94.86 Stock Indexes 20 nen 424,112 49,007 32,941 2,350 287 76 37

مكامن الأصل

+0.01 15.535 +0.05 2,202 +0.03 1,199 +0.01 351 -0.02 39 38,543 13,558 4,420 10,485 584 2,640 521 401 4,770

Bourgues BSN-GO Correfour CCF. Cerus Chargeurs Chargeurs

Russic Si

DEBT.

Mc "

U.K. Economy Grows for 8th Straight Quarter

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches LONDON — Britain's economy grew for the eighth consecutive quarter in the first quarter of 1994 and output is now back at the levels seen before the 1990-92 recession, data published Monday show.

AMERICA COM CONTRACTOR

Secretar Into Total

Salvante Ner POL

W. San - Helping

The Central Statistical Office said gross domestic product grew 0.7 percent io the first quarter from the previous one, the same as io the final three months of 1993.

The year-on-year growth rates

Russia Signals Wider Deficit

MOSCOW - Russia announced plans Monday for a sharply wider hudget deficit. jeopardizing targets agreed with the International Monetary Fund and risking fragile plans for economic reforms.

But economists said that much would depend on whether parliament approved additional spending when it de-bates the budget this week.

Alexander Pochinok, deputy head of a parliamentary budget committee, said a new Finance Ministry draft envisaged a 1994 hudget deficit of 68.8 trillion rubles ($38.4 billion), widened by 10.3 percent from a previous draft.

edged up to 2.6 percent in the first quarter from 2.4 percent in the fi-nal quarter of 1993. The government has forecast 2.5 percent growth for 1994. The output index rose to 100.7, a level last seen in the second quarter of 1990. The economy shrank over the subsequent seven quarters. A spokesman for the Treasury said Monday that the economy had now experienced "two years of recovery across a broad front." The government also said Monday that Britaio's merchandise trade deficit with non-European Union countries was £675 million ($1 billion) in March, little changed from £640 million in February. Figures covering trade with the European Union are being delayed by problems with a new data-gathering procedure introduced at the start of 1993. Merchandise trade covers physical goods and excludes payments for services such as insurance, shipping and banking, and dividends. Richard Needham, a junior trade minister, said the value of manufactured exports in the first quarter of this year was 15 percent higher than in the year-earlier quarter, and exporters had done well in Asian and North American markets.

But the recent trend toward a widening trade deficit is troubling economists, who said they were concerned that Britain could be facing one of its periodic balanceof-payments crises in the near fu-

Lloyd's Braces for Court

International Herald Tribune

LONDON ---- An expected grim week for the Lloyd's of London insurance market got off to a surprisingly had start Monday. As lawyers put their finishing touches on opening arguments for Tuesday's commencing of the largest legal case brought by Lloyd's members against their under-writing syndicators, a study released Monday con-cluded that the market's reserves against pollution and asbestos claims were only a small fraction of the claims it would probably face.

The report, written by Randolf Fields Wires have it spelled Randolph, an insurance industry consultant, estimated those liabilities at £26 billion ($39 billion) and Lloyd's reserves at only a tenth of that. Mr. Fields said Lloyd's reserves were inadequate to cope even with expected asbestos claims much less the far larger burden of pollution claims.

Nick Doak, a Lloyd's spokesman, said the re-port was "nothing new," and faulted it for several technical inaccuracies. He conceded, however, that Lloyd's own attempts to quantify its asbestos and pollution related liabilities has yet to reach a con-clusion. The company's legal woes pose more immediate problems. Those problems will begin a thorough airing Tuesday, when lawyers representing 3,095 individuals whose capital backed insurance policies for seven syndicates managed by the Gooda Walker agency will begin their High Court action seeking £600 million in compensation.

"We think we have a good case based on clear evidence," said Richard Platts, membership secretary of the Gooda Walker Action Group.

The Gooda Walker group is one of 40 such groups of wealthy people who have financed the market since its inception 300 years ago. The backers, known as the Names, are seeking total compensation in excess of £2.5 billion for negli-

In February, Lloyd's offered to settle all legal actions out of court by awarding the Names a total of £900 million, but the offer was roundly rejected.

As the first major legal case and as the largest, Gooda Walker will be closely watched. "It is important because it will set the trend for the other cases," said Charles Surge, co-editor of Chatset, an organization that tracks the Lloyd's market.

Sweden Chips Away at Welfare State

STOCKHOLM - The huge budget deficit that has given life support to the Swedish welfare state will be sharply reduced by the turn of the century, Finance Minister Anne Wibble said Monday.

She presented a plan to speed already-announced budget cuts, slashing another 20 billion kronoi ($2.54 billion) to bring the total sixyear package of cuts to 100 billion

Mrs. Wibble said that to meet the long-term goal of further reductions, pension benefits would be reduced and the retirement age would be raised to 66 years from 65, The center-right minority government may have difficulties getting structural reforms to increase flexi-further reductions approved in parfiament however, Goran Persson, a member of the opposition Social ■ Volvo Sells Cardo Stake Democratic Party, called the new

Mrs. Wibble predicted unem-ployment would total 8 percent in 1994 and 7.2 percent in 1995, while growth would be 2.4 percent this an Agence France-Presse dispatch year and 3 percent next year.

budget cuts "a very weak proposal."

The government presented three different scenarios for economic development after 1995 and all egy, which was announced last three assume that Sweden will be a week" to concentrate on its car and member of the European Union. truck husiness. The operation was The government's favored scenario expected to yield a capital gain of search International said.

aims for 4 percent growth and for about 2.6 billion kronor.

(Bloomberg.

(AP, AFX, Bloomberg)

Volvo AB has sold its 43.8 percent stake in the Swedish investment coocero lovestmeot AB Cardo for about 3.7 billion kronor, Volvo said Monday, according to from Gothenburg, Sweden. Volvo said that the disposal of the stake was part of its "new strat-

Siemens Is Resolutely Cautious

هكذامن الأجل

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches MUNICH — Siemens AG, the electrical and telecommunications giant, said Monday that its net profit rose slightly in the first half of the business year but that it still expects a decline in full-year earnings. Some market analysts were more sanguine than the company, however, predicting flat profit at the worst for the year.

Siemens said net profit was 879 million Deutsche marks ($521 million) for the six months to March 31, up from 877 million DM a year earlier. Sales rose 3 percent, to 38 billion DM, while orders rose 9 percent, to 44.4 billion DM.

A spokesman said that Siemens still expected its profit to decline in the business year ending Sept. 30, from the 1.98 billion DM it earned in 1992-93. In January, the company said it expected a fall of 10 percent to 15 percent.

Siemens, which typically has earned a large slice of its profit from returns on its financial investments, has said its 1994 result would be hit by falling interest rates in Europe.

Manfred Piontke, analyst at Bank Julius Bär in Frankfurt, called first-half orders "really quite good." A pair of London-based analysts had a different perspective. The period of underperformance is over," Kevin Brao at Credit Suisse First Boston said. In the coming half, Siemens should show further modest improvement, due largely to better financial returns, he said

"I think at worst you're looking at flat earnings" for the year, Dennis Exton at Merrill Lynch Re-(Bloomberg, Reuters)

Investor's Europe London "Pens FTSE 100 Index CAC 40 1906 N O J. FM A 414.96 419.11 0.09 7,574,93 7,582.74 +0.16 2202.22 2,218.92 40.53 840.52 841.84 01 9|,30 26,108,1 8F,408,1 ", "SH" | Ministrati Figure at Times 80 2,474.20 2,489.30 1.00 3,106:10 3,139.70 0.88 317.35 317.64 -0.09 Closed 3,253.00 Paris CAC40 2,116.29 2,129.43 0.62 Spekholm Affaithyseiden Vianna Stockinder 1,835.78 (,831.07 +0.26 454.00 ~ 458.53 >0.99 975.31 981.63 0.64

Very briefly:

 Thomson-CSF, the French state-controlled electronics company, is unable to publish its 1993 results by the April 30 government deadline because of problems in calculating its share of a plan to support Credit Lyonnais, the state-run bank that posted a loss of 7.0 billion francs ($1

· Airbus Industrie received orders for 35 oew aircraft during the first quarter but also 29 cancellations; the European aircraft building consortium sold only 38 aircraft for all of 1993.

Svenska Handelsbanken AB, the Swedish bank, earned 1.23 billioo kronor ($156 million) after loan losses in the first quarter of 1993, up from 316 million a year ago, helped by a sharp reduction io credit losses. · Royal PTT Nederland NV, the Dutch post and telecommunications operator, will be partially privatized in early June, with the government eventually selling off two-thirds of the company; private investors will be

 Norsk Hydro A/S, the Norwegian energy and chemical company, said first-quarter earnings rose 48 percent from a year ago, to 1.3 billion kroner ($177 million) because of currency gains on oil revenue; the company sells its oil in dollars on the international market.

DEBT: Change in Lineup of Private Lenders to Developing Nations Brings Potential for a New Kind of Crisis

Continued from Page 9

exert more discipline oo these countries," said Lincoln Rathnam, director of emerging markets at Scudder, Stevens & Clark, an investmeot management company based in New York, "If people doo't like a particular policy, they will react to it and exert a rather severe penalty oo local securioes

Still, despite the recent bond selloff, many investors' faith in the developing world remains strong, in part because of changes that have already been implemented in

That faith has been tested in Mexico this year, for example, by

NYSE

Monday's Closing Tables include the nationwide prices up to the closing on Wall Street and do not reflect late trades elsewhere. Via The Associated Press

the peasant uprising in Chiapas and the assassination of the ruling party's presidential candidate. But, while investors were rattled - as much as $8 billion has been pulled out of the country since the start of alone. Without strong economic the year - many are staying put, growth, meeting interest payments and some even see buying opportu-

"There has been huge conceptual progress," said Pedro Pablo Kuczynski, a former minister of mines in Peru who is oow chief executive Westfield Capital, a Miamibased investment firm that takes equity positions in Latin American companies. "But we still have a long way to go. And the debt is still high."

Indeed, while most of the debt problems left over from the '80s have been worked out, a lot of that debt remains to be serviced, about $500 billioo of it in Latin America will be a challenge.

And that could result in a supreme test of faith for the new investors: If some governments and private borrowers default on their bonds, as some specialists say is inevitable, the developing world could wind up holding the bag. In the '80s, banks had little choice but to work out their probdecide to take their losses and go elsewhere.

Last year, the major emergingmarket economies saw about $180.8 billion in oet inflows of foreign capital, according to the Insti-tute for International Finance, a Washington-based organization established in the '80s by big banks to monitor the debt crisis.

Nearly 74 percent, or $133.4 billion, came from institutions such as pension funds, mutual funds and investment banks, which invested in equity or bonds of private comlems, pumping in more money to panies that were formed during the keep their debtors afloat. But the debt crisis. Commercial hanks, by new investors, who individually comparison, accounted for just policymakers" in developing na-have much less at stake, may just $23.9 billion of the gain. That is a sharp contrast from 1981, when commercial banks accounted for 86 percent of the private money that flowed into these The problem, according to some,

is that many investment decisions made over the past few years were motivated more by low interest rates in the industrialized world than by reasoned assessments of the countries and their economies,

New money "went to countries that were performing and to others that were oot performing," said Charles Dallara, managing director of the Institute for loternational

At a recent conference, Mr. Dallara said this habit of indiscriminate investing ran the risk of "in-

Now, the risk is that some unforeseeo financial failure will turn the spigot off as abruptly as it was turned on.

Policymakers in developing countries have their work cut out for them, Mr. Dallara said. Not only must they constantly upgrade information for investors, he said. but they should also be consistent in their policies.

"If you deviate from sound policy over time, your access to a cer-tain market will close up again," he said.

Still, among developing countries, the movement toward investor-friendly transparency is likely to be uneven. As a consequence, there will almost certainly be bumps, perhaps big bumps, along

World Trade Chief to Depart

International Herald Tribune PARIS -- Peter Sutherland, the director-general of GATT who last December helped to push through the world's higgest trade accord, said on Monday he would not be a candidate to head the World Trade Organization that is to be set up early next year.

The former Irish attorney general and European Union competition commissioner made the announcement in a statement. Mr. Sutherland first indicated he might leave the Geneva-based job in an interview earlier this month with

The announcement came less than two weeks after the signing in Marrakesh of the Final Act of the Uruguay Round, effectively a world trade treaty. The accord, reached under GATT anspices, creates the World Trade Organization, which will absorb the 47-year-old GATT.

Mr. Sutherland's announcement came on his 48th birthday; he is not expected to stay in Geneva beyond Doc. 31. There have been sugges-tions, which he has denied, that he might be a candidate later this year to succeed Jacques Delors as president of the European Commission, SAFRA REPUBLIC HOLDINGS S.A.

REPUBLIC NEW YORK CORPORATION SAFRA REPUBLIC HOLDINGS S.A.

REPUBLIC NEW YORK CORPORATION

Consolidated Statements of Condition and Summaries of Results

These statements and summaries represent the consolidated accounts of Republic New York Corporation and its wholly owned subsidiaries and of Safra Republic Holdings S.A. and its wholly owned subsidiaries. Republic New York Corporation owns 48.8% of Safra Republic Holdings S.A., which is accounted for by the equity method.

	March 31,	March 31,
	1994 1993	1994 1993
Assets		$ except per share data)
Cash and due from banks	$ 602,263 $ 446,934	$ 51,341 $ 60,864
Interest bearing deposits with banks	5,505,088 7,271,423	3,964,369 3,3 01,579
Precious metals	1,521,937 419,242	1
Investment securities	14,585,763 13,063,123	6,285,640 5,557,635
Trading account securities	2,954,056 844,131	93,368 43,617
Federal funds sold and securities purchased		1 _ 1
under resale agreements	2,159,596 1,769,200
Loans, net of unearned income	10,051,994 7,925,159	1,251,398 1,173,516
Allowance for possible loan losses	(313,416) (251,870)	(110,901) (56,790)
Loans (net)	9,738,578 7,673,289	1,140,497 1,116,726
Other assets	4,795,335 _ 3,282,057	329,00 3 280,081
Total assets	$41,862,616 $34,769,399	$ 11,864,218 $ 10,360,502
Liabilities
Total deposits	$22,139,301 $20,713,976	$ 7,667,212 $ 6,819,860
Trading account liabilities	2,484,17 7 114,558
Short term borrowings	5,879,697 4,228,341	2,015,178 1,705,094
Other liabilities	4, 010,969 3,091,999	240,197 231,215
Long term debt	2,628,242 2,175,662	750,000 447,600
Subordinated long-term debt and perpental capital notes	2,205,674 2,130,988
M 1 11 17 4		1
Shareholders' Equity	FFC 438 554 435] }
Cumulative preferred stock	556,425 556,425 714,802 711,288	904,302 901,870
Common stock and surplus, net of treasury shares	714,802 711,288 1,265,093 1,046,162	343,608 254,863
Retained earnings Ner unrealized loss on securities available for sale,	1,203,102	343,006 234,003
net of taxes	(21,764) –	(56,279) –
Total shareholders' equity	2,514,556 2,313,875	1,191,631 1,156,733
Total liabilities and shareholders' equity	$41,862,616 $ 34,769,399	$ 11,864,218 $10,360,502
Book value per share	$ 37.32 $ 33.67	$ 67.17 $ 63.37
Client portfolio assets in custody		$ 5,779,502 $ 3,697,565
Net income, for the three months ended	$ 79,779 $ 8,745 $ 1.38 $ 1.18	$ 43,247 $ 27,205 $ 2.44 $ 1.54
Net income per common share (primary)		$ 2.44 $ 1.54
Average common shares outstanding (primary)	52,557 52,196	17,738 17,703

Risk-Based Capital Ratios

As of March 31, 1994, Republic New York Corporation's risk-based core capital ratio was 16.15% (estimated) and total qualifying capital ratio was 27.80% (estimated.) The ratios include the assets, risk-weighted in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Reserve Board specifically applied to Republic New York Corporation on a fully consolidated basis and capital of Safra Republic Holdings S.A. Total consolidated assets are approximately US$ 52 billion and total consolidated capital, including minority interest and subordinated debt, exceeded US$ 5.3 billion.

Republic New York Corporation Fifth Avenue at 40th Street New York, New York 10018

Safra Republic Holdings S.A. 32, boulevard Royal 2449 Luxembourg

Banking Locations

Geneva, Gibraltar, Guernsey, London, Lugano, Luxemburg, Milan, Monte Carlo, Paris, Zurich, Beverly Hills, Cayman Islands, Los Angeles, Mexico City, Miami, Montreal, Nassau, New York, Buenos Aires, Caracas, Montevideo, Punta del Este, Rio de Janeiro, Santiago, Beirut, Beijing, Hong Kong, Jakarta, Singapore, Sydney, Taipei, Tokyo

The first of the sense in the first of the sense of the s

12 Month
High Low Stock Div Ytd PE 100s High Low-Linest Chrige
12 Month
13 Month
14 Month
15 Month
16 Month
16 Month
16 Month
16 Month
17 Month
18 Month
18

THE REPORT OF THE PARTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY O

温度

THE RESIDENCE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF THE PART

STATE OF THE PERSON OF THE PER

ROYAL

THE PARTY OF のでは、一般のできるのでは、これのでは、 ののでは、 ののではないのでは、 ののでは、 のののでは、 ののののでは、 のののでは、 のののでは、 のののでは、 のののでは、 ののでは、 の 4 1975 2 多流路 量 经流

STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE P

STATE OF STA

TO THE PARTY OF THE

THE COURT OF THE PROPERTY OF T

Firstings with first size translaters as a water in the first size with the first size of the first size with the first size of the first size with the first size of the firs The the terms of terms of the terms of the terms of terms of the terms of terms of terms of terms of terms of terms of ter The first off which is a first than a first than the first that the first than th

TOTAL IN THE STREET OF THE STR

MOREC.THA 3153

Membership No.

Thai's frequent flyer programme is all class. (First, Business and Economy.)

THE RESERVE OF THE PERSON OF T

ABSOLATING WE WENT WITH THE PROPERTY OF THE PR

Species of the second s State of the State

Herder History and the freeze of the state o

The Third of the factor of the

The control of the co

The second is the first in the delighter when the second is the second in the second is the second in the second i Production of the state of the THE REAL PROPERTY OF THE PROPE

STATE OF STREET

A feature of the second of the عكمامن الأعل

HONG KONG — Asia Television Ltd., one of Hong Kong's television stations, has agreed to provide the regional satellite broadcaster STAR TV with more than 1,000 hours of Chinese-language programs a year for the next three years, the companies said.

The two companies will also coproduce at least 40 hours of television dramas every year to be simultaocously broadcast oo Asia Television and the STAR network, which is owned by Rupert Murdoch's News Corp. Asia Televisioo will show them in Cantonese and STAR will air them in Mandarin.

The agreement resolves a dispute that has simmered between the two ever since a similar accord reached in 1991 proved to be unworkable. That prevented Asia Television broadcasters in Asia, but it also prevented STAR from showing Asia Television programs for long periods of time while they were being marketed on video by Asia Television.

Under the new accord, Asia Television will be able to distribute its programs throughout Asia.

STAR is scrambling to acquire programming for its two Chinese-language channels, iocluding a recently launched movie channel.

The agreement may help Asia Televisioo to break even or make a profit this year after many years of losses, said Ken Lwok, the secretary of the company. Asia Televi-sion is 50.83 percent owned by Lim Por-yen, the chairman of the Hong Kong real estate concern Lai Sun Development Co.

Japanese Car Output Falls

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches TOKYO — Japanese vehicle production fell 12 percent in the year to March 31, the third straight year of decline and the biggest drop since 1947, the Japan Automobile Manufacturers' Association said Monday. But anto industry analysts said they expected output to stabilize at slightly higher levels in 1994-95. "Japan's vehicle production is likely to be around 11 million vehicles in 1994-95," said Noriyuki Matsushima, an analyst at the Nikko Research Center. The country's automakers produced 10.85 million vehicles in 1993-94.

Analysts attributed the fall in last year's production to sluggish domestic demand and exports, along with a shift to overseas production because of the yea's appreciation. But they said domestic demand should bottom in the first half of the year and then recover in step with the economy, while the yen was bound to depreciate from its current lofty levels.

In 1993-94, car output fell 11.8 percent, truck production fell 12.7 percent and hus output declined The association reported a 7.1

percent decline in domestic demand, which marked the third straight yearly fall, and an estimated 18.3 percent drop in exports. Japan exported $55.90 billion worth of assembled cars and $15.45 billioo worth of car components in 1993-94, while it imported $5.60 billion worth of assembled cars. In value terms, Japan's car and car-related industries account for about 13 percent of its manufactur-

Wall Street Likes Japan Economy Expected to Lift Tokyo Stocks

By Kenneth N. Gilpin New York Times Service Political instability, a sour economy and an overvalued cur-rency are usually not mentioned in the same breath as a promising stock market. But in the case of Japan, the well-documented troubles have turned its market into a contrarian play.

"Japan is a case where all the bad news is out and on the table," said Miebael Metz, chief investment strategist at Oppen-heimer & Co. "I think it is a relatively attractive market, and my guess is the surprise will be on the upside."

Japanese stock prices have performed decently so far this year, rising by more than 13 percent, while markets in other Asian countries with superior short-term fundamentals took a beating and the bull markets in the rest of the world stambled. In dollar terms, the Japanese market's gain has been even more impressive: about 24 percent. The rebound, though fueled by money fleeing other markets, is no passing fad, many money managers said in recent interviews. While they tempered their comments with a short brany of risks, the money managers described the recent run-up as the possible barbinger of a true economic recovery in Japan.

After four dismal years during which the Nikkei average of 225 stocks fell from its high of 39,000 to flirt with 15,000, the first-quarter turnabout has turned some heads. (The Nikkei closed Monday at 19,709.14 points, down 255.25, in the middle of its range over the last couple of months.) Douglas Johnson, a senior international equity strategist at Merrill Lynch & Co., dismissed the Japanese market at the beginning of the year and pointed to better opportunities elsewhere, especially in Europe. His view has changed. "The market is looking increasingly attractive, in part because of the upcoming economic recovery," Mr. John-

It is a recovery that virtually all those interviewed expect to be modest. But after four years of declining corporate earnings any economic gain should bolster profits and thus stock prices. David Ishibashi, a vice president and portfolio manager at Smith Barney Shearson, pulled oo punches. "Earnings reports for the fiscal year that ended on March 31 will start to come out in May, and they will be horrible," he said. "Estimates for the current he said. "Estimates for the current fiscal year will be very conserva-tive." But Japanese companies have a good chance of exceeding those estimates, he explained.

On the political front, Japan's ruling coalition on Monday installed Tsutomu Hata as prime minister, but the Socialists later threatened to leave the coalition. "Many iovestors are coo-cerned about political risk, but so far the major wave toward deregulation, political reform and greater participation in politics hasn't shown any signs of reversing," said Sung Kwak, a

To succeed

He devotes

Some portfolio managers also take comfort from the fact that Japanese investors — institutions and individuals — have mostly kept their hands in their pockets amid the turmoil. Increased opomism about the economy and politics could send their stockpiles of savings into equities.

Foreign investment is driving the market for now. John R. Hickling, a portfolio manager at Fidelity lovestment Services who runs its $1.8 billion Overseas Fund and its Japan Fund, said the country fund's assets had more than doubled since the start of the year, to $277 million. When asked to oame promising investments, Mr. Hickling and other money managers recited a strikingly similar list.

Among their favorites, blue-chip electronics exporters, including Sony Corp. and Hitachi Ltd., companies that have been revamping their operations to cope with the strong yen and that will benefit from strong sales abroad when — and if — the currency loses some of its potency.

"There are a couple of themes m Japan," said George A. Murnaghan, a vice president at Rowe Price-Flemiog in Baltimore.

"Play sectors that benefit from an economic rebound," he said, citing companies like Nippon

Coosumer-oriented stocks also stand to benefit as the Japa-uese economy picks up. Mr. Murnaghan said be liked retailing stocks, especially Xebio, a sporting goods company, and companies involved in modernizing Japan's housing stock, such as Daiwa House, which makes prefabricated homes.

Helen Sheng, an assistant vice president at the U.S. Trust Co., said, "We like discount retailers like Ito-Yokado and Autoback 7, a discount auto parts retailer."

A Dispute On Price of India Issue

هكذامن الأجل

NEW DELHI - Plans by India's overseas telecommunications monopoly to raise up to $1 billion managers said Monday. But officials close to the company, Videsh Sanchar Nigam Ltd., contested this, saying investors were simply trying to talk the issue price down. Videsh Sanchar Nigam, which is state-controlled, wants to raise the money by selling 20 million shares in the form of global depositary receipts, which are tradeable certificates held by overseas custodian banks on behalf of investors. "I will be very surprised if they are able to raise $1 billion," said a fund manager who attended a company presentation last week in London.

The fund manager, who asked not to be identified, said the timing for the sale was wrong because nearly all Indian global depositary receipts listed in London are quoted at a discount to their issue price.

"The issue has been priced very aggressively," another overseas fund manager said.

Videsh Sanchar Nigam will price the securities next week and has said it hopes to sell them at 1,400 to 1,600 rupees ($44.50 to $50.80) a share. That would put the shares at a future price/earnings ratio of about 40, one fund manager said. But the company appears to have received some offers below 1,100 rupees, said Dinesh Valji, head of Bhimji-Valji & Co. brokerage. Its shares currently trade between 1,200 and 1,300 rupees in Bombay.

The officials close to the compaoy, who asked not be identified, said there was a campaign by some investors to bargain down the price of the GDRs to recoup losses incurred through lodian mutual funds. They said there were no plans to cut the size or price.

"The issue is doing extremely well but there is a disinformation campaign," one official said. "This is typical Wall Street aggression."

Very briefly:

Chinese workers' average annual incomes rose 19.4 percent last year, to 3.236 yuan ($373), although the real increase was whittled down to 2.8 percent by inflation, a Labor Ministry spokesman said.

NEC Corp.'s sales of personal computers in Japan rose 25 percent from a year earlier, to 740,000 units, in the six months ended March 31.

 Itochu Corp, announced that it and Hitachi Ltd., along with ABB Asea
 Brown Boveri Ltd., had won a contract to build a coal-fueled power plant in Australia valued at about 45 billion yen ($434 million).

 Mitsubishi Kasei Corp. signed an accord giving Astra AB of Sweden the right, exclusively or jointly with Mitsubishi Kasei, to develop and sell some Mitsubishi Kasei pharmaceuticals in Europe, Australia and New Zealand. • Japanese department store sales fell 4 percent in March from a year earlier, to 747.1 billion yen, the Department Store Association said.

 Alcatel Alsthom opened its first Malaysian plant, under its share of a 2 billion ringgit ($743 million) contract to supply digital telephone lines.

 South Korea is sending requests for proposals to seven foreign companies that formed consortiums with local partners to seek a $100 million cootract for a cellular communications oetwork for South Korea's highspeed-railway project.

 Singapore, Knala Lumpur, Taipei and Manila stock markets leaped on strong buying of blue-chip and industrial issues, and some brokers and applicate and described and returned to some brokers. analysts said confidence had returned to some battered Asian bourses.

Are Rights Their Business? Companies Are Urged to Lean on China

By Peter Behr

Washington Post Service WASHINGTON - Jeffrey B. Swartz of Timberland Co., the trendy sporting shoe company, recalls that he had an immediate reaction to the 1989 massacre of dissidents in Beijing: He ordered the company to stop selling its shoes in China.

Timberland's international vice president at the time, Mr. Swartz moved up in 1991 to become operating officer of the company his father founded. He then directed that Timberland, based in Hampton, New Hampshire, phase out its purchases of Chinese made hiking boots, as well. Timberland will not do business with a system it regards as "fundamentally evil," he said in an interview. Timberland's unilateral boycott of China puts it in a distinct minority among U.S. companies. "In some circles we have been ridiculed," Mr. Swartz said. "This is the fastest-growing market in the world and a lot of my colleagues say there's a dollar to be made."

Just the same, the cthical debate about doing busioess in China has rattled most U.S. companies big enough to buy or sell there.

As President Bill Clinical approaches a line 3

As President Bill Clintoo approaches a June 3 deadline for renewing China's favorable trade status, which he has conditioned on a significant improvement in Beijing's burnan rights record, China's critics in the United States are demanding that American business take a stand.

The organization Human Rights Watch, which monitors the Chinese government's treatment of dissidents, has privately contacted more than 60 major U.S. companies, asking that they join in a campaign to pressure China to grant more political freedom and business take a stand.

economic security to its workers.

"Many U.S. companies are well placed to use their considerable influence to improve buman rights in the workplace," said Richard Dicker, associate counsel of Senator Max Bancus, the Montana Democrat who is chairman of the subcommittee on international trade, has urged Mr. Clinton to call on U.S. companies to nas urged Mr. Clinton to call on U.S. companies to adopt voluntary codes of conduct for doing business in China along the lines Human Rights Watch suggested.

But this is a role U.S. business wants oo part of, according to corporate leaders and heads of business lobying organizations. "We would find that very operous," said J. Tracy O'Rourke, chairman of Varian Associates Inc. and the next chairman of the National Associates Inc. and the next chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Association of Manufacturers.

U.S. companies that tried to pressure China oo human rights would soon be sent home, shut out of perhaps the most fantastic economic opportunity in history, business leaders say.

There are 100 many other countries whose husiness.

mstory, business leaders say.

There are 100 many other countries whose businesses are eager to enter China with 00 strings attached for U.S. companies to make an effective solitary stand, U.S. executives said. That will become painfully clear if Mr. Clinton strips China of its most-favored-nation trade status because China falls short on the buman trade status because the two patients to cat off hillions. rights front, causing the two nations to cut off billions of dollars in two-way trade, they added.

Most-favored-nation status accords a trading part-most-lavored-nation status accords a trading partner the lowest tariffs available.

"To undertake a voluntary code of conduct that asserts your principles is one thing," said J. Daniel of Flaherty, a vice president of the National Foreign of Trade Council in Washingtoo, More than that, however, would men I.I.S. companies — in China's eves—er, would turn U.S. companies — in China's eyes — into the agents of the U.S. government, he said.

U.S. companies that help build a market economy in China do more for buman rights than those that stand back and issue statements, U.S. executives asserted.

Human rights "are coming very rapidly on the increase in free-market systems over there," said Mark Hoffman, chairman of Sybase Inc., a California software company whose sales in China are growing rapidly.

Most American companies in China already make sure that no prison or child labor is used to make the products they buy, said Jerry R. Junkins, chairman of Texas Instruments Inc. and head of the international trade task force for the Business Roundtable, the

But Human Rights Watch wants public commit-ments, oot just private good deeds. U.S. companies should declare that they will not handle goods pro-duced by prison or child labor, Mr. Dicker said; they should discourage compulsory political indoctrination sessions at the workplace; they should demand control

'Many U.S. companies are well placed to use their influence to improve human rights in the workplace.' Richard Dicker, associate counsel, Human Rights Watch.

over hiring and firing of employees, rather than leav-ing that in the hands of government agencies; and they should speak out for freedom of expression for their workers, he added. Mr. Dicker praises Sears, Roebuck & Co. for a Mr. Dicker praises Scars, Roebuck & Co. for a commitment to prevent goods made with prison labor from entering its stores; he also lauds Reebok International Ltd. for its refusal to permit any "military presence" in its overseas facilities and Levi Strauss & Co. for pulling out of China.

While Human Rights Watch appeals to the conscience of business, the AFL-CIO has opted for embarrassment, seeking to pressure U.S. companies that, it says, are doing business with factories controlled by China's military.

Mark Atkinson, a 33-year-old union researcher,

Mark Atkinson, a 33-year-old union researcher, posed as an official of a fictitious U.S. importer during two trips last year to China, where he was greeted with open arms by business representatives of China's People's Liberation Army, be said.

The army's interests include a manufacturing and trading company, China North Industries Corp., or Norinco, whose executives acknowledge the connection. Mr. Atherson said non. Mr. Atkinson said.

Norinco is responsible for importing assault rifles and other weapons into the United States, according and other weapons into the United States, according to the AFL-CiO and other researchers.

It also sells consumer products, and the AFL-CiO, which is the largest U.S. labor organization, recently singled out several American companies it said carry these goods, including Home Depot Inc., the hardware and home furnishings chain.

"If we want to modernize the Chinese armed forces, we should debate that in Congress and send them a check, not allow the American consumers to provide

we should debate that in Congress and send them a check, oot allow the American consumers to provide the Chinese military with the wherewithal to do it," said Jeffrey Fiedler, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO's Food and Allied Service Trades department, who organized Mr. Atkinson's undercover visits.

Don B. Campbell, director of importing for Home Depot, acknowledged that a small portion of Home Depot's merchandise was purchased through Norinco. But he added, "Is Norinco the PLA? I can't substandate it."

Balancing safety and performance in institutional fund management calls for considerable discipline.

In Geneva:

BORDIER & Cie - DARIER HENTSCH & Cie - LOMBARD ODIER & Cie - MIRABAUD & Cie - PICTET & Cie

nermen heutes mår Unitel Kradica. The size

UNITED STATES MERGERS ACQUISITIONS PACE AND ROSE

U.S. $400,000,000 National Westminster Bank Floating Rate Capital Notes 2005

In accordance with the provisiona of the Notes, notice is hereby given that for the six months interest Period from April 25, 1994 to given man for the six months is the notes. Ferrou from April 29, 1994 to October 25, 1994 the Notes will carry an interest Rate of October 23, 1884 the Notes will carry an interest rate of 4.6875% per annum. The interest payable on the relevant Interest payment date, October 25, 1994 against Coupon No. 19 will be U.S. $238.28.

By: The Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A. London, Agent Bank April 25, 1994

12 Month High Low Stock

5 11-24 POSSIB 11-14 POSSIB 11-

Div Yid PE 180s

2334626 1041771113252626264

__76

.05c

.70 1.28 ,12

.04 .84 .16

.04

.56 .34 .88

12 Month High Low Stock

M-O-P-Q 4 12 547 1.0 10 74 3.3 - 746 - 2936 - 2036

Div Yid PE 100s High LowLotest Ch'go

112 1044 1046 1012 + 14 0 2244 2214 2216 + 14

ided by the AP, consists of ecunties in terms of dollar updated twice a year.

DIV YIN PE 100s High LowLatest Chas 310 15 310 15 17 10

Div Yid PE 100s High LowLates Ch'ge

2 Month High Low Stock

+146

140 44005 QIE

12 10

Div Yld PE 100s High LowLateslCh'on

240 1.8 18 .10 3.2 15

. G-H

+37 14

,32a

44 52

Monday's Closing
Tables include the nationwide prices up to the closing on Wall Street and do not reflect te trades elsewhere. Via The Associated Press

11/16 10 CANCER OF 12/16 10 CANC

DIV YIN PE 1995

22144 22144 15644 15644 15744 15744 15744 16744 13 732 2675 1934 8 5V2 RAM MY
19% BAT S
19% BAT S 1 05 77 2 05 2 05 50 1 74 .30 64 27 1 06

4½ CH Fin 7% CI44 3% CANI CP 1½ CSTEnt 0 CVB Fn 1½ CYD Fn n ½ CXR

11% "No Olima"
11% "N

| Type | Style | Type |

| *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | *** | **

14% 6% OOxlep
14% 6% OOxlep
29% 6% OOxlep
12 8% Ooxlep
13 9% Ooxlep
14 9% Ooxlep
15 9% Ooxlep
16 9% Ooxlep
17 9% Ooxlep
17 18 9% Ooxlep
18 9% Ooxlep

11% 6% TelcaPw
19 23% TelcaPw
19 23% TelcaRe
20 12% TelcaRe
20 12% TelcaRe
20 12% TelcaRe
21% 12% TelcaRe
22% 12% TelcaRe
23% 14 14 18 W-X-Y-Z 92 4.7 22 26 1.7 12 26 1.7 12 25 1.0 13 25 20 17 1.12 88 19 60 27 12 52 0 12 204-17 WWRIT 17 11 2 WOSC 8 13% 6 Withto 26% 12 Welkon 26% 12 Welkon 37 2 2 Welkon 1471301 Wesco 27% 17 WWRIT 16 17 WWRIT 26% 30 WOSTON 19 11 2 9 WICHO 19 11 2 9 WOSTON 19 11 2 9 WOSTON 19 16 2 Coder

10% 15% 15% 93% 14% 37% 123 1 128% 17% 21% 379 14%

.40 .数 2.00 1.40 27 --- 2083511164415355 W-X-Y-Z

器 .12

Yid PE 100s High Low/Lolest Chros

\(\bar{V}\)

7-7-7

44 22 37

了了。 17、19万。在15年77日,19年6年7日,19年8月晚前任日祝红杏村。日报7年67日,19年7年7月日,日报7年7日,在15年7日,日报7日,17日,18年8日

.12 . 1.3 22 a 1.3

$\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}{1}\frac{1}

2721070419572718216421327271737114441118

27 STOCKE
27 STOCKE
3 STOCKE
3

Bi Agripuspisku 16221 140 32 Read the way. 1144 + 4-54 + 144

State of the second R and are

Sand the first of the control of the

CIRRENI Umahanes 24 Hour Competitive

75% 75% 72% 7% 12% 13% 13% 14% 13%

Etrope.A PRICEBUST fall Anytime

Consistent pro apple Cie. 1. 1 . 31.43 86 PINTECH AS High Street advice Same Ø1 Levis or Philip J PATRICK

Herald

عكدامن اللحل

Brazilian Wine Label Sticks in U.S. Marcus James Wins Market Share From Europeans

By James Brooke New York Times Service
GARIBALDI, Brazil — Never internationally known for its wines, Brazil has bucked a worldwide slump in sales to the United States and emerged as the fastest-growing wine exporter to the American market.

Brazilian wine shipments to the United States jumped 36 percent last year, mainly thanks to Marcus James, a brand name from

Marcus James, which is generally priced 20 percent lower than its Chilean competition, is expected to displace Italy's Bolla this year as the second-mosi-popular imported wine in the United States, after Riunite, another tralian

- Chile exports nearly three times as much wine to the American market, under many more labels, but its sales in the United States dropped 10 percent in 1993. France, Germany. haly, Spain, and Portugal also had declines of 9 percent to 14 percent in sales last year to the United States.

Brazil's exports have risen oo the strength and marketing strategy of a single company, Cooperativa Vinicola Aurora, the nation's largest wine producer and its sole exporter to the

"We are still penetrating American markets," Jose Alberici Jr., Aurora's president, said. "We are preparing for growth of 20 to 30 percent a

In a 15-year campaign to win a slice of the American market, the Aurora winery imported oak casks from Kentucky and Tennessee. "Americans like the oak-flavored tastes for their reds and whites," said Mr. Alberici, who uses stainless steel vats to ferment the Marcus

James wine that is sold in Brazil, Next, Aurora adopted an American-souoding brand oame and had its U.S.-designed labels prioted io New Jersey. To get high-quality corks, Aurora imported Portuguese corks from California.

And it cootracted with Canandaigua Wine Co. of Canandaigua, New York, the secondlargest American winery after E&J Gallo Wine Co. of California, to market its Brazilian wines in the United States.

"We Americanized the packaging," said Howard Jacobson, a senior vice president for sales at Canandaigua who helped introduce Aurora wines to the market in 1983. "We oever focused on the fact that this is a Brazilian wine."

Marcus James has already pushed Brazil ahead of Argeotina in wine exports to the United States, If trends continue, Marcus James this year will lead Brazil past Portugal. But Joo Frederickson, a wine-industry analyst in San Francisco, questioned whether Brazilian growers had planted enough vines to support their market's expansion while maintaining their price advantage.

There is a worldwide glut of wine, a huge ket is highly competitive."

Beating Italian brands has a special resonance here in southern Brazil's hilly wine country, a region settled more than a century ago by impoverished immigrants from northern Italy.
Of the cooperative's 1,516 member families,
Mr. Alberici said, "99.5 percent are of Italian

Italian descendants cultivate 100,000 acres of vineyards in Brazil's southernmost state, Rio Grande do Sul, and are responsible for about 95 percent of Brazil's wine production.

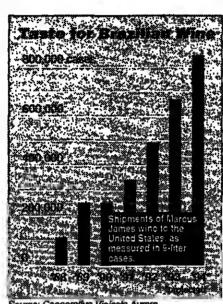

Red and green, colors in the Italian flag, also seem to be the colors of Brazil's wine region, and the family vineyards and cantinas often resonate with conversations in the Venetian dialect.

The agricultural cooperative bottles char-donnay, white zinfandel, riesling and cabernet sauvignon wines for export under the Marcus

The company, based in Bento Gonçalves, has achieved sales of $50 million a year, and its brochures are printed in English, Portuguese and Italian.

With the crispness of autumn now in the air in the Southern Hemisphere, growers are huoy-ant about what they call an exceptionally strong 1994 grape harvest.

But outside this European corner of Brazil, he success of Marcus James is unexpected, as Brazil has oever been a nation of wine drinkers. Brazilians annually consume a mere 1.7 liters (1.8 quarts) a person, a small fraction of their consumption of rum. By contrast, Argentioes each drink an average of 54 liters a year. In Chile, wine lake," said Mr. Frederickson, who publishes the Gomberg-Frederickson Report, a monthly oewsletter on the industry. "The market is highly competitive."

South America's largest wine exporter, per-capita consumption is about 20 liters a year. In addition, Brazil's economic zigzags and high inflation have caused wine production to the inflation have caused wine production to the inflation have caused wine production to the inflation have caused wine exporter, per-capital consumption is about 20 liters a year. stumble. After falling to a 10-year low of 164 million liters in 1987, total wine production last year elimbed back to 248 million liters, just glow the 1986 level The country's ups and downs also have driven out most of the multinational liquor compa-nies that invested heavily in southern Brazil in the late 1970s. Of 14 foreign companies bottling wines here a decade ago, only four majors remain: Seagram Co. of Canada, Bacardi Corp. of Puerto Rico, the Moët & Chandon unit of LVMH-Moët Hennessy Louis Vuitton of France and the Remy Martin unit of Remy Cointreau, also of France.

"I'm not going to sil around and wail for Brazilians to start drinking wine," said Mr. Alberici, who has steadily oriented his 63-year-old Brazilian company toward exports. From a negligible level a decade ago, exports now ac-count for almost one-third of Aurora's sales. Last year, when a methanol adulteration scandal shook South Americans' faith in wine from Argentina, Mr. Alberici moved aggressively into Paraguay, winning 10 percent of the wine market there, largely with cheap jug wine. But in a world awash io wine, breaking into the competitive American market was tougher.

"All over the world, there is an excess of wine," said Danilo Cavagni, a director of Moët & Chandon who is also president of the Brazilian Wine Growers Association, "Consumption is dropping in Europe, in Argentina and in Chile. The U.S. is one of the few countries in the world where consumption is increasing."

Wine consumption in the United States was about 2.43 gallons (9.2 liters) per adult in 1992, up from 2.32 gallons the year before, according to Impact, another industry oewsletter. Initially, Marcus James did not specify the country of origin on its labels. But last September, Canandaigua started to play up the wine's Brazilian roots by offering 10 pay $1.29 to the Rainforest Alliance for every bottle coupon returned by buyers. Through a "Save the Rainforest" promotion, Canandaigua has contributed $32,500 to the alliance, a nonprofit group based in New York that is dedicated to protecting tropical forests. Aurora's prices are kept low to promote sales to young adults. A bottle of wine sold wholesale at the winery in Brazil for $1.25 costs about $4 in American stores. With Canandaigua planning to expand American distribution, Aurora executives hope the cooperative's 10,000 acres of vineyards may one day produce America's most popular imported wine. Aurora has been helped by a 50 percent drop in Riunite's sales to the United States over the last five years.

"It's been a tremendous success story," Mr. Jacobson said, "I think Marcus James can douhle in sales in the oext three years."

Taiwan Expected to Lower Its Sights

TAIPEI - Taiwan is likely to scale down its growth targets for the year, analysis said Monday after some disappointing trade fig-ures were released for the first quarter.

Based on the oew data, said Jonathan Ross, country manager for HG Asia Securities Taiwan, "we will have to see a downward revision" in full-year forecasts.

Taiwan budget officials predicted that day, to $20.13 billion from $20.05 hillion in the first quarter of 1993. Figures for March gross national product would grow 6.2 per-cent this year, after expanding 5.9 percent last year and 6.0 percent in 1992. But Mr. Ross said the forecast now may not be met, in part because the improvement in the U.S. economy had not helped Taiwan yet. The Economies Ministry said last week that orders from the United States, Taiwan's largest export market, had fallen 0.2 percent Exports in the first three months grew just 0.4 percent, the Finance Ministry said Monwere worse, showing a drop of 5 percent, to $7.00 billion from $7.39 hillion a year earlier.

"This was one of the worst quarters for the trade surplus in 13 years," Mr. Ross said. "The trade picture does not look good."

Taiwan's surplus in trade of goods and services, which fell to $3.8 billion last year from $5.1 billion in 1992, had been forecast to rebound to $4.3 billion this year. For the first quarter, the surplus shrank 82 percent, to $240 million from $1.34 billion.

EDUCATION DIRECTORY

BELGIUM

Do you want concrete results in a foreign language ?

FRENCH - CERMAN - SPANISH - ITALIAN - JAPANESE - DUTCH - ENGLISH

66 hours per week in the target language 9 lessons per day in mini-groups and/or private lessons + socio-cultural activities with the teachers till 10.30 pm.

Centres in: France - Belgium - Ireland - Spain Ref.: Coca-Cola, McKarsey, German Foreign Office, State Department, Remark...

Also French and English courses for young people. CERAN LINGUA HEAD OFFICES

Tel. (32) 87 79 11 22 Fax: (32) 87 79 11 98

CEPAN In the USA: tel.: (413) 584-0334 - fax: (413) 584-3046

St-Parectaco BP 27/264 Tel.: [33) 66 90 33 66

since 1975, language courses for motivated people!

INTERNATIONAL

ENGLAND • USA • CANADA • AUSTRALIA GERMANY • FRANCE • SPAIN • ITALY International

Language Schools For adults and studeots, international classes From 2 weeks to one year, new courses every week

All levels, from beginner ro advanced Exam courses, TOEFL, Cambridge, DELF etc.

CALL TODAY FOR MORE INFO: ...+34 · 1 435 3012 +32 · 2 640 3302 -441 · 21 312 8372 -411 · 1 262 3307 ...+31 · 70 324 40 24

CH-Lausanne CH-Zurich.....

ENGLAND • USA • CANADA • AUSTRALIA GERMANY • FRANCE • SPAIN • ITALY

AUSTRIA

INTERNATIONAL BOARDING SCHOOL IN SALZBURG

Salzburg International Preparatory School offers a challenging coed American college prep & International Baccalaureate curriculum for students aged 12 to 18. Fully accredited. Excellent university placement record, lotensive English courses aid non-native speakers. Boarding enhanced by extensive sports, recreation, culture and travel programs. For full information please contact:

> Salzburg International Preparatory School Moosstrasse 106A, A-5020 Salzburg, Austria Tel.: (662) 824617 - Fax: 824555 - Telex 632476

SWITZERLAND

SCHOOL OF HOTEL MANAGEMENT

BACHELOR'S DEGREE AND HIGHER DIPLOMA IN HOTEL MANAGEMENT

NEUCHATEL/SWITZERLAND

21/2 YEAR DIPLOMA IN HOTEL MANAGEMENT

CERTIFICATE COURSES

Horel Management Diplomees may transfer directly to the 3rd year.

ASK MARIA BAKS FOR INFORMATION AT: IHTTI, BOX, 4006 BASEL, SWITZERLAND. PHONE 41-61-312 30 94 FAX 41-61-312 60 35

1ey 5.2

mc

บry หมt ral ly

CRUISE AND LEARN Intensive English/Total Immersion Accelerated Learning Stays around South America
 Mami to Mismir $10,000,00 polys, $5,00,00
 September 5 - October 30, 1994 erve by August 1, 1994 Write, Anne Hendry 915 Betterly Road · Battle Creek, Mi 49015 PH. 616-964-9826 / Fax 415-367-8829.

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

DIRECTORY

Appears every TUESDAY

5T GERMAIN DES PRES share knorious 100 sq.m. FF4,800 each, professional women preferred, May 1st, 1-4326/7302 ON CHANDES DE MARS, reception + 3 bedrooms, humious. EMBASSY Tel-(1) 47 20 30 05

PARIS AREA UNFURNISHED

Embassy Service

YOUR REAL ESTATE

AGENT IN PARIS

Tel: (1) 47.20.30.05

(15th) - 11 RUE DE AAVEL, becufied 4 rooms, triple bring, 2 boths, F8,500 + charges. Tel: 1-45 25 06 57 or visit Wed, 27 April from 4:30 pen to 7 pm. FUE DE VERNESKI, high class, colm, 130 so.m., newly renovated, double living, F20,000. Tel: 1-42613140

REAL ESTATE

WANTED/EXCHANGE

RENCH RIVIERA-Super Connes-California-Mougins-St Poul de Vence. Property of character about 35 sp.m. tweng space, xm. 2500 sp.m. garden-foring South/South West - sea wew. Budget up to FF 12 M. Fox offers to (4122) 347 51 44 Switzerland.

EMPLOYMENT

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING ORGANIZER and PROMOTER for training seminars. Please telephone: Dr. Mac Kenzer +41 81 54 23 52.

LEGAL SERVICES

DIVORCE FAST. $295.00. P.C. Box 8040, Ancheim, CA 92802. Coll/Fox [714] 968-8695 USA.

LOW COST FLIGHTS

SCHEDULED daily Rights. 1st, business economy at lowest fares, also D-day special. Tel IFT Paris (11 47 55 13 13.

International

Herald Tribune

ads work

Shell's $1 Billion, Deep-Water Gamble

By Agis Salpukas GARDEN BANKS, Gulf of Mexico - During most of the hour-and-a-half heliconter ride out to Shell Oil's Auger offshore drilling platform, one can see rigs and platforms dolung

water below. Then, for 30 miles, there is nothing hut water and sky. Finally the eye glimpses the four yellow hull towers of the 39,000-too Auger platform and, gradually, the outlines of pipes, rigging, valves and living quarters rising 419 feet (128 meters) above the water.

Here, in pristine isolation, Shell Oil Co., part of the Royal Dutch/Shell Group, earlier this month opened a well in water far deeper than humankind had ever ventured io search of petroleum wealth. Shell hopes the platform and its 14 wells will be producing 46,000 42-gallon harrels of oil and 125 millioo cuhie fect (3.5 million cubic meters) of oatural gas a day by year's cod. If Shell's technology succeeds, the significance will run far deeper than the company's bottom line. The success of the Auger platform, 136 miles (220 kilometers) off the Louisiana shore, could open whole new regions of the Gulf of Mexico oil from such underwater depths, Shell has no guarantee that it can make the $1.2 billioo Auger plat-sharply and beyond which offshore drilling has never before been at-tempted, the Auger platform floats tethered to an anchorage 2,860 feet — more than a half-mile — below. The previous undersea world record was held by Conoco, which draws oil from a well 1,758 feet below the gulf's surface.

to offshore drilling, revitalizing the and 4 billion barrels, or about six rendered into detailed pictures of gulf oil industry and possibly giving the United States its largest oil Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

These models gave Shell confidence about the extent of the Auger field since the development of ing Countries.

Alaska's Prudhoe Bay in the 1960s. "This is with only about 15 per-

But with oil selling for $17 a' cent of the leased acreage having barrel or less these days, and with been explored," he said, venturing us experience in pumping Prudhoe Bay.

form pay off.

"The real question," said Phillip J. Carroll, Shell's president and chief executive, "is oot whether the burn, 57, the Aoger platform's prodevelopment can be done, but doctioo superintendent. "That's whether it can be done profitably." the cash register," Mr. Osburn said Eight miles past the continental to a visitor, pointing to a meter on a shelf, where the gulf's floor falls off lower level of the platform. The about 6,000 barrels a day.

Mr. Carroll said his company and others in the oil industry, through use of seismic readings, have found evidence of petroleum in about 30 deep-water locations in the gulf. The combined reserves from those deposits alone have been estimated at between 3 billion in the gulf. The combined reserves which allow seismic readings to be the cost?"

notogics and pushed them to new president of Exxoo Exploration limits. Aiding the effort were newly cophisticated three-dimensional said, questions are the same: "What kind of facilities? What's which allow seismic readings to be the cost?"

meter will measure the flow of oil before it is transported by pipeline to another Shell platform 72 miles closer to shore.

Currently, Auger is producing about 2,200 barrels of oil and 3.7 million cubic feet of gas a day. The goal, Mr. Osburn said, is to have has also discovered potentially each well capable of pumping large deposits in the gulf's deep field's hidden treasure. Shell's engineers and subcontractors also developed advanced, deeper-water versions of the underpotentially hold 15 hillion barrels water robotic machines called rewhich would be even more than mote operating vehicles, which do much of the installation and maintenance work oo the gulf floor. Many of these same innovations will be used for the Mars platform, 200 miles oortheast of Auger and about 130 miles southeast of New Orleans, which Shell expects to put into production in 1996. The Mars rig, which sits above a field estimated at about 500 million barrels of oil and its gas equivalents, will be operating in even deeper water: 2,933 feet. Shell's efforts are being watched with interest by other major com-waters. Shell has not invented anything "Everybody is wondering how to new, hnt it has taken existing techdo this," said Jon L. Thompson, referred by Institutions and now available to traders at home. Unrivaled coverage at an unrivaled price. Futures • Options • FX • Energy • Cammodities • Metals • News • Full Charting & Technical Analysis from our Worldwide coverage - available via Satellite through Europe.

運通金融

Call FutureSource Tel.: -44 71-867 8867 Fax: +44 71-481 3042

Timely, specific, proven market strategies, delivered dally,

Please call for a PREE copy of the market letter of your before the markets open.

choice.

LONDON & GLOBAL FOREIGN EXCHANGE PLC

PREMIER SPECULATION SERVICE QUOTE UP TO 100 MILLION USS r, Cameo House, 11 Bear Street, Landon WC2H 7AS Tel.: (071) 839 6161 Fax: (071) 839 2414

·FOREX ·METALS ·BONDS ·SOFTS

Objective analysis for professional investors

(44) 962 879764

nnes House. 32 Southgate Street, Winche Hants S023 9EH UK Fax (44) 424 774067

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED REAL ESTATE

PERSONALS

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO

IMUSE & JAROSIAYA, han sisters, born 26 April 1909, living in Proque & Pardubaro, Czech Republic, Best wiches for big conversory, Pors, BodenBoden, friends & formilies, Nodio & Ivan.

MAY THE SACRED HEART of Jess; be odored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and for ever. Source Heart of Jesus proy for us. Sourt Jude worker of meadles proy for us. Soint Jude help of the hopeless pray for us. AMEN, AMC.

PINGUINO, HAPPY SIRTHDAY do no Soud. See sempre più belle e sempre più belle e sempre più general.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

from the U.S. !

If you enjoy reading the IHT also get it at home ? Same-day delivery available in key U.S. cities.

MONTE CARLO
New project with studio to 5-room continents ovaloble, Panorome vee, divisible office space, circulary price.
Further details: Mrs Bodonsen - SEM, 9 and O'Shende - MC 99000 Monoco.
Tel: (33) 92 16 90 00

11 p.m. Tel: Pons (1) 47 23 80 80

REAL ESTATE

PARIS & SUBURBS 16th, GEORGES MANDEL - UNBOUE 230 sg.m. top floor opertment, in magnificent townhouse, View Effel Tower, High price, SOLE AGENT, SENGE BONAMY Tel: 1-42 88 90 00

16th, AVENUE D'ENA Lucurous pad à terre, in presigious old building, top security. FF1,800,800. SERGE BONAMY Tel: 1-42 28 90 00

SWITZERLAND LET US HELP YOUR Select a lovely appartment, taken Geneva, Southern arms and societies. Attractive prices. Complete confidence. Sonic Financial Tel: 41-21-329 00 52.

New luxury can bedroom operament 54 sc.m. + bolomy 10 sc.m., garage, treplace. 70 meutes Geneva. 51 400,000. Martagage available. 1ch 41.22.733.25.30 Face 733.14.69

USA RESIDENTIAL

BUSINESS SERVICES BUSINESS TRAVEL

Now you can call the U.S. and sown as much as 65% compared to local phone compares of calling card plans. Call from home, office or hotels and overal servicings.

Available in all countries.

BUSINESS

Tel: 0624 626971 Fox: 0624 625126

CONMERCIAL/BUSINESS FINANCE ovalidation for any violate projects worldwide. Fox breat synapse or English to Corporate Advances, 44-273-621300 Cuone Refr TI

OFFSHORE BANK with Class A licence. Full merchant or commercial banks powers. I fax free wente. Immediate invariate: US $25,000. London 44-71-394-5157. Canado (604) 942-6169.

OFFSHORE COMPANIES: JPCR, 1/5-Charch Street, Douglas, ble of Man. Tel: 0624) 6275529 Fax: (0624) 627662.

OFFSHORE COMPANIES: For five brochure or oduce Tel: London 44-81-741-1224 Fox: 44-81-748-6508 specialists in furnished apartments, esdential areas, 3 months and more. GREAT BRITAIN KNACHTSBREDGE, Belgravia, Maylair.

We have exclusive pigency on a large selection of functional and universitied lurary frames - short, long & Co. lets.
Serviced blocks ovaliable: Fall fist on application. Tet 44 71 486 5741 Fase 44 71 486 0540 - Ascot Properties Tel: (1) 42 25 32 25 fox (1) 45 63 37 09 AT HOME IN PARIS PARIS PROMO

AGENCE CHAMPS ELYSES

Handpicked quality apparaments, of sizes, Raris and suburbs. CAPITAU PARTINESS Tel: (1) 45 14 82 11. For (1) 47 72 30 %.

CHAMPS 8.YSES/GEORGE V, lovel 60 sq.m., living + badroom, sunny newly redone. F6,800. 1-47 23 04 84.

15th, near 7th, large living, 2 becrooms, terrace, equipped, sun, closs quiet. Owner F13,450, 1-45 67 04 58

guiet. Ownor F13,650.1-45 67 04 58

EE SARNT LOUIS, extremely charming, 75 sq.m., part a terme, lorge viring, fireplace, beams, 2 bedrooms, newly redom. P7,500. Tet (1) 47 23 04 84.

VERY SEAUTHER. APARTMENT, folly equipped, in Boologne. 170 sq.m. + 100 sq.m. hallo sq.m. in cross. For rent or sel. Available now. Owner: 33/1 47200819

PARES BEENVENIES charm, privacy with service & furnished nesteds. 3 nights to 2 years. Tel 1-42124040 Fox: 1-42124040

LATIN QUARTER. 2 rooms F5,000.

ANA Tel 1-4007 0837. Fox: 1-4026 5094

oportments to rent furnished or not Soles & Property Management Services 25 Av Hocke 75008 Paris, Fax 1-45611020 HOLLAND B Short Term Leases for Jerny In-naished houses & Ruth. Tel. + 31 20 6250071. From + 31 20 630071. Keizersgracht 33, 1015 CD Amsterdom Tel: (1) 45 63 25 60

74 CHAMPS ELYSES PARIS AREA FURNISHED CLARIDGE FOR 1 WESK OR MORE high d studio, 2 or 3-room operfments. FULLY EQUIPPED, WAMEDIATE RESERVATION Feb (1) 44 13 33 33 PARIS . "BETTER THAN A HOTEL"

First Ristelences 8th, GEORGES V 5-room duplex, 2 buths, refined decoration, P25,000. nternation Tel: (1) 42 25 32 25

CPFER YOU II

CUALITY APARTMENTS

 Lissury furnished

 Firstly equipped

 Mad & linen service

 Special rates for long stays

 In livent of "the Semina"

 Close to the Effect Tower and "Treastlere" Square
Prices storing at US$700 per week

For further information & reservation and 1-4525 9507. For 1-4288 2991 RESIDENCE CITY
Read Estate Agents, offer for reat, very beguited apartments in Pars, emonths environment on 2 to 6 rooms.
Tel 1-4527 1219. Fax 1-4527 4233 16th - RANELAGH itul stello with private contrord. on, equipped litchen. F4,200 net. Tal: {1] 45 25 90 90 PARIS LA DEFENSE 1

RESIDENCE CARTEL Specious 2 or 3-noom appriments to rest for 3 days or more. homediate Reservations tarted Fist (33-1) 41 25 16 16 Feat (33-1) 41 25 16 15

NEURITY, BD DE LA SAUSSAYE, high closs, large reception, 3 bedrooms, 2 bohs, large boksony, on garden, 165 sq.m. F20,000 net. Tek 1-45 63 17 77.

BUSINESS MESSAGE CENTER

SAVE ON International Phone Calls

Call acry for rates and see how you can begin saving loday. Lines open 24 hours.

FROM £150

let/Business Class Frequent Travellers to Orient/Australia/Africa/No. & So. America, Save up to 50%. No cou-pors, no restrictions. Integrial Canado (ct. 514-341-720/ Fax 514-341-7998. CAPITAL AVAILABLE FUNDS AVAILABLE

TO PURCHASE.
Letters of Credit
Bonk Guarantees
Other Acceptable Collateral
Backed by Private Investors
THRU MAJOR RET'L BANKS CAPITAL SUPPORT CORP. I.S. [714] 757-1070 Fix 757-1270

Complete office services at two prestige addresses.
Folly equipped offices for short term or long term.
Internationally trained officer and prefessional soft at your disposal.
Can be legally used as your corporate domicile for Germany/

NORTH AMERICA NEW YORK: Tel: [212] 752-3890. Tell free: (800) 572-7212. Teles: 427-175 Fox: (212] 755-9785

ASIA/PACIFIC HONG KONG: Tel.: (852) 9222-1188. Teles: 61170 HHNX Fax: (852) 9222-1190.

Herald Eribune

PLANNING TO RUN

A CLASSIFIED AD?

GERMANY, AUSTRIA & CENTRAL BLEOPE: Fronklint, Tel: (069) 72 67 55. Foo: (069) 72 73 10.

CURRENCY AND CAPITAL MARKET SERVICES

CURRENCY MANAGEMENT CORPORATION PLC Winchester House, 77 London Wall 1 London EC2M 5ND Tel: 671-382 9745 Fax: 671-382 9487 FOREIGN EXCHANGE & GOLD 24 Hour London Dealing Desk Competitive Rates & Daily Fax Sheet Call for further information & brochure

EUROPEAN PRICEBUSTER On London Call Anytime

O LIVE DATA FROM AROUND $10/DAY @ © EOD Data for $ 5/Day © O 130+ Software Applications @ CALL Signal

44+71 231 3556

Duff Forecasts and Market Myths for 1994 The US dollar will soar; deliation will continue; gold & most commoditie want rise, Japan's economy & stack market will be weak. You did NOT feed that in FullerManey - the Iconoclastic Investment letter.

Col. Ry's Philips for a somale issue (once only) at Charl Analysis Lid.

7 Swallow Street. London, WIR 7HD, UK Tol. London 71-439 4961.

Consistent profits in futures are possible! Learn how to speculate like a professional in international futures markets Call for free info: Gerling & Cie., 4. rue Pasteur, 75011 Paris, France

Tel.: 33-1-43 86 01 12 - Fax: 33-1-43 86 01 43 FINTECH ASSET MANAGEMENT LTD.

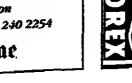

14 High Street, Windsor, England SL4 1LD

PROFESSIONAL CURRENCY MANAGERS

Highly Roted Computer Based Technical Service Currency Fund Management (S.F.A. Members) Corporate Advisory Services #14 Year Audited Track Record

Call: Donald Lewis or Philip Jones Tal: (44) 753 842022 Fac: [44] 753 833229

For further details on bow to place your fisting contact: PATRICK FALCONER in London Tel: (44) 71 836 48 02 - Fax: (44) 71 240 2254 Herald Eribune

TEL 071-931 9188 / FAX 071-931 7114 SOVEREIGN (FOREX) LTD sham Paloce Road, London SWIW ORE 248R FOREIGN EXCHANGE

KOIL

280 Oser Avenue

✓ Competitive Prices
✓ Daily Fax Service

Attention visitors

when you travel, why not

Call (1) 800 882 2884 (in New York call 212 752 3890) Herald Eribune

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS English specifying meetings closely. Tel: PARTS (1) 46 34 59 65, NICE (33) 93 44 39 29, ROME 678 0320, FRANKFURT 5974265.

READERS ARE ADVISED

that the International Herald Tribune cannot be held responsible for loss or damages incorred as a re-sult of transactions stem-ming from advantisements which appear in our paper. It is therefore recommendat it meretore recommenced that readers make ap-propriate inquiries before sending any money or en-tering into any binding

Place your Ad quickly and easily, contact your nearest I-1T office or representative with your text. You will be informed of the cost immediately, and once payment is made your ad will appear within 48 hours. All major Credit Cards Accepted. EUROPE

FRANCE (HQ): Paris, Tel.: (1) 46 37 93 85, Fac: (1) 46 37 93 70.

SINGAPORE: Tel.: 223 6478, Fox: 224 1566, 11x.: 28749 [HT SIN.

corporate demicits for Germany/ Europe. B Your business operation can start immediately. Since 1972. OFFSHORE COMPANIES SWITZERLAND: Puly, Tal.: (021) 726 30 21. Fos: (021) 728 30 91. Various countries, Full services.
INTERNATIONAL COMPANY SERVICES (UKQ LIMUTED
Standbrook House, 2 - 5
Old Bond Stees, London W1X 318
16t + 44 71 473 4244
Tek + 44 71 471 0605 Loirco Business Serviças Genbri Loirco-Haus om Hobbousenpurk Justinomatouse 22, 6000 Fronkfurt om Main 1, Germany, Tak (87) 245333 Fox (87) 595770 UNITED KINGDOM: London, Tel.: {071| 836 4802. Telec 262009, Fasc {071| 240 2254.

THE DAILY SPECULATOR OPPORTUNITIES SERVICED OFFICES THE COMMODITY TRADER kaliback OFFSHORE COMPANIES Free professional constitute Worldwide incaparations Immediate availability
Full confidential strivios
Landon representative
Full administration services THE WEEKLY INVESTOR Your Office in Germany we are "at your service" Tel: 1/206-284-8600 Fax: 1/206-282-6666 ASTON CORPORATE TRUSTERS LTD 19, Peel Road, Douglas, Ide of Man Tel: 0624 626971 Fax 0624 625126 417 Second Avenue West Seattle, WA 98119 USA FINANCIAL TRADERS, LTD. Hauppauge, NY 11788, USA Tel.: 516-435-4800 Fax: 516-435-4897 provide a parati

of the second

Ti.

jest . . .

D0: - delimina National Contraction mu") (1. A * 5%) . . um The ger*20 33 RACE STATE nde: N Te. same puri gine tot 🔻 🔭 mics (see a see $g(\{v_n\}) \stackrel{\mathrm{def}}{=} v_n$

300 A 707 று நேர_ுர் ப

meditable of the hog ver

Bun Make the comment Brush ... S :

AMER

American Ct

For expert advice on personal investing.

Every Saturday, the International Herald Tribune publishes The Money Report, a weekly section that provides a penetrating analysis of financial products and services available to today's high-net-worth investor. For timely investment information, read The Money Report.

عكدامر بالأعيل

ADVERTISEMENT

ADVERTISEMENT

COST OF QUALITY: EXCHANGE RATES FAVOR FOREIGNERS

The effects of economic recession in Britain are still being felt in the privateschool sector, where the number of boarding pupils fell by 21 percent in the decade to 1993.

This has reduced economies of scale and forced

> Private sector offers boarding fees up higher than the prevailing rate of inflation, although this increase is balanced by favorable currency-exchange rates for non-British parents.

One of the most popular schools for expatriates based in London is the American School, which occupies a three and a half acre campus in St. John's Wood, a posh inner-city residential neighborbood.

The 1,200 or so students, both boys and girls, attend classes from kindergarten to 13th grade in a system based on the American educational model.

Students from over 40 nations are represented on the roll, but the majority are U.S. cidzens, for whom the school was created in 1951 to meet the need for continuity of American curricu-lum." The institution is fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools in the United States.

There are no boarders, so some pupils have to allow time for journeys of up to 30 miles each way. In the class of 1993, 34 percent of 12th graders earned grades of A and 48 percent Bs, underlining the school's good academic record. Over 90 percent of the class continued on to four-year colleges.

Schools with a more British tradition are keen to attract the children of non-British parents, Bedales School was founded in > 1893 and takes students from the ages of three to 16. They leave when they ing that need.

reach 18, with most going on to a university. The school is in Petersfield, Hampshire, a county to the southwest of London, only about an hour by road from both Heathrow and Gatwick international airports.

Christine Teale, registrar for admissions, says: "Bedales was the first coeducational boarding school in England to treat boys and girls equally. We do lots of outdoor practical work such as looking after apple trees, as well as baking bread and making jam. Our academic standards are high."

The school follows the British educational examination system and does not offer the International Baccalaureate. All new pupils are expected to be fluent in spoken and written English and have to pass entrance tests prior to admission.

Fees for senior boarders are almost $18,000 a year, while day students pay $12,800. Boarding students are in the majority and sleep in six-person, mixed-aged dormitories until the age of Woldingham School in Surrey, also close to London, educates almost 500 girls and was founded as a Roman Catholic institution in 1843, although it now has lay management. Fees for boarders are arounó $14,000

Most girls are English, but the school exchanges students with Catholic institutions in France, Spain, Germany and Austria on an annual basis.

This year, visiting teachers came from Japan for the first time, and the Japanese language appeared on the curriculum for senior students. Over 90 percent of the school's graduates enter a university.

The choice of schools in Britain is wide, with many public-sector schools offering free education plus high standards. For those wanting boarding places, however, the private fee-paying sector offers the only way of meet-

→ Sels College London RECOGNISED BY THE BRITISH COUNCIL

 For foreign students & professional people
 From beginners to University of Cambridge Proficiency Accommodation arranged
Sels for excellence, reliability and friendlinese

64-65 LONG ACRE, COVENT GARDEN, LONDON WCZE 9 JH FAX: 071 379 5793 apal Y. Roiss, BA, BSc (Econ), F.LL, MEd, Barrister at low

Leicester University

MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT by Distance Learning

M.B.A. and graduate DIPLOMA form part of an integrated programme of management study, developed by the University, which enables managers at all levels to develop their careers with formal recognition. Held in the highest academic regard, the University of Leicester has an international reputation with students from a diversity of nationalities and cultures. For further details contact the University's appointed bandling agents: Resource Development International (TRI)

10 Mercia Business Village, Westwood Heath Coventry CV4 SHX, United Kingdom. Tel.: +44 (0)203 422422 Fax: +44 (0)203 422423 Tdi

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL IN LONDON

The independent, coeducational day school with an American curriculum serving an international student body aged 4-18 in central London.

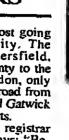

For brochure and information, contact: Admissions Office. ASL 2-8 Loudoun Road. London NWS ONP, phone 071-722-0101

BE A WRITER OR JOURNALIST

3.5

Specialist courses covering Journalism, Fiction or Feature Writing and English for Business. Home study by post or attend our NUJ recognised courses in London. Overseas students welcome. Prospectus from:

The London School of Journalism Dept. HT. 22 Upbrook Mews, Bayswater, LONDON, W2 3HG Tel.: +44 71 706 3536 Fax: ±44 71 706 3780

CORPORATE LEADERSHIP The fastest-expanding ing bases located sector on the British educa- around the Pacific ris tion scene over the past decade has been business

TOWARD

A STEP

provide courses for aspiring 100 institutions now offer MBAs and management studies.

Universities have fallen over themselves in the rush to executives and those already rising up the corporate esca-

The jewel in the crown of business qualifications must be the MBA - the master of business administration ~ which is reckoned by many to be the passport allowing junior managers access to the middle and upper reaches of corporate responsibili-ty. Over 100 British universities and management schools now offer MBAs.

The elite courses remain the two-year full-time versions offered by London and Manchester Business Schools, which rank high in the top 10 of Europe. A London Business School MBA costs around $15,000 a year in tuition fees for the 180 or so students admitted annually to the full-time track.

London Business School attracts a truly cosmopolitan mix of MBA participants, with more than half arriving from nations outside Europe. About a quarter are British and a similar proportion are women. The campus is centrally located in a large public park, which also houses the London Zoo.

Leicester University's Management Center runs an extensive distance-learning MBA program, with teach-

This advertising section was produced in its entirety by the supplements division of the International Herald Tribune's advertising department. It was written by Graham Wade, a Brirish free-lance writer.

Woldingham

School

▶ Boarding & Day School

▶ 490 glds aged 11 - 18

▶ 130 in the Sixth Form

Freelent academic results including good Oxbridge

Easy access from London

Good Pastoral Care

Happy students around the Pacific rim. including Hong Kong, Smgapore, Thailand and Malaysia. The 2,000 students in this course pay tu-ition fees of about $8,250, covering their whole period of study, which lasts a minimum of two and a half The Leicester MBA is structured around three main areas of study; strategic management, analytical methods and management techniques. A further two options have to be selected from a list of nine, which includes international marketing and business. A dissertation of up to 15,000 words is also required, and this can focus on the student's employing London University is the largest in Britain and also one of the oldest, founded in 1836. Another of its pioneering claims is that it was one of the first universities to offer its degrees externally to candidates living virtually anywhere in the world.

For those looking for a first degree, London offers a huge range of options within its BSc economics and BSc. management courses. The former has no fewer than 79 subjects to choose from, grouped around themes such as accounting or banking and finance.

.Students can complete these degrees in as little as three years or as many as eight. The nuition scales are complex, but not too expensive, and degree fees can work out to less than $2,000, not including hooks or other materials.

FOR PARENTS Parents choosing a school in Britain are offered a list of actions they might take and questions they might ask: Make sure you receive a and read it carefully. · Itemize all costs. Uniforms may be compulsory and expensive. Other extras may include books, food, medical aid, music tuition and sports equipment.

prospectus from each school

A BRIEF

· Check the insurance arrangements regarding accidents and illness.

 Make sure you see the working session. Impressive buildings and planned open days may project a false im-

· Visit as a family, if possible, and pay close attention to your child's reaction to the school's atmosphere. · Make an effort to talk to the school's students when no teachers are around. · Find out about the school's approach to disci-

Oxford

11 July to 8 August for 10 - 16 year olds "excellent care and supervision and small classes

SEND FOR OUR FREE VIDEO!

For further afternation conduct

The Principal, The Burtons Sammer School, Saite 2, 4 Crick Road, Oxford OX2 6QJ, England - Tel/Fazz (44) (865) 512149

International, co-educational, residential college

St. Clare's offers a variety of courses for 300 students

Liberal Arts Programme
1 or 2 semisters for American and European university students of 40 nationalities aged 16 - 25+ iterational Bacalarette Diploma years, for university entrance worklyide

English Language Courses at all levels, scalentic year and summer

Englishment Year for sudents between school and university

Details from the Administra Ciffice, St. Clare's, Onited, Banksry Road, Onited CX2 7AL Tel: 41 867 516799 — Face 44 865 513599

St. Clare's

IB-Preparatory course nifel rural location near Safethery "comprehensive sports and recreational facilities"

pline. Does it tend toward the authoritarian or the liberal - and does that suit you and your child?

 Is the curriculum broad enough and does it meet the likely requirements of your child?

· Are the facilities adequate across the board, from science laboratories to music rooms? · What exams does the school enter students for?

Some institutions offer only British exams. How good are the exam results?

· What proportion of students go on to college or university?

· Find out how many students are normally in a class. Ask both the students and the teachers, and count the number in the classes you

 Does the school strike you as a happy and comfortable place?

AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SWITZERLAND

University degree programs

(A.A., B.A., B.S., M.B.A.) in: Liberal Arts • International Business Administration Economics • International Political Studies

French Language, Literature and Civilization Fully accredited by ACICS Washington DC , USA Collegium Palatinum courses in Intensive French

Preparatory program for university entrance:

designed for those seeking to complete their last year of secondary school in a university atmosphere. Small, tutorial type courses catering to individual needs.

The American Coffeee of Switzerland Dept. HT / ACS3, CH-1854 Leysin Tel: (025) 34 22 23 • Fax: (025) 34 13 46 The American College of Switzerland Dept. HT / ACS3, CH-1854 Leysin

INNOVATION . EXCELLENCE . INTEGRATION The . Bustonia English Summer School

Only one MBA carries this International Quality Mark... ...The Warwick MBA

And it is available worldwide through the flexible Distance Learning programme.

If you have a first degree or equivalent qualification and at least two years' oppropriate work experience we would be pleased to hear from you.

The Warwick MBA by Distance Learning, Warwick Business School, University of Warwick, Coventry CV4 7AL, England. Tel: +44 (0)203 524100 Fax: +44 (0)203 524411.

SUSINISS SCHOOL

BEDALES SCHOOL [13 - 18] DUNHURST - Bedales Junior School [8 - 13] DUNANNIE - Pre-Prep School (3 - 8)

Fully co-educational school set in beautiful Hampshire countryside. High academic standards and the place of music, arts and crafts is central.

"This exceptional co-educational school is recommended for bright and motivated children of talent, who will fourish in its unusually happy atmosphere." [Daily Telegraph Schools Guide 1992]

For further information and prospectus, contact: The Administrative Secretary Bedales School Petersfield, Hampshire GU32 2DG Telephone: 0730 263286

ART and DESIGN

Two-year programme leading to Associate of Arts degree

Pre-foundation, preparatory and portfolio preparation

General studio courses in techniques for expressing and developing ideas Specific courses to different areas ol art and design STUDIO COURSES in drawing, visual and graphic design, Computer sided design, Historica, photography, packaging and publication design, advertising layout.

CONTEXTUAL STUDIES in marketing, advertising, art end design bistory, contemporary and rissol

Central London location, first class studio, well-qualitied and experienced faculty, small class sizes, individual attention, visiting practitioners and guest lecturers inducational and use or graduates. Entry: May - September - January

SCHILLER INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY Dept HT/TK - 51 Waterloo Reed - London SE1 STX - England Tel: (671) 928 6484 - Fax: (071) 620 1226

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

UNDERGRADUATE UNDERGRADUATE

RSc (Economics)

Diploms in Economics

RSc (Management)

Bachelor of Lawn (LLB)

RA - English, Geography, French, Germeo, Haffan, Spanish and Latin American Studies, Philosophy,

forcid, Haffarer

Jewish History Bachelor of Divinity (BD)

POSTGRADUATE

Development
MSc and Diploma in Env Management MA and Diploma io Distance Se and Diploma in Financial Economics

MSc in Figure Management and Palama in Figure 21 Policy
Palama in Figure 22 Policy
Palama in Figure 22 Policy
Palama in Figure 22 Policy
Palama 22 Policy Palama
Palama 22 Policy Palama
Palama 22 Policy Palama
Palama 22 Policy Palama
Palama 22 Policy Palama 22 Policy Palama
Palama 22 Policy Palama 22 P Diploms in Financial Policy MSc and Diploms in Organizational Behaviour and MSc in Occupations Psychology
MSc in Dental Radiology
MSc in Community Dental Practice

The External Programme has over 20,000 students world-wide studying Inc degrees and diplomas.

Study as an External student for a degree

All Internal and External

students of the University are examined to the same standard. Examinations are held in centres around

The University of London

is recognised for the excellence of its degree.

the world.

For more information write to: First Enquiries, (HTT) Room 264, Senate House, Malet Street, London WCIE 7HU, UK. or Fat: +4471 636 5894

EXTERNAL PROGRAMME

SPORTS

In NBA Playoffs, a Mix Of Rivalries Old and New

There will be some old rivalries as well as a first-time meeting when the National Basketball Association playoffs get started this week. The Chicago Bulls have eliminated the Cleveland Cavaliers four of the last six years, including twice when Michael Jordan ended the series with buzzer-beating shots. Jordan's not around this time, giving the Cavs some hope against their old nemesis.

Also in the Eastern Conference, the New York Knicks will face their cross-Hudson rivals, the New Jersey Nets.

But Indiana and Orlando will have to start a new playoff tradi-tion as the expansion Magic are making their first postseason appearance. Indiana, since joining the NBA in 1976, has never made it past the first round. Here's a look at the best-of-5-games first-round matchups: EASTERN CONFERENCE Atlanta vs. Miami: The Heat looked hot after the All-Star break, winning five straight road games at one stretch, but fell apart late in the season, nearly losing the last play-nff berth when Rony Seikaly sprained an ankle. He got back in time to salvage Miami's second postseason appearance, but the Hawks are playing too well to become the first top seed to lose to an eighth seed. New York vs. New Jersey: This is the matchup fans in the New York area were looking forward to. The Nets' 4-1 advantage in the regular season is intriguing, but the per-ceived matchup advantages for New Jersey should disappear when the Knicks are able to concentrate on them exclusively. Benoit Benja-min has played well lately, scoring 20 or more points in three recent games. If he could keep it up, the upset possibility is there. Chicago va. Cleveland: Jordan is gone, but so are Cleveland's Brad Daugherty and Larry Nance. The Cavaliers did remarkably well to win 47 games, but Chicago did re-markably well to win 55. The Bulls look that much better right now, Orlando vs. Indiana: The Pacers are playing better than any Indiana NBA team, finishing off the season with a club-record eight straight victories. Many observers will take the position that the Pacers are soft until proven otherwise, regardless of how many times Rik Smits scores 40 points in a game. The two Davises, Dale and Antonio, and Derrick McKey are doing a lot to reverse that perception. The Magic are virtually devoid of playoff experience, but it will take a lot to defeat Shaq and Co.

western conference
Seattle vs. Denver: Seattle is loaded, with nine tongh players at coach George Karl's call. Ricky Pierce has looked good in limited action since he returned from an injury, giving the defensive-minded Sonics an extra offensive weapon they might not have needed. Steals champion Nate McMillan is Pierce's defensive twin off the bench. The Nuggets have made a remarkable turnaround from three years ago, but they have little chance against Seattle.

ets' depth was comparable to Seattle's in the first half of the season followed by a 2-8 slump followed before injuries to Vernon Maxwell, Mario Elie, Matt Bullard and Carl Herrera limited the options of coach Rudy Tomjanovich. But Hakeem Olajuwon still should be too much for the Trail Blazers. An upset is possible if Chris Dudley, recently returned from a season-long ankle injury, can help on defense.

Phoenix vs. Golden State: The Suns are vulnerable to teams with dominating big men, so at first glance they caught a hreak here. But it's a double-edged sword — Golden State is similarly vulneraole. In what could be a shootout, Phoenix has homecourt advantage, more weapons in reserve and playoff experience to put them on top.

San Antonio vs. Utah: The Jazz, despite being the lower seed, have a big regular-season sweep — 50 — to give them confidence. But the playoffs are a new season, and the sweep will mean nothing if Utah can't contain David Rohinson and Dale Ellis starts hitting from outside again after a late-season injury and slump. The Jazz ended the season with a 10-game winning streak

Robinson Pours it on For Title

David Robinson, the San Antonio center, scored 71 points in the Spurs' 112-97 victory Sunday over the Los Angeles Clippers in the final regular-season game to win the Na-tional Basketball Association scoring title with a 29,787 average.

Robinson, who joined Wilt Chamberlain, David Thompson and Elgin Baylor as the only players to score more than 70 points in a game, finished the season with 2,383 points in 80 games, Orlando's Shaquille O'Neal scored 32 points against New Jersey on Sunday to finish seconi at 29.346.

Houston's Hakeem Olajuwon was third at 27.3, followed by the Los Angeles Clippers forward Dominique Wilkins (26.0) and Utah forward Karl Malone (25.2). The strangest occurence Sunday came at Houston, where Calvin Manual Calvin Calv

Murphy, the single-season freethrow percentage record-holder, hexed his challenger, Mahmoud Abdul-Rauf of Denver. Abdul-Rauf missed his 10th free throw in 229 attempts to finish at 95.6 percent, nio forward Dennis Rodman won the rebounding title for the third straight season with a 17.3 average. O'Neal was second at 13.2 and At-lanta's Kevin Willis third at 12.0.

The Utah guard John Stockton took the assists title for the seventh straight season with a 12.6 average. Portland's Tracy Murray was the Houston vs. Portland: The Rock- top 3-point shooter at 45.9 percent, making 50 of 109 attempts.

by a 9-2 finish. So the series will ride on whether good Utah or bad Utah shows up.

■ Decline of 2 Dynasties

The Utah Jazz put Magic Johnson's Los Angeles Lakers out of their misery with a 103-97 victory Sunday, as the once-mighty Lakers failed to qualify for the playoffs for the first time in 18 years, The Associated Press reported.

And in Cleveland, the Cavaliers opped Boston on Sunday, 117-91. as the Celtics (32-50) finished their worst season since they were 29-53 in 1978-79, the year before Larry Bird arrived. Johnson ended his 16-game coaching career with a 5-11 mark, including a franchise-record 10 straight losses, contributing to the second-worst season record (33-49) in Lakers history. The Jazz finished 53-29 and are in the playoffs for the 11th straight year. The Lakers finished with a second straight losing season for the first time since 1974-75 and Robert Parish, Boston's 40-yearold center who now becomes a free agent, received standing ovations from the sellout crowd of 20,273 when he was introduced and again when he left the game with 1:54 remaining. Referee Dick Bavetta handed him the game ball when Parish walked onto the floor to acknowledge the second ovation.

"All you guys are retiring me prematurely." Parish said later. "I haven't said one word yet. I'll bave a meeting with my agent, then I'll take some more time off and make my decision.

With the victory, the Cavs set up another playoff series with their longtime nemesis, the Chicago Bulls. Cleveland (47-35) clinched the sixth seed in the Eastern Conference and will open the first round Friday at third-seeded Chicago.

Kurt Rambis blocked Bryon Russell's layup, but the Jazz handed the Lakers their 10th straight loss.

Fielder Strokes 2-Out Single to Save Tigers in the 9th bases loaded for his first save. Steve

The Associated Press

Sparky Anderson expects Cecil two-out, ninth-inning singles the day in some editions of the Herald Tribune: Fielder to hit home runs. It's those Fielder hit a three-run homer early, then singled home the goshead run in the ninth inning Sunday as the Detroit Tigers defeated the White Sox, 7-6, in Chicago.

Julio Franco and Rohin Ventura

AL ROUNDUP

hit consecutive home runs in the ending their three-game losing Chicago sixth, and did it again in the eighth for a de at 6.

Tony Phillips drew a leadoff walk in the Detroit ninth from Jose DeLeon, and Lou Whitaker sacrificed. Reliever Dennis Cook struck out Kirk Gibson, but Fielder, who was called out on strikes in his previous at-bat, in the seventh with the bases loaded, singled off Roberto Hernandez.

"I just wanted to stay on top of the ball," Fielder said. "A lot of times when you get a full count, the pitcher's got to make his pitch." "A single - that's his best hitting," Anderson said. "He gave us a good at-bat." Mike Gardiner was the winner. Mike Henneman pitched the ninth for his third save.

Indians 12, Rangers 7: Albert Belle and Manny Ramirez each drove in three runs as Cleveland won at Texas.

Belle, who homered, and Ramirez each had three of the Indians' 17 hits. Dean Palmer, who hit 33 home runs for the Rangers last season, hit his first of the year and Doug Strange also connected. Charles Nagy won despite giving up six runs in five innings. Derek Lilliquist got the last out with the Brewers 7, Royals 0: Ricky Bones pitched his first shutout in 74 career starts, and the Brewers triumphed over Kansas City in Milwaukee for their fourth victory

Dreyer was the loser.

In earlier games, reported Mon-

Twins 7, Blue Jays 3: Alex Cole led off the game with his first home run in 1,317 career at-bats, and visiting Minnesota went on to stop

Toronto's six-game winning streak pitch from Juan Guzman. Guzman, 2-15 at the Sky Dome; gave up seven runs in eight innings. Kevin Tapani kept the Twins ahead in Cole homered on the fourth

Bones gave up six hits, struck out three and walked one. He ended the game by getting Dave Hender-son to ground into a double play with the bases loaded.

Mariners 7. Orioles 6: In Baltimore, Ken Griffey Jr. hit a three-run homer, highlighting a four-run rally in the eighth inning that lifted

A wild pitch by reliever Brad Pennington scored the first run in the comeback, and Grilley for lowed with a 438-foot drive to right field, just 25 feet short of the warebouse at Camden Yards. It was the closest anyone has come to the building in a game, although Griffey hit it last year during a homerun derby a day before the All-Star

John Cummings was the winner Bobby Ayala got six outs for Scattle's first save; the Mariners had been the only team without a save this season.

Red Sox 5, Angels 4: Scott Cooper hit two solo home runs and Boston won its sixth straight game. The Red Sox have won nine in a row at Ferrway Park against Cali-

Cooper homered in the fourth and sixth innings off Phil Leftwich. He also made a diving stop on Tim Salmon's grounder down the thirdbase line in the fifth and made the play to first.

bott held Oakland hitless until Ge-Berroa blooped a s with one out in the seventh inning at Yankee Stadium and New York won its fifth in a row.

Don Mattingly, who did not homer in New York's first 15 games, connected for the second

Giants Snap Out of Hitting Slump, at Mets' Expense

A weekend power display sent the San Francisco Giants to Montreal with guarded optimism that a team batting slump was

Following a four-homer, 14-hit eruption in a 10-1 romp Saturday, the Giants added 11 hits Sunday and beat the New York Mets. 4-2, in San Francisco on the strength of Matt Williams's two-run homer.

"We weren't going to hit 210 as a team all year," said Williams, whose sixth-inning homer was his eighth of the season, tying New York's Jeff Kent for the National Right-hander John Burkett was trailing 2-0 on solo homers by Kevin McReynolos and Todd Hundley before the Giants rallied for three runs in the sixth. Right-hander Bret Saberbagen, who hadn't lost in six decisions dating hack to June 25, took a five-hit shutout into the sixth. Darren Lewis led off with a bunt single. stole second and scored on Todd Benzinger's single. Saberhagen's next pitch was a banging curve that Williams hit over the fence in and three in the eighth, then loaded the bases three more runs in the first on Detrick May's in the ninth against Trevor Hoffman before run-scoring single, Sammy Sosa's RBI double that the little of the littl

"I thought I had Williams fooled and he ended up putting it in the bleachers." Saber-bagen said. "I was making some pretty good pitches except for the curve. I've been struggling with it lately." Saberhagen also didn't fool Barry Bonds, who doubled on his first two at-hats and now is 5-for-9 lifetime, with three homers, against Saberhagen. Padres 6, Phillies 5: Andy Benes stopped his nine-game losing streak, winning for the first time since Sept. I, and Tony Gwynn tied Dave Winfield's club record with his eighth consecutive hit as San Diego stopped visiting

Phil Plantier drove in three runs with a double and bomer for San Diego, which had a season-high 14 hits. Philadelphia got two runs in the seventh ending double play.

Dodgers 7, Expos 1: In Los Angeles, Tim Wallach hit a pair of two-run homers, Mike Piazza drove in three runs with a homer and RBI double and Pedro Astacio scattered seven hits in his first complete game of the Early in the game. Montreal outlielder Larry Walker mistakenly gave a live ball to a Benzinger, shifting from No. 6 to No. 3 in fan in the stands. With one out and Jose against Saberhagen with three consecutive hall near the stands. Walker caught it and, singles. He entered the game 0-for-9 against thinking It was the third out, handed it to a saberhagen.

He entered the game 0-for-9 against thinking It was the third out, handed it to a young fan in the first row. Walker had to retrieve the ball to keep Offerman from scor-

> Cubs 12, Rockies 4: Steve Trachel scattered seven hits in his first career comolete

ing with Karl Rhodes's 416-foot homer into the right-field bleachers. The Cubs scored homer into the second deals

In earlier games, reported Monday in some editions of the Herald Tribune:

Cardinals 5, Astros 4: Bernard Gilkey scored on a wild pitch by Mike Hampton to cap a three-run eighth inning as the Cardi-nals rallied past Houston in St. Louis. St. Louis trailed 4-2 when Ray Lankford led off with a double off Shane Reynolds, Gregg Jefferies hit an RBf single, took third on Todd Zeile's single and scored or key's fielder's choice groundout.

Brian Jordan's double sent Gilkey to third, and Gilkey scored on the wild pitch by Hampton. Rich Rodriguez pitched two innings for the victory.

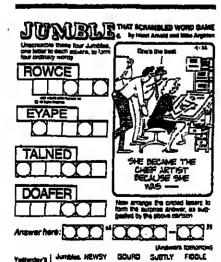

Reds 5, Marlins 2: Tom Browning pitched game, and visiting Chicago roughed up Colo- a three-hitter at Riverfront Stadium for his rado's David Nied for four runs in the first second straight complete game, following his inning and wound up with a season-high lo two-hit shutout against Philadelphia a week straight day. His three-run homer capped a four-run third inning against Bob Welch.

DENNIS THE MENACE

HE'S AN ONLY CHILD. YOU'LL SOON UNDERSTAND WHY.

Answer: What the young coups called their drive to rovers lane — 4 "BUGE" RIDE

Read the MONEY REPORT every Saturday in the IHT

For investment information

PEANUTS

BELIEVE IT

THE ANSWER IS AS WE ALL KNOW from previous generations. And PERSONAL EXPERIENCE, AND CLIMATE CONDITIONS, AND DIAGRAMS, AND.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

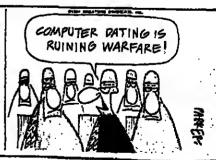

WIZARD of ID

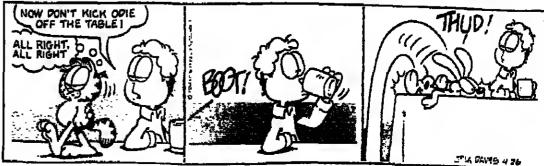

REX MORGAN

GARFIELD

MAttac

seffi Gi shrigs Threa

O 12.5

spinotic

out sice tha

ment direct of

Graf, who had in the

MEDIC ATT - V

ிட்டியன் "க்"

ndo do tar esta d

All player:

brown bodresser :

hom the ire

cont. Box gu.

backs to take and

2 Under or 1

Sous at the limit of

will be to stand out the able to orms 12 's

मिन क्षेत्र है scored accept to 💉 🧸

Bong charge in the part of it at

And he is a

Manda in a light.

BOOK EDG DEATER CO.

crown during the

BE BUT STATES

SERVICION VI C.

No Labor Fr. Johnnes The affects process of the Wat Correct ses one of and Call: player is the ... physical companies Hambura . 1 . mo secretive TV A way to think a

Aaron Sele won despite giving up more than three carned runs for the first time in his 22 major league starts. Greg Harris relieved, pitching out of a jam in the eighth, and Jeff Russell pitched the ninth for

Yankees 6, Athletics 2: Jim Ab-Ahbott, who pitched a no-hitter at home on Sept. 4 against Cleveland, allowed one run on three hits in eight innings. He struck out six and walked five.

KOREBE League Stanc AMERICAN LEAT

A 40 A

East Division MODEL BUT, BURGE BUT, BUT, SEC.

's Line Scor

iry out id.

SPORTS

Steffi Graf Shrugs Off A Threat Of Attack

Reuters
HAMBURG — A death threat to Steffi Graf, the world's topranked women's tennis player, cast a shadow over Mooday's start of the Hamburg Open women's tour-nament, where Monica Seles was stabbed in the back during a match

The threat was made in a handwritten letter mailed to a Hamburg newspaper Friday and published Monday, It was signed, "Friends of Seles and Opponents of Graf." "If Steffi plays in Hamburg there will be another attack," the letter

Graf who will be the target. And we are not playing with kitchen knives."
The police do oot believe the threat is serious, and Graf has oo plans to pull out of the tournament. But all players will be assigned two bodyguards, and undercover police will be in operation at the event, which runs uoul Sunday.

said. "But this time i) is the slimy

Graf, who plays her opening match on Tuesday, reacted coolly to the threat on Monday.

"After 12 years on the tennis circuit you don') take things so seri-ously," she said.

Gunter Parche, a lathe operator, smuggled a kitchen knife into the Hamhurg complex in a plastic bag oo April 30 of last year, and stabbed Seles, then the world No. 1, while she was seated during a changeover between games.

The attacker, who received a two-year suspended sentence, said he had stabbed Seles because he was obsessed with her rival, and wanted Graf to take over as the top player in the world. Seles has not played competitively since.

Hamburg officials have stepped up security, but say there is no sure way to prevent a recurrence. "If someooe wants to shoot, then you can't stop that," said the tournament director, Günter Sanders.

Graf, who had a routine training session on Monday, said she had received similar letters in the past. "Of course there are copycats who do this kind of thing to get in the newspapers," she said,

All players will be accompanied by two bodyguards when they walk from the dressing rooms to the court. Bodyguards will also stand near the players' seats with their backs to the court, watching the crowd during the changeovers. Undercover police have been as signed to watch for suspicious persons at the complex, and officials will try to ensure that nobody is able to bring in weapons.

Graf said she did oot believe the security needed to be any tighter. "Being close to the spectators is part of it all," sbe said. "That should not be ruined."

Calgary's Ron Stern grimaced after Dana Murzyn of Vancouver sent him sprawling to the ice.

Flames Rally Past Canucks

Muhammad Ali coined the term "rope-a-dope" -- conserving energy, even taking a pounding,

The Calgary Flames did just until using a late flurry to win.

For the second straight game, the Flames combined a third-

NHL PLAYOFFS period scoring binge with hot goaltending, beating the Ca-oucks, 3-2, on Sunday in Vancouver. As a result, the Canucks are on the verge of elimination in the Stanley Cup playoffs. "Mike gave us the opportunity to win the game, and we mentioned it just before the third period," Calgary's coach, Dave King, said of Mike Vertion, his goaltender. "We played that rope-a-dope hockey and he kept us in the game. We were tired in the secood, but got great goal-tending and played a good third scored third-period goals Suoday to carry the Flames to a 3-1 lead in their best-of-7 series. Game 5 is Tuesday in Calgary.

Calgary played without in-jured centers Joe Nieuwendyk and Joel Otto, yet sparkled in the third period for the second straight road game. The Flames had won 4-2 on Friday by scoring four third-period goals.

On Sunday, Walz tied the score 2-2 just 44 seconds into the third period. Fleury scored the game-winner at 3:38 when he snapped a passout from Robert Reichel past the Canneks goaltender Kirk McLean

Jeremy Roenick scored one minute, 23 seconds ioto overtime to boost Chicago over visiting Torouto and tie their series at 2-2.

Gary Suter's third goal of the game with 7:25 left in the third period knotted the game at 3-3 for the Blackhawks. Suter is the first Blackhawks defenseman to get a hat trick in the playoffs. Rob Pearson, Doug Gilmour and Dave Andreychuk scored for the Maple Leafs. ■ Norway Ties Sweden

Espen Knutsen scored with II seconds left, giving Norway a surprising 3-3 tie with Sweden, the Olympic champion, on Monday in the opening game of the World Hockey Championships in Bolzano, Italy, ocws agencies reported.

The goal was Knutsen's second of the game and capped a comeback that saw Norway rally from a 2-0 deficit.

Canada, the Olympic silver medalist: packed with NHL players, easily beat Italy 4-1. And the veteran winger Jari Kurri struck a last-minute goal to give Finland, the Olympie bronze medalist, a 4-4 draw with the Czech Republic.

Later Monday, Austria played Germany in Group A and France faced the United States in Group B. (AP. Reuters)

In NFL Draft, the Future Is Now

With Salary Cap, Teams Seek Instant Results From Picks

NEW YORK - In the new era of free agency, teams want players who can play now, not take four years to develop and then leave. So that's the way the first couple of rounds of the National Football League draft went.
The Cincinnati Bengals hope

Dan Wilkinson will jump right in on the defensive line. Im Mora expects Joe Johnson to start for New Orleans. Mike Holmgren

The search for instant contributors was the theme of the draft, the first of the free-agent salary cap era. As high-priced veterans are phased out under the cap, low-priced rockies are brought in.

The draft resumed Monday with a minor bang when the San Diego Chargers traded fullback Marion Buits to New England for the Patri-ots' third- and furth-round choices. The Chargers used the third-rounder to select wide receiver Andre Coleman of Kansas State.

Cincinnati started the third round with another Ohio State player to join Wilkinson, running back Jeff Cothran. Then Indianapolis took tackle Jason Matthews of Texas A&M as the draft began its long trek through the day.

The third round was full of running backs - Lamar Smith of Houston to Scattle; Calvin Jones of Nehraska to the Raiders; James Bostie of Auburn to the Rams; Le-Shon Johnson of Northern Illinois, the nation's leading rusher, to Green Bay, Byron (Bam) Morris of Texas Tech to Pittsburgh, and Gary Downs of North Carolina State to the Giants.

But oo quarterback was chosen between Trent Diller of Fresno State, who went to Tampa Ray with the sixth pick overall, and C. W. Post's Perry Klein, who went to Atlanta on the 111th pick in the fourth round. The Heisman Trophy winner, Charlie Ward, remained unchosen at that point.

But few of these players will come close to big money right away. One of the wrinkles of free agency is a separate rookie salary can that will hold down the payroll for first-year players.

Wilkinson, who was a sopbo-more at Ohio State, led a crop of underclassmen who were picked Eleven nonseniors were taken with the 29 picks of the first round. It was also a draft for defense -- 10 of the first 13 picks were defenders. Mostly, it was a draft for players who can produce immediately.

"They've told me they want me to contribute right away," said Charles Johnson, a receiver from Colorado who slipped down to the 17th spot largely because of the rush to draft defenders. Taylor, an offensive lineman, was left at 16th for the same reason.

In fact, the only offensive players taken early were running back Marshall Fanik of San Diego State, by Indianapolis with the second pick of the draft, and quarterbacks Heath Shuler of Tennessee (third by Washington) and Dilfer.
The fourth pick was defensive end

Willie McGinest of Southern Cal, a pass rusher who people in New Eng-and will expect Bill Parcells to turn wants Aaron Taylor to do the same into Lawrence Taylor. Parcells was for the Green Bay Packers. Ditto more inclined to compare him to for receiver Charles Johnson in Chris Doleman, who was traded from Minnesota to Atlana for the Falcons' top draft pick next year and a second-round pick this year. After McGinest, Indianapolis moved up to take Nebraska linebacker Trev Alberts; the Bucs took Dilfer and San Francisco moved up to take defensive tackle Bryant Young of Notre Dame to plug the gaps in their defensive line. Then

Seattle took another defensive lineman, Sam Adams of Texas A&M. Cleveland took Alabama cornerback Antonio Langham with the ninth pick; Arizona took linebacker Jamir Miller, Chicago took Al-com State linebacker John Thierry;

the New York Jets got cornerback Aaron Glenn of Texas A&M; and

New Orleans took defensive end Joe Johnson of Louisville.
Then came three straight offensive linemen, starting with Bernard Williams of Georgia to the Eagles. The Rams took Wayne Gandy of Auburn and the Packers took Tayior. Then after the Steelers took Johnson, the Vikings had two picks, taking cornerback Dewayne Wash-tackle Todd Steussie of Cal. Miami went for defensive tackle Tim Bowens of Mississippi; De-troit took wide receiver Johnnie Mortoo of Southern Cal, and then came three surprises.

ington of North Carolina State and

First the Los Angeles Raiders took linebacker Rob Fredrickson of Michigan State; the Cowboys took Shante Carver, and the New York Giants took wide receiver Thomas Lewis of Indiana.

The first round concluded with Texas A&M running back Greg Hill going to Kansas City; Houston taking defensive end Henry Ford of Arkansas; Buffalo taking safety Jeff Burns of Notre Dame; San Francisco taking fullback William Floyd of Florida, and Cleveland taking wide receiver Derrick Alex-ander of Michigan. In the second round, the biggest moves were the products of trades. The Vikings used Atlanta's second round pick to take David Palmer, the all-purpose wide receiver-kick returner from Alabama who can also play quarterback.

Atlanta got a 1995 No. 1 pick back by trading wide receiver Mike Pritchard to Denver.

SAILORS' SPRAY — Ross Field, skipper of Yamaha, spraying crew members with Champagne in Fort Landerdale, Florida, after winning the fifth leg of the Whitbread Round the World Race. On Monday morning, New Zealand Endeavour arrived in port to take the overall lead in the race.

SCOREBOARD

Major League Standings AMERICAN LEAGUE J22 661 647 588 f2 viston .625 .611 .588 .438 .316 West Division 1 1 1 1 PCL 737 500 474 444 421 .688 .647 .529 .500 .313 .579 .471 .421 .300 Sunday's Line Scores

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Colifornio 004 958 959-4 4 8
Besido 004 958 959-4 4 8
Besido 000 101 95x-5 9 8
Lattwich, K. Putterson (1), B. Patterson (7), Russell (7) and Valle. W.—Sele. 2-0.
L.—Leftwich, 8-3, Sv.—Russell (6, HRs.—Boslon, Cooper 2 (5).

Minnesolu 113 100 319—7 10 0
Toronto 90) 601 100—3 0 4
Toront, Gutheric (8f, Willis 19) and Walbeck; Gutheric (8f, Willis 19) and Walbeck;
Gutheric (8f, Willis 19) and Borders, W—Topont,
1-1. L—Guttman, 2-2. HR—Akinnesota, Cole (1f. Ooklond 200 000 181-2 6 8.

New York 804 000 20x-6 6 9.

Welch, Briscoe (7), Eckersley (9) and Steinboch; Abbott, Reardon (7) and Steinley.

M-Abpatt, 2-2, L-Welch, 0-2, HRs-Ooklond, Aldrete (1), New York, Matthingly (2).

Scottie 10, 1994 YOR, Institute 11 3 Scottie 100 298 000—7 11 3 Bottistore 932 901 800—6 9 8 Hibbard, Cummings (7), Ayale 101 and Wil-son; Mayer, Pennington 181, Eichtern 181, Poole 181, Mills (9) and Holles, W—Cummings, 1-0 L—Pennington, 0-1, Sv—Ayale 111, HRS—Sect-tle, Pirki (4), Griffey 151, Bottimers, 146, 12). Kantset City 900 000 008-0 6 1
Milwaylees 000 108-22-7 12 0
Gubless Pichordo 16) and Macforlone:
Bones and Nilsson, W.—Bones, 3-1. L.—Gu-

Defreit 602 308 381—7 0 1 602 802 802 803 64 4 1 Chlosen Philippe (4), Gardiner (7), Hennerson (9) and Tetteton; Bere, Assenmenter (7), DeLeon (7), Cook (9), Hermondez (9) and Lovellere, Rortayrice (7), W—Gardiner, 1-0, L—DeLeon, 0-1, Sw—Hennerson (3), HRS—Detroit, Fielder (4), Chicoso, Franco (7), Verniuru (4).

Fielder (6). Chicago, Franco 2 (7), Vermin a 2 (6).
Clevetand 462 460 766—12 17 6
Texas: 625 166 061—1 16 2
Nagy, Plunk (6(, Lilliquist (9) and Pena; Orever, Hurst (41, Whiteside (7, Carpenter (9) and Ortiz. W—Nagy. 2-0. L—Dreyer, 0-1.
$v—Lilliquist ((1, HRS—Clevetand, Belle (3).
Texas, Palmer (1), 2trange 14).

NATIONAL LEAGUE HASEBIA DE LA COMPANIO Hammand, Lewis (7), Aquino (6) and Santi 190; Browning and Dorsett. W—Browning, 2 1. L—Hammand, 1-2. HR—Cincianati, Sand ago; Browning and Dorsett, W.—Browning, 2-0. L.—Hammond, 1-2. HR.—Cinckmatt, Sanders Id.).

Hopston 951 692 198.—4 9 8
St. Louis 708 108 836.—5 9 1
Swindell, Raynolds 181. Edens (8), Jones (8), Hammon (8) and Eusebic; Watsus, Hobvan
17), Radrigues (8), Parts (9), and Pappas, McGriff (9). W.—Radriguez, 1-0. L.—Edens, 2-1.
Sv.—Perts 16). HR.—51. Louis, Zelie 161.
Chicago 94 108 890—12 16 1
Colorado 160 108 811.—6 7 9
Trochael and Wilkins; Nied, Blair (3), RufRi (6), Reed (8), Moore (9) and Sharifer, W.—Trochael, 2-1, L.—Nied, 2-2. HR.—Chicago,
Rhodes (4), Colorado, Buriss (7), Young (3), Philodelphia 909 609 236.—5 9 2
San Olege 182 219 60s.—6 14 1
Schilling, Judan (5), West (7), Young (3), Philodelphia Benes, Ge, Harris (8), M. Dovis
191. Hoffman (8) and Ausmus, W.—Benez, 1-4.
L.—Schilling 9-1, Sv.—Haffinson, 3. HR.—San Diego, Piantier (5),
New York 109 619 886.—2 6 8
San Francisco 969 603 187.—4 11 9
Soberhagen, M. Moddata (7), Franco (8) and Hundley; Burletti, Burba (8), M. Jockson (9)
ond J. Reed, W.—Burkett, 2-1, L.—Soberhagen, 2-1, Sv.—M. Jockson, 4. HR.—Son Francisco,
M. Williams 10(; New York, McRaynolds (1), Hundley 14(, Montrea) 69 900 100—1 7 2
Los Asbeles 282 609 38:—7 9 8
P.J. Martinez, Shaw (7), Boucher (8) and D.
Fielcher; Astaclo and Plazza, W.—Astoclo, 1-

Hundley 14(.
Montreal 600 600 160—1 7 2
Los Angeles 262 600 261—7 8 8
P.J. Mortinez, Show (7), Boucher (8) and D.
Fletcher; Astaclo and Plazza, W—Astaclo, 12. L.—P.J. Mortinez, 0-2. HR3—Los Angeles, Plazzo (34, Wolten

The Michael Jordan Watch

SUNDAY'S GAME: Jordan went 1-tor-4 with a single in the Barons' 5-4 less to the Nashville Xores. He extended his hithing streek to 11 games. His shade was a high infield chap fielded by shortstop Ted Corbin, who had no play at first base, He allos prounded out three times. He made a running catch on try boll that was hit to him in right-center. SEASON TO DATE: Jordan is 15-tor-46 and the serveriess in 17 chances

HOCKEY

NHL Playoffs

N.Y. Rassers

N.Y. Islanders

Pins? Period—I, Islanders, Tramas; (Krups, Ferrare), 1:28 jppl. 2, Islanders, Flander (Turbean, Kino), 7:24. 3, Ransers, Kovolev 4 (Lattner, Zubov), 11:59 (ppl. Pendiles—Anderson, NYR (goadle interference), 25; Plante, NYI Incharising), 2:21; Matakav, NYI Incoking), 10:21; Kypreas, NYR (roughing), 8:03.

Second Period—4, Rangers, Zubov 2, Leetch), 3:42 jppl. 5, Ransers, Messier 3, 18:22, Penalities—Kosparalitis, NYI (roughing), 2:23; Hackali, NYI, jervad by Action (roughing), 3:42; Beutseboom, NYR (crass-checking), 6:42; Mac Tavist, NYR (roughing), 1:42; Mac Tavist, NYR (roughing), (roughino), J.Q; Beukeboom, NYR (cross-checking), 4:Q; MocTovish, NYR (roughino), checking), 6:42; MecTavish, NYR (roushing), 11:77; Chynowth, NYI (roushing), 11:37.

Taird Periad—6. Randers, Lortner 2 (Nemchinov, Gilbert), 8:24, 1, Randers, Messler 4 (Beukabaara), (1:98; Penalities—Vaska, NYI (cross-checking), (1:94; MacTavish, NYR (roushing), (1:94; MacTavish, NYR (cross-checking), 11:36; Voltota, NYL minor-majar-sumisconduct (cross-checking, fistating), 11:34.

Shots on goal—Randers 124-13—34, Islanders 1-7-4—18; power-play apportunities—Randers 2 of 6; Islanders 1 of 2; goalies—Randers, Richter, 4-9 (18 shots-16 soves), Islanders, Hextell, 0-3 (34-27).

Dollas 8 1 1—2
Si. Loois 1 0 0—1
First Period—1, 51, Louis, Housier 2 (Sharahan, Duchesnet, 1:22 (ppl. Penaltips—Leier, Dal (crass-checkingt, 2:14; Modana, Dol (high-stickingt, 6:45; Zomba, 51L (crasschecking), 9:21.

Second Period—Z. Dollas, Medano 4 | Kleft, Eklundi, 15:47. Penalties—Zmolek, Dol (cress-checking), 4:84; Zembo, St. Lirlaping), 1:28; Churia, Dol, double minor-misconduct (roughtes), 16:03; McRes, St., misconduct, 18:03; Miller, 21. Lirlapingi, 13:42.

duct, 18:03; Miller, 21. Interpring 1. 13:42.

Taird Period—3. Dollos. Modern 5 (Courtnoti, Covotini), 16:13 (po). Penolites—Evecon.
Dol (hooking), 4:33; Lator. Dol (roughing).
10:01; Miller, St. (roughing), 10:01; Dollos bench, served by Courtholl floo maxy men on los), 13:90; Duchesne, St. (hooking), 14:77.
Spets on gool—Dollos 12:17-6—32. St. Louis
6-13-7—24; power-play opportuatives—Dollos
10:4:52. Louis 1 of 5; poelles—Dollos, Wokolut, 4-0 (24 shots-25 saves), St. Louis, Joseph, 64 (23-30).

4 (32-30).

Calcary 1 9 2-3

Voncouver 1 1 9-2

First Period—1, Calgary, Stern 1 Ristal, 10:57, 2, Voncouver, Gelma 2 (Bura, Brown),
17:54, Penalties—Keczmer, Cal (Inferferencel, 5:24; Bura, Van Iholding), 7:12; Yawney, Cal (Indefin), 11:02; McCarthy, Cal, misconduct, 11:02; Antoski, Van misconduct, 11:02; Linden, Van (elbowing), 13:2; Pairick, Van (roughing, 16:12; Musik Cal (hishskicking), 16:39; Colgary bench, served by
2 fero, 17:54; Courfmoll, Van (charying), 19:39;
3 ecosed Period—3, Vancouver, Linden 3
(Courfmoll, Brown), 2:06, Penalties—Sullivan, Col (Interference), 1:02; Bura, Van (Interference), 9:37; Charbonneau, Van Islashing).
18:01.

Third Period—4, Colgary, Weiz 2 (Maclin-

Third Period—4. Colgory, Welz 2 | Macin-nis, Roberts(, :44.5, Colgory, Fleury 4 (Ref-chet, Suilivan), 3:38. Penalty—Musil, Cal Chalding(, 1:31.

Shots to seed.—Colscory 10-9-10—28. Vencouver 15-17-12—44; power-play appearanties.—Colscory, Vernon 3-1 144 shots-42 soves1. Vencouver, McLeon 1-3 129-251.

Vencouver, AcLeon 1-3 128-251.
Tereste 1 1 1 6-3
Chicago 2 0 1 1-4
First Period-1, Chicago, Suter 1 I Amonte,
Rosalcki, 9:53, 2, Chicago, Suter 2 I Marrotry,
Rosalcki, 9:53, 2, Chicago, Suter 2 I Marrotry,
Rosalcki, 13:28 (ppl. 3, Toronto, Gilmour 2
I Mazoun, Gariner), 14:55 (ppl. 9-Pennitiles—Andrevicus, Tor I reusering, 4:46; Carney, Chi (interference), 4:46; Stantz, Chi (hriseland, 10:37; Ctork, Tor I reuseling), 13:65; Rouse, Tor (reuseling), 13:37; Welerich, Chi I hrispites), 13:37; Yesboert, Chi (muphina), 13:27; Capame, Tor, misconduc,
17:11; Dublinstey, Chi, misconduci, 17:11; Andreychuk, Tor (halding), 19:41.

Second Partad—4, Torontin, Andreychuk 2 (Gilmour, Mirgney), 14:40 (pp.). Penalites—Macous, Tor (roughlas), 1:36; Zerel, Tor (high-siticline), 7:31; Leitevre, Tor (cross-checkina), 11:25; Cunnerworth, Chi Interpland I, 13:55; Zuter, Chi Interierenco), 14:22; Ellett, Tor (roughlas), 11:39; Murchy, Chi Iroophinai, 17:59.

Triogeness, 17137.
Taker Periode, 5. Taranta, Peorson 1 IGitmour, Eliati(1,2-59.6, Calcaso, Suter 3 (Roenick, Murphy), 12:35 [sol.) Penanties—Reenick, Chi (Interference), 133; Murphy, Chi (Instr-sticking), 5:22; Gill, Tor (cross-checking), 11:40.
Overfitme—7, Chicago, Roenick 1 I Amanie, Murphy), 1:21, Penalties—None. Sants de gool—Toronto 18-11-14-2-37. Chi-cogo 8-11-9-2-29; pewer-slay apportunités— Toronto 2 of 6; Chicago 2 of 6; goodles—Tor-ante, Potvin, 2-2 (27 shots-25 saves), Chicago.

World Championships Sweden 3. Norway 3 Conada 4. Italy 1 Finland 4. Czech Republic 4

AND SECTION AND ASSESSMENT NBA Final Season Standings EASTERN CONFERENCE

WESTERN CONFERENCE

PC .707 .671 .644 .512 .244 .157 2-Sobtile 62 1 x-Phoenix 56 7
x-Gotden 2tate 90 3
x-Fortians 47 3
LA Lokers 30 4
Socramento 21 5
LA Clippers 27 5
x-gained playoff benth
y-won division title
2-best conference record

2UNDAY'S RESULTS
Defroit 20 39 28 23—182
Philadehable 20 39 28 23—182
D: Ellioth 13-22 1-3 36 21 23—114
D: Ellioth 13-22 1-3 36 Liberty 5-20 1-3 22 P: Dowkins 7-8-22 16, Woolridge 11-17 3-4 24. Rebounds—Octroit 55 (Anderson 16). Philadelphila 62 19 Woolridge 10). Assists—Defroit 29 (Ellioth 91, Philadelphia 24 (Dowkins 15.

(Elliott 9f, Philodeiphic 24 (Dorwhits 1).
Cacrustie 21 27 31 28—97
Wathlegton 25 31 24 31—112
C: Adourning 6-17 6-10 IB Mornkins 4-97 4-16
W: Gugitorita 14-21 3-3 31, Mureson 18-15 1-1 21.
Reboonds—Charlotte 32 (Mournins 13), Washlands A (Gugitorite 38), Assists—Charlotte 16
IL. Johnson 41, Washlandson 39 (Price 7).
New York 23 17 33 25—72
Chicago 15-15 5-2 5-5 Smith 11 34 15 C:

| Price 10].
| Deliver | 31 | 20 | 36 | 25-115 |
| Houston | 0: Pock 8-12 1-9 22, Ropers 7-11 1-1 14 | 11: |
| Digituwon 15-21 4-9 34, Cossell 8-13 6-7 23, Ropers 7-51 |
| Digituwon 15-1, Assistra-Deriver 25 (Pock 1).

Houston 31 (Cossell 8).

Utah 25 24 29 25—102

LA Lakers 25 21 33 25—77

U: Mothers 9:20 68 24, 2 tackfort 5-6 4-5 (4, LA; Yan Exel 7-22 4-5 21, Jordon 1-10 4-8 20, Rebosouds-Utah 5-9 (Spencer 111), Los Argeles 55 (Rombis 9), Assists—Utah 28 (Sinckton 10), Assists—Utah 28 (Sinckton 10), Assists—Utah 28 (Sinckton 10), Assists—Utah 28 (Sinckton 10), Los Angeles 19 IVan Exel 9).

Sealité 25 27 27 28—110
partigued 34 34 18 22—198
2: Schrempf 9-11 1-3 18, Partien 7-18 (April P.
C. Richinson 7-13 6-8 29, Strickhond 6-15 9-12 20, Rebounds—Seatile 52 | Kerne 14), Portland 62 (Drexter 17). Assists—Sectific 20 (Kerne, Mc-Million, Askew 4). Portland 26 (Strickland 14).

Son Amenie 28 17 23 43—112
L.A. Citpeers 19 16 23 39— 97
S: 5: Rodmon 4-5 0-8 R. Robinson 24-01 13-25
7. L.A.: Wilkins 4-17 3-4 % Vasyni) 7-18-22 %
Dehere 10-11 4-4 26. Rebounds—Son Antonio 68
1 Rodmon 177. Los Angelies 47 (Outrow, H. Ellis
61. Assistrs—Son Antonio 28 (Def Regro, Floyd
6), Los Angelies 23 (Jockson 6).

27 29 23 21-- 17 Orlands 27 28 33 27— F1
Orlands 32 32 34— 72
N.J.: Coleman 10-15 4-6 25, K. Anderson 6-12
J-5 11. O: Scott 7-16 4-4 26, O'Neot 12-21 8-14 32,
N. Anderson 8-16 2-27, Research—New Jersey 47 (Macris 8t, O'rlands 72 (O'Neot 22), Assiste—New Jersey 25 (K. Anderson 6), Orlands 32 (Hardsway 8),

Attamosola 39 33 25 25-162 Durles 39 37 25-316 Att. Rider 7-14 10-10 25 At. Williams 4-7 6-8 16. O: Jackson 7-10 5-5 20, Cambol 11-1-1-2-2 22. soft 4) Brown 9). Dollos 6 (Smith. Lever 9(, Assists—Minne |Lostiner 5), Dallos 23 (Rocks 5).

Golden State 19 25 26 29-77
Socramento 26 27 30 22-46
G: Gatilins 5-93-4 13, Jannings 6-15 1-2 15, 5:
Webb 10-22 44 25, Richmond 8-16 47 25, Rebeunds—Golden State 61 (Gorling 15), Socramento 61 (Pohynice 14), Assists—Golden State 27 (Jennings 15), Socramento 23 (Webb 7).

NBA Playott Openers

FIRST ROUNG (Best-of-five series) Thursday, April 28

Priday, April 29 New Jersey of New York Clevelond of Chicago Partiand of Houston Gelden State of Phoenix

ESCORTS & GUIDES

AIVASDES

ORCHIDS

UK 071 589 5237

LONDON ESCORT AGENCY HAJOR CREAT CARDS ACCEPTE

071 589 8200

071 266 0586

INTERNATIONAL ESCORTS

Service - Worldwele Tel: 212-765-7896 New York, USA Major Credit Cards

"" YICLET "" Estant Service 2019(CH " PARES
Credit cords accepted
For Zunch: call 87 / 63 83 82
Other physical INTL + 35 2/47 42 97

FIFA Puts Off Move on French Ban Tour of Spain

Results Meaday from the first stoye, a nine-kileawiter (fine Irigil is Vethadotid, Spain: 1, Tony Reminger, Switzerland, Mapet-Clas, 19 minutes, 25 seconds; 2, Alex Zulis, Switzerland, ONCE, 20 seconds behind; 3, Melchor Mauri, Sodin, Boneste, 24 behind; 4, Glanisca Piere-bor, Italy, Amareand Vito, 27 behind; 5, Marino Alarsa, Sooin, Bonesto, 33 behind; 6, Abraham Glano, Spain, Mapet-Clas, 34 behind; 8, An-rhon Berit, Italy, Mercutine, 25 behind; 8, Je-ma Mantoya, Sooin, Bonesto, 38 behind; 19, Pedro Delgodo, Secin, Bonesto, 39 behind; Crearchi standings: 1, Rominger, 10:25; 2, Zulis, 20 seconds behind; 5, Mourt, 24 behind; 4, Pierobon, 27 behind; 5, Mourt, 24 behind; 4, Pierobon, 27 behind; 5, Mourt, 24 behind; 6, Olano, 34 behind; 7, Hodge, 34 behind; 8, Baffi, 35 behind; 9, Monrovo, 36 behind; 10, Delgodo, 39 behind; 9, Monrovo, 36 behind; 10, Delgodo, 39 behind; 9, Monrovo, 36 behind; 10, Delgodo,

GOLF

OREATER GREENSBORO OPEN
Source offer Sunday's final round of the $1,5 milling fournament, played on the 6,958-ward (4,968-meter), por-77. Forest Oels Country Club course, in Greensboro, Worth Caroline: Alike Soringer, United Stotes 64-97-072-275
Hote Irvin, United 21otes 65-73-71-69-278
Bard Bryoni, United Stotes 68-71-68-71-278
Ed Harmanik, United Stotes 68-71-68-71-28
Ed Harmanik, United Stotes 68-71-68 go Humanni, Umfeet zendes Bob Lohr, United States John Morse, United States Domite Hommand, U.S. 77-49-70-29 Dustley Hart, United States 75-49-47-0-20 Aliko Smits, United States 75-49-70-20 Joel Edwards, United States 9

SOCCER

INTERNATIONAL FEIENDLY Iceland 2, United States 1

SIDELINES

ZURICH (Renters) - FIFA, soccer's world governing body, reserved judgment on Monday about whether the suspensions of players banned in the Valenciennes-Marseille hribery scandal could be lifted.

The French soccer federation on Friday banned three players involved in the affair until July I, 1996, but said they would be willing to see them play outside France as of July I this year if FIFA agreed. But a FIFA spokesman said the body could not comment on the issue "until we have the position in writing from the French federation."

The spokesman acknowledged that the French request, as reported, was unusual and probably did not have a precedent. FIFA oormally extends domestic bans for serious offenses, such as corruption, to make them effective worldwide.

Springer Gets His First PGA Victory

GREENSBORO, North Carolina (Reuters) - Mike Springer claimed his first career title on the PGA Tour with a wire-to-wire victory at the Greater Greensboro Open.

Springer, who led after each round and began Sunday with a four-stroke cushion, shot a final-round par 72 for a 13-under-par 275 total and a three stroke victory. He sank a 20-foot birdie putt oo the last hole for his final margin of victory over Hale Irwin, Brad Bryant and Ed Humenik, who finished tied for second. Humenik had the best round of the runnersup with a four-under 68. Irwin finished with a 69 and Bryan) had a 71. Springer, 28, and in his fourth year on the Tour, had six birdies, six bogeys and six pars and watched his lead fluctuate from a high of five strokes down to just one. For the Record

Giovanni Trapattoni, 55, one of Italy's most successful soccer coaches. signed a one-year contract Monday with Bayern Munich and will join the German powerhouse next season. The Italian, currently coach of Juventus in Italy, will replace Franz Beckenbauer.

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED (Continued From Page 15)

ELITE ESCORTS MAJOR CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTED UK 071 $86 9298 ROTTERDAM WHITE'S Excert Service Tel: 01 / 381 99 48 ZUBBCH / BERN / BASEL CHELSEA ESCORT SERVICE Brouchamp Place, Lordon SW3. Tet 071-584 6513

SUTTON ESCORT SERVICE 212-987-6726 New York City USA Major Credit Cords GENEVA PARS Escort Serves  321 99 61 MISS GENEVA & PARIS LONDON ESCORT SERVICE MENTAL ESCORT SERVICE

LONDON PLEASE PHONE 671 225 3314 London/Heathrow Talephone 0850 623734 To subscribe in Germany

> just call, toll free, 0130 84 85 85

"PARIS A LONDON"

 PRESTIGE ESCORT SERVICE ***
Longion (71) 394 5145 VENNA PARIS MILAN ZURICH Eurocontact Escort + Travel-S Call Vienna +43-(-310 63 (9. PRANKFURT & AMPORT ESCORT AND GUIDE AGENCY.
TEL: TOKYO (IG) 388 - 1590.

 FAIL AN * JU LI A ***

 ESCORT & GUIDE SERVICE ***

TEL: MOBILE (IG) 224 392 (Ind) only)
OR DAIL INTO (IS) 286 54 39*

 TUBEN ***

 SECORT & GUIDE SERVICE ***

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

**

 Tek 069-552221. TAJ MAHAL ESCORT SERVICE. MAJOR CREDIT CARDS. LONDON 071 286 4105 UPREME ESCORT SERVICE Vienna, Prog. Zurich, Gerevo, Lin Soldburg, Innebruck + 43 (532)() ESCORT & TRAVEL SERVICE Tel: 39-2 407 78 72 ZUBICH / BERN / BASEL ESCH Service
Tek 077/88 06 60, 077/89 06 70

" " C H A R L E N E "
" C H A R L E N E "
" LONDON " ESCORT SERVICE "
CALL 0 7 (- 3 8 5 - 2 8 3 (
ITALY " PARIS" COTE D'AZUR
French Bisers Bicort Agency
Did fin't) + 39 184 348 87

" GENEVA " GINGER " PARIS " ESCORT SERVICE "

M A X I M " S OF L O N D O N "
" ESCORT " SERVICE "
LONDON - 0 7 1 - 9 3 5 - 4 5 3 3 M.Ú.N.) CH. WELCOME ESCORT & GUIDE AGENCY. PLEASE CALL 089 - 97 23 14. MADRID  CHRISTIE Guide Service in Spoin. Tel: 908-710351 or 34-08-710351 MORRISON CLUB - VIENNA ESCORT Service. 5., Recine Wienzele 20. 0722/56 86 84. MAYFAR ESCORT SERVICE Elendstreet 26 the Hogue, Holland Tel: +31 (070) 3607976. PARIS BRUSSELS VIP Escort Service, int 3 32 2 2801860 credit cords MAHOGANY ANGELS OF LONDON ECORT SERVICE 071-233-7047 credit cords accepted FRANKRURI KOUN DUSSELDORF GENEVA FIRST Exprt Agency Tel: 072,346,14.86.

The Profit Solution

is written, a page will have to be set aside for Conrad Rader, who developed the Bottom Line economic theory which spelled out how an airline could never make a profit.

Rader teaches "Red-inkonomics" at Wonka U. and is a leading candidate for a Nobel Prize. I found him in froot of his blackboard drawing perfect with a 'They say that you were the first scientist to discover how the airlines Buchwald could lose money without even try-

"You can say that again. Before the Rader hypothesis, some airlines showed profits. Now they're all bleeding red ink."

"How did they do it?" "It was a case of bad management plus luck. I made a study for USAir and I discovered that before deregulation, a majority of the air-

Renovated Fillmore To Reopen This Week

S AN FRANCISCO — A refurbished Fillmore, the auditorium where rock 'n' roll history was made for a time in the late 1960s, will reopen Thursday with a lineup of new talents, including Chris Isaak, Michelle Shocked, Queen

Latifah and Counting Crows.

There, at the opening on Dec. 10, 1965, the late rock 'n' roll impresario Bill Graham presented Jeffer-son Airplane and Great Society. with The Grateful Dead, who had just changed their name from The Warlocks a week before, as the

In its heyday from 1965 to 1968, the Fillmore presented three bands a night, mixing blues, rock 'n' roll and jazz in an eclectic lineup that featured top artists of the era, including Janis Joplin, Jimi Hendrix, The Who, Cream, Jefferson Airplane and the Butterfield Blues Band.

WASHINGTON — When the lines were making a reasonable living and still flying people where they wanted to go. They took the money they had made and ordered new planes with it and the rest they distributed in profits. My job was to discover what they were doing

> "How did you do that?"
> "I found out that the reason for the profits was that the airlines never engaged in a price war. Therefore I advised them to slash their fares until they went into Chapter

"The price war should have guaranteed a loss."

"It worked far better than I had planned. Not only did the airlines slash fares, they started giving away seats for nothing. I can't take all the credit for how bad it became. The ones who must do that "Wasn't the cut in fares a good move to get new customers?"

"It seemed so at first. But then the law of the jungle took over, and the airlines started to cannibalize each other. Once the competitor was bleeding the survivor could charge anything it wanted to."

"Why didn't the airlines make money once they chopped off their competitors' heads?"

Because of their frequent mileage plans. They gave away so many seats that there was none left for paying passengers."

"Was that your idea?" "It was one of them. Frequent flyer programs are the mother's milk of Chapter 11."

"Everyone flies and nobody pays," I said.

"It wouldn't have worked if the airline executives hadn't seen the writing on the wall and voted themselves golden parachutes when the companies were going under. Knowing that there was always money waiting for the bosses made it easier to screw up the industry."

"Are those the clients you When they had a profit problem, they came to me." What about the need for new

An airline can always use new airplanes, but they're much happier ing their cut-rate fares."

A Rough-Edged Brother Act, With Taste

By Betsy Sharkey

OS ANGELES — Bob Weinstein tells the story of riding a subway home from Manhattan to Queens when he was just 13 years old and his brother Harvey was 15. They decided to pass the time by testing Harvey's knowledge of film.

"The entire subway car was listening," says Bob. "The questions got harder and harder, and the people got quieter and quieter." The final question was: Who was the Russian director of "War and Peace?" "People are going, 'No way, man, he ain't getting that,' " says Bob. Harvey scans the getting that," says Bob. Harvey stans the subway car, then says, "Sergei Bondar-chik." The crowd," says Bob, "went wild." Harvey's favorite story about Bob took place a few years ago, the day they walked past a basketball court in Manhattan. These black kids were on the court, and they looked at Bob like he was the quintessential overweight executive and they were taunting him," says Harvey. "He said, Til take all of you on, one on one.' And he beat all three."

Whether or not memory has infused these moments with more drama and daring over the years, the scenes say much about the psyches of these two brothers.

As founders and co-chairmen of Miramax Films, Harvey, 42, and Bob, 39, have arguably become the dominant force in the world of art-house films. Yet in that highbrow milien, the brothers are obsessed with proving themselves in a Sergio Leone "Fistful of Dollars" kind of way.

The brothers will go to the Cannes Inter-national Film Festival in May with a record four films in competition: "Mrs. Parker and the Vicious Circle," the Dorothy Parker story starring Jennifer Jason Leigh; Quen-tin Tarantino's "Pulp Fiction"; "Red," the third film in the Krzysztof Kieslowski tril-ogy; and a French film, Patrice Chereau's "Queen Margot," based on the Dumas novel. Two more of their films will be shown at Cannes: "Fresh" at the Directors Fortnight and "Clerks" during Critics' Week.

Last year they had "The Piano" and "Farewell My Concubine," which went on to share Cannes's top prize and were prominent in this year's Academy Awards

What is intiguing is the dichotomy the Weinsteins seem to represent. The tough kids from Queens, who oever shed their rough edges, search out and buy films that are artistically sensitive and aesthetically unconventional. They have exhibited an unconventional for the property leads for the property leads for the property leads for the property leads to the property leads uncanny knack for skimming off the cream of the independent film crop. More clusive is their taste, how they pick and choose the films they will pursue.
"I used to think that they were rather like a savage going down a path," says the film director James Ivory. He sees something shiny and doesn't know what it is but Harvey Weinstein, left, and Bob Weinstein of Miramax, have four films in competition in the Cames Festival in May.

picks it up because he knows it's valuable. They've had a string of successes, and you have to respect that. But God knows, with their sort of personal manner, how it

Like many independent film compa-mes, Miramax is not so much in the busi-ness of making films as of buying completed ones, although with its acquisition last year by Walt Disney Pictures, that is changing. While the Weinsteins liked the script for "The Piano," for example, they acquired the rights to distribute it only weeks before it was shown at Cannes. Nevertheless, Miramax took "The Piano" out of play before other independents could bid for it.

"Farewell My Concubine" was a ocar polar opposite. An epic that explores so-cial, sexual and political themes in China over 50 years, set against the backdrop of Chinese opera, it was acquired by Mira-max after virtually all other independent distributors had passed on it.

"It had everything going against it," says Harvey. "It's a Chimese-language film. The length of the film is going to prevent some people from going to see it. There's the subject matter—the homosex-uality, the suicides, the cruelty. People who are educated in this business, who had to judge the commercial value of it, who had to answer Will this do well in the marketplace?" said no." The word on Miramax is that the Weinstein brothers are passionate, relentless and sometimes ruthless in their search for, acquisition of and marketing of obscure films.

Harvey moves through this world with a Clint Eastwood swagger in a John Belushi body. He chain-smokes, looks as if he hasn't changed his shirt in days and talks in a voice that growls its way along.
"Harvey is really a kind of actor," says

Ivory. "He has a great actor's voice, tremendously resonant, with a strong dramatic delivery. He uses it as an actor ought to: to terrify, to mystify, to beguile."

Bob has the same steely gut and a Groucho Marx, double-martini dry style. As they have scripted their lives, they are brasher, smarter and rougher than the other guys. Some competitors and filmmakers cast the brothers more in the role of villains than crusty heroes. Over the years, the Weinsteins have stepped on toes, bruised egos, been labeled brutes and bullies.

Bob readily admits to playing hardball with exhibitors. "I deal with theaters who want to play 'Demolition Man' for a ninth week, and I want to get Tie Me Up! Tie Me Down!' in there," he says. "We've got to be tough."

If directors complain about Miramax, it is most often because Harvey will suggest that films be trimmed. "Ninety percent of the time it's not a problem," says Harvey. The situation becomes dicey, he believes, as a filmmaker becomes more established. "It's hard for them to read that they're a genius a year ago," says Harvey, "then come to terms, to see the flaws in what they're working on now. You have to understand that temperament and still find a better way to do it."

Harvey's penchant for snipping has carned him the sobriquet Harvey Scissor-hands. At the end of the day, he says, it is not the filmmakers, his employees or even Miramax's new owners at Disney that he mramax's new owners at Disney that he answers to. "My first loyalty is to the movie," he says.

Jeffrey Katzenberg, chairman of Miramax's parent, Walt Disney Pictures, has heard all the stories. "I know there are many people in their past incarnation that they would rub up against the wrong way," says Katzenberg, referring to the Wein-steins pre-Disney years. "Bot after a year, I've seen what's inside these men. They are really good souls. I think it was circum-stances that made them have to do things a little harder, a little rougher. These are two caring generous, sweet people . . . who are killers about their business."

Betsy Sharkey, an editor at large for Adweek magazine, wrote this for The New

41 Ale muge

44 Barrister's

PEOPLE

Philby's Widow to Sell Spy's Book Collection

The widow of Kim Philip, the Briton who spied for the Soviet Union for three decades, is planning to auction books, mementoes and a homburg hat that belonged to him. Rufina Philby, the spy's fourth wife, told the Independent on Sunday she would use the money to improve her daily life in Moscow. Sotheby's hopes the sale on July 18 will raise £100.000 ($150,000). The bulk of the sale will be of Philby's large library, including books with inscriptions by his fellow spies Guy Burgers and Donald Maclean. Philby was recruited by the KGB in 1934 and spied for the Soviet Umon until he fled to Moscow in 1963. He died at 76 in Steven Spielberg was the main winner at the British Academy of Film and Television Arts awards. repeating his Oscar triumph with best film and best director prizes for "Schindler's List" Anthony Hopkins won best actor for "The Remains of the Day," and Holly Hanter added a best actress to the Oscar she won in "The Piano."...

Sylvester Stallone isn't into long goodbyes. When he broke off his five-year relationship with the model Jennifer Flavin last month, he sent the news by Federal Express. "He sent me a six-page hand-written letter," she told People magazine. "It was pretty sloppy."

Cold feet? Amy Carter and her fiance postponed their May 28 wedding, The Atlanta Journal Constitution says. Carter, 26, and Michael Antonucci, 27, gave no reason, the newspaper said.

The founder of ABC and his wife are donating $60 million to Harvard Medical School, The New York Times says. The gift, from Leonard H. Goldenson, 88, and his wife, Isabelle, 81, is the largest in the medical school's 200-year history, the newspaper said. Goldenson, a Harvard graduate, took control of an eight-affiliate network in 1953 and made it a national giant.

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED Appears on Page 15

60 Dickensian chil

az Concorde et al.

61 Earle loch

ATa

рма Таркот 2000

mine o lare et la

Mary 1

membert about a

orformer or a large

Dig To Benediction

n station in i

Control over 19

piles of Care . A co

Bosnei

SARAJENTO S.

E Services

arrand (....

REPORT FOR THE PARTY

on him where h

Seemed to (1 2

The news same to naram indening des

Sea ne voje

WEATHER

Forecast for Wednesday through Friday, as provided by Accu-Weather.

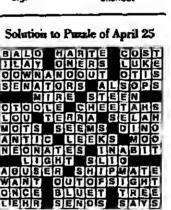

26/15 28/79 pc 34/83 26/79 pc 26/79 pc 26/79 pc 34/83 26/79 pc 36/79 21/70 pc 36/89 21/70 pc 36/89 21/70 pc 36/89 21/70 pc 36/89 26/77 pc 34/87 84/4 s 19/80 21/73 pc 24/73 84/4 s 19/80 10/80 pc 26/89 26/73 pc 36/89 26/89 26/99 2 Africa

11 Shake up 14 Brook 15 Unipoked 16 Hollywood's Thurman Machine people 17 Star of "The Invisible Man" 20 Zeus or Jupiter, ACROSS

1 Kindergarter

6 Onetime La

21 School grp. 22 Wood-shaping 23 Fleur-de-

27 Not left in the 32 The Time

33 Speckled horse 34 Poet Wilfred

47 Not cleric 40 Two-pointer se Comes out 54 Kin of calypso

64 Star of "The (1993 versio e7 Sooke from t ss Pull off a doug we Author Beatti 70 Choir wines 71 Minus DOWN

35 Beats it

To Pay by mail

42 Onetime Texaco riva

4s Prefor with

43 Not on the level

45 Talketive Barrett

1 Electrical p

e masti billing financino (car ad phra 7 Sow's opposi Rightmost column

9 A century in Washington 18 — bodkins 11 Star of "Without a Trace"

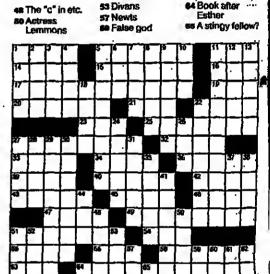

CROSSWORD

12 Habbergast 22 Orbiting points

26 "Don't Bring Me Down" rock band 27 Nocturnal bear 26 They might be heard a thousand time 29 Star of 30 Ali broken up 31 Disband

35 Hirschfeld hide 37 This, in Madrid as Chimney grit

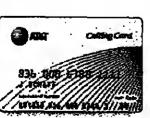

sa Stone

New York Times Edited by Will Shortz.

Costa Rica*n

El Salvador

Travel in a world without borders, time zones or language barriers.

Imagine a world where you can call country to country as easily as you can from home. And reach the U.S. directly from over 125 countries. Converse with someone who doesn't speak your language, since it's translated instantly. Call your clients at 3 a.m. knowing they'll get the message in your voice at a more polite hour. All this is now possible with AT&T1

To use these services, dial the ATAT Access Number of the country you're in and you'll get all the help you need. With these Access Numbers and your AT&T Calling Card, international calling has never been easier.

If you don't have an AT&T Calling Card or you'd like more information on AT&T global services, just call us using the convenient Access Numbers on your right.

AUST Access Numbers. How to call around the world.

Using the chart below, find the country you are calling from Dial the corresponding ARST Access Number.
 An ARST English-speaking Operator or voice prompt will ask.

To receive your free wallet card of ADAT's Access Numbers, just dial the access number of the country you're in and ask for Customer Service. COUNTRY

COUNTRY A	CCESS NUMBER	COUNTRY	ACCESS NUMBEL
ASIA/I	ACIFIC	ireland	1-800-550-00
Australia	9014-881-011	Italy*	172-101
China PRC+++	10611	Liechtenstein'	155-00-13
Gusen	018-872	Lithuanise	84190
Hong Kong	500-1111	Luxembrang	0-800-011
India	900-117	Males*	0800-890-110
Indonesia-	-001-801-10	Monsco*	194-0011
Japan*	0039-111	Netberlands"	06-022-9111
Kores	009-11	Norway	800-190-11
Korcaa	. 11°	Poland+	04010-480-0111
Malaysia*	800-0011	Poetnga?	05017-1-288
New Zealand	000-911	Romenia	01-800-4288
Philippines*	105-11	Rossia" (Moscow	155-504
Selpen"	235-2672;	Slovakie	00-420-00101
Singapore	800-8111-111	Spein	900-99-00-11
Sri Lanka	430-430	Sweden*	020-795-611
Taiwas:	0050-10288-0	Switzerland*	155-00-11
Thailande	0019-991-1111	U.K.	0500-89-0011
EUR	OPE	MODE	LE EAST
Armenia	Sa14111	Behrein	800-001
Austria	022-903-011	Cyprus*	080-90010
Helplum*	078-11-0010	Inraci	177-100-2727
Rulparia	00-1800-0010	Kuwait	800-288
Crostia'e	99-38-0011	Lebeson (Belrut	426-801
Czech Rep	00-420-00101	Soudi Arabia	1-800-100
Denmark*	5001-0010	Turkey'	00-800-12277
Finland*	9800-100-10	AME	RICAS
Prioce	194-0011	Argentinae	001-800-200-1111
Germany	0130-0010	Belizee	555
Greece*	00-800-1311	Bolivia*	0-800-1111
Hangary'	00a-800-01111	Beed	000-8010
lceland"	999-001	Chile	004-0312

95-800-462-4240 Suriname 00-0410 80-011-120 CARTBEEAN 1-800-672-286 1-800-872-2881 1-800-872-2881 Cayman Island 1-800-872-2881 1-800-872-2881 001-800-972-2883 Jamaica* 0-800-872-2881 001-800-872-2881 1-800-872-2881 AFRICA Egypr (Catro) 510-0200 004-001 00111 Kenya 0800-10 797-797

101-1992

© 1994 AT&T

عكامنالاهل

ACCESS NUMBER 960-11-0010 119 PERMIT CHEVE 190 190 Phone comp.

174

109 191

Mark Car All Tallular Things oda vezt as con liked that the the and consu inc freedom will a mail and their another den 46 percent tash-itrappe hald out for a 4.1 MoEth SP